Former Resident Injured in Crash

A former Medford resident was recently released from a Portland hospital where he had been a patient since Feb. 23, following a plane crash.

The flier, Glen Yost, 27, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Yost, 518 Haven st., Medford, suffered skull fractures, a hip fracture, other broken bones and internal injuries in the crash, relatives here reported. Yost and his wife, the former Yvette Sweet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sweet 2045 South Stage rd., now live in Beaverton. Yost, who already held a pilot's license, was taking his last flight before receiving his commercial aviator's license when the accident occurred.

The young man still wears a body and leg cast and will be confined at home for several weeks more, relatives said.
