Early Action on Klamath Indian Assets Stressed

Washington — The Senate Interior Committee Tuesday called for "early and decisive" congressional action to revise existing laws for disposal of tribal assets of the Klamath Indian reservation in Oregon.

The committee said quick approval of a bill by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) is necessary to avert "economic catastrophe" in southeastern Oregon and prevent "destruction of the nation's largest remaining pine forest."

The committee said Neuberger's bill would provide for "continued sustained - yield management of the Indian forest, either under private or federal ownership, and will assure the Indians a fair market value for their timber."

To Provide Cash
A 1952 law setting up termination of federal supervision over the tribe requires sales of the Indian timber and other assets to provide cash payments to those who wish to withdraw from the tribe.

Last month 77 per cent of the 2,133 Indians enrolled in the Klamath tribe voted to leave and take their share of tribal assets in cash, the committee said.

The interior group added that unless Neuberger's bill is enacted management specialists for the Klamaths will be "obligated to sell on a declining Pacific Northwest lumber market some 3.5 billion board feet of pine timber and 1,400,000 cords of pulpwood within a period of less than two years."

Klamath Rejects School Budgets

Klamath Falls — A record turnout of voters Monday rejected budgets for both the Klamath Falls high school and elementary school systems.

The total budget for city schools was $2,024,879 to support 204 teachers, nine buildings, and 4300 students. Voters refused to authorize expenditures in excess of the six per cent limitation and went on to reject the entire budget.

Vote on the high school budget measure was 896 to 644 against exceeding the six per cent limitation and 847 to 686 against the budget. In the elementary vote, 777 ballots were cast against expenditures above the six per cent limit and 625 for it. The elementary budget was defeated 732 to 673.

A budget of $2,053,714 for county schools was approved.

Bend School District Voters Reject Levies

Bend — Bend school district voters Monday turned down two tax levies.

A special levy of $47,134 to finance a day program at Central Oregon college was defeated 968 to 327. A levy calling for $491,675 in excess of the six per cent limitation for the school system lost 671 to 624. The school board's budget committee will meet Wednesday night to discuss future plans.
