Sen. Anderson, Strauss Continue Private Warfare

Washington.—The private war between Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) is waxing hotter.

Anderson, in an angry Senate speech, charged Monday that Strauss was trying to pin a "tool of Russia" label on those who favor nuclear test curbs. He accused the AEC head of seeking "to become the modern apostle of McCarthyism."

Strauss Defended
Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) defended Strauss against what he called "insinuations that he is not a man of character and integrity." Both Anderson and Hickenlooper are members and former chairmen of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee.

The dispute arose over Anderson's statements that the U. S. has been building dirtier nuclear weapons while "talking" cleaner ones. Strauss denied this in a letter to Chairman Carl Albert (D-N.C.) of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee.

Anderson, in his Senate speech, took heated issue with Strauss' statement Sunday that he (Strauss) thought a "kernel of deliberate, intelligent propaganda" was involved in opposition to continued weapons tests.

Implication There
"Nobody actually got called a tool of Russia, but the implication is there," Anderson said. He said honest men differ but "I do not think Strauss should drag out the suspicion that differing opinions originated in foreign countries."

Hickenlooper said Strauss always "meticulously and carefully" stuck to the facts. He said it would be "a day of sorrow" for the western world if the U.S. should "fall into the trap" set by Russia and "inhibit or slow down or stop" atomic testing.

More Boats To Join Columbia Flotilla

Hood River.—Six more boats are expected to join nine other pleasure craft here today for the rest of a voyage to the mouth of the Columbia river at Astoria.

The flotilla stopped overnight here rather than proceed to Portland because of high winds which made the Columbia choppy. The voyage started at Clarkston, Wash., and is a promotional enterprise to boost boating on the Columbia-Snake river systems. The boats were due in Portland today for a rest before going on to Astoria, 500 miles from the starting point at Clarkston.

Seamen To Spread Work Aboard Ships

San Francisco.—Seamen will have to give up their jobs on a ship after seven continuous months in a "spread the work around" policy announced today by the Sailors Union of the Pacific.

A poll of seamen conducted by the union in U.S. and Hawaiian ports showed 69 per cent in favor of the seven-month rule, the SUP said.

Previously a seaman signing on a ship under SUP contract would hold his job on that ship for a year. From now on a seaman will have to give up the job after seven months and get in line for a new one among other unemployed members.

Stocks Higher on Increased Volume

New York.—Stocks moved into new 1958 highs again today on increased volume.

The market had in its favor a break-through into higher ground in the previous session, and several statements showing a tinge of optimism on the industrial future. President Eisenhower urged the American public not to be scared of the recession. Lockheed issued a favorable earnings report.

On the adverse side, Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway deferred its dividend and the stock declined two points to a new low.

Oil shares provided several good gainers, notably Argo which made a new high.

Idaho Power Gets Oxbow Green Light

Boise.—Idaho Power Company today had authority to proceed with a 39,000 kilowatt boost in the new Oxbow hydroelectric project initial generating capacity.

The Federal Power Commission Monday authorized the utility company to increase its initial capacity for the project from 151,000 kilowatts to 190,000.

Idaho Power President T. E. Roach said Oxbow's output was being stepped up to provide more electricity for the Pacific Northwest sooner than the company had originally planned.

Approval of a two-spillway design for the project, now under construction, also was included in the FPC order.

Tornado Coverage Wins Pulitzer Prize For N. Dakota Paper

Fargo, N. D.—The four-man night staff of the Fargo, N. D. Forum knew they were in for a busy night last June 20 when they heard the police radio blare, "A tornado is hitting."

The job they and their day-side co-workers did in the next several hours earned the Forum a Pulitzer Prize Monday for distinguished local reporting.

For City Editor Wallace Lindell, the night did not end until 4:45 a.m. the next day. He described the reporting done by the newspaper's combined morning and evening staff as "a spontaneous demonstration of the newspaper tradition of telling people what happened."

Staff Trickles Back
After the tornado passed, 14 vacationing and off-duty staffers, including the society editor, began trickling into the newsroom.

Suggestions To Aid in Filing Claims Are Made

Four suggestions to aid survivors of deceased veterans in filing claims for compensation or pension are offered by S. T. Brannock, officer in charge of the Medford Veterans administration office.

By following the suggestions, survivors will expedite action on claims, Brannock said. They are:

1. If the veteran's death certificate does not contain a statement as to cause of death, it should be accompanied by a certificate from the attending physician, showing dates of treatment and cause of death.

Furnish Record
2. A widow filing a claim should furnish the record of her marriage to the veteran. If she or the veteran were previously married she should if possible, furnish copies of death or divorce certificates to establish that the previous marriages were dissolved.

3. If minor children are among the survivors, birth or baptismal records must be furnished, containing the names of both parents and date of birth. If the children were adopted, a copy of the court order should be provided.

4. Parents filing a claim must establish their relationship to the veteran by furnishing VA with a certified copy of the veteran's birth or baptismal certificate containing the names of both parents.

Detailed information about compensation and pension claims is available at any VA office, Brannock said. The Medford office is located at 33 North Riverside ave.

Indonesia Loyals To Mass Forces

Singapore.—Indonesian Loyalist Premier Djuanda indicated today that Jakarta regime is preparing to mass its forces against the rebels on Celebes Island now that effective resistance on Sumatra has collapsed.

Djuanda, in a speech aboard Jakarta's new Italian-built escort sloop Pattimura, said the fall of the former rebel capital at Bukittinggi means troops can be "further concentrated" against insurgent positions in North Celebes—probably including the bases of the rebel air force.

Shortly before Djuanda spoke, the Loyalist army had announced that a column advancing south from Tapanuli drove into Bukittinggi Monday to link up with the southern column that captured the city Sunday.

Djuanda said all political activity has been prohibited in Central Sumatra while the victorious troops "normalize" the situation.
