By UNITED PRESS

Washington—White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty on a newly received message from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to President Eisenhower:

"A first reading of it does not disclose anything new."

Los Angeles—Mrs. James Roberts, who is trying to save an 18-year-old former show horse, "Tom Boy," from the death prescribed in his late owner's will:

"He's like one of the family. He's not old and has tremendous vitality."

New York—Charles T. Lipscomb Jr., president of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, speaking to the ANPA annual convention:

"Newspaper advertising is the most economical medium to deliver a message and make a sale."

New York—Mrs. Robert B. Meyner, wife of New Jersey's governor, explaining quickly to her husband why she gave such a big kiss to the pilot of the airliner taking the Meyners to Europe:

"He is an old beau of mine."

New York—Former President Truman said he didn't let his daughter know ahead of time he was coming to New York Wednesday night because:

"She always goes to so much fuss."

APPLEGATE VALLEY Lake Ready for Season

By MAUDE ZIEGLER

Applegate Valley—Painting of boats, maintenance of camp grounds, and other general work is being completed this week preparatory to opening of trout season at Squaw lake, according to Frank and Helga Mitchell of Jacksonville hill, who have taken over management of the lakes for the season.

With painting of the boats goes a name for each boat, according to the Mitchells, some carrying out the Indian reference of "How," "Sitting Bull," "Ugh," and there are other such intriguing names as "Jelly Fish," "Star Fish," "Oops," and "Kilroy."

Reservations for boats are coming in rapidly, and last Sunday afternoon a few early visitors arrived by jeep, horseback, and station wagon. Henry Burmeister of Jacksonville, father of Mrs. Mitchell, will supervise the boats, and Jim Mitchell will have charge of the commissary, where fishing tackle, groceries, and other items will be sold.

Mitchell and Burmeister operate the Linden Park service station on West Jackson in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harr own the property, and are negotiating with the state game commission regarding public access to the lakes.

Mrs. John Pernol, who was under observation at Rogue Valley hospital for a short time, is now at Park View nursing home in Medford.

Mrs. Ethel Haugerud and Mrs. J. Janssen will be co-hostesses at a meeting of lower Applegate Extension unit at the home of Mrs. Earl Hval Tuesday, April 29. The meeting will open at 10:30 a.m., and Miss Mary Pat Lucy, home demonstration agent, will speak on "The Coordinated Wardrobe," showing various examples of wardrobe building. Luncheon committee will be Mrs. Virgil Prosser, Mrs. Don Silvers, Mrs. Jack O'Brien, Mrs. Al Horn, Mrs. George Brown, and Mrs. Frank Decker.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Vonstein of Eagle Point have leased a cottage from Mrs. Edna Sawyer, and are living there while Vonstein is in trail and telephone maintenance work with the forest service. During the summer they will be at Dutchman's Peak lookout.

Dress rehearsal is scheduled tonight for the valley talent show at the Grange hall April 26. The show is sponsored by Ruth Parent Teacher association. A large group of children are participating, and a burlesque fashion show is one of their main acts. There will be numerous skits, and songs, and among musicians will be Mr. and Mrs. John Bettencourt, formerly of Eagle Point. There will be no admission charge, but donations will go toward financing a school roofing project. Refreshments will be
