News of the new business was carried by the various newspapers and trade journals as far as the east coast, resulting in so many telephone calls that they have orders ahead for the northern California and southern Oregon

HARRY K. EBY
Plans Medford Visit

National Director Of Scouts Plans Medford Visit

Harry K. Eby, national director of school service of the Boy Scouts of America, will visit the Crater Lake Council Thursday and Friday, May 15 and 16.

The purpose of his visit is to help local school officials, Parent Teacher association representatives and officers of the local Scout Council in the use of the Boy Scout program. He will meet with Jackson county school officials and Parent Teacher association representatives on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the First Methodist church.

Later in the day Thursday and on Friday, he will visit school people in Josephine and Siskiyou counties. Eby has been in professional Scouting since his graduation from Muskingum College in New Concord, Ohio, in 1923.

From 1937 to 1947 he served on the National Council staff as the director of volunteer training and since 1947 has served in his present position.

Eby's visit will be the first visit of a National Council staff member in several years.

SEE U. S. BALLETS

Warsaw, Poland — Modern American ballet made its debut in the Soviet bloc Saturday night when the Ballet Theater presented "Fancy Free" and "The Fall River Legend." The American company arrived Thursday and will stay here until May 18 before moving on to Hamburg, Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wrede, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Furry, have moved into the home at 208 Third st., recently vacated by the Eugene Schmelzer family.

Local Montgomery Ward Store Schedules Grand Reopening

The Medford Montgomery Ward company store, at South Central ave. and Eighth st., will observe its 30th year in Medford when they open at noon Wednesday after completely remodeling the store. The store will have been in Medford 30 years in October.

Remodeling work on the store building started last October and has continued through the past seven months with the store remaining open for business. Total cost of the remodeling will run about $150,000, according to Medford Manager Joe Materie.

He said a ribbon cutting ceremony would take place at noon Wednesday for the grand reopening. He added that Mayor John Snider, Chamber of Commerce President Otto Frohnmayer, and other officials would be present at the ribbon cutting.

Reopening Sale

A reopening sale will be held from Wednesday noon until May 24, Materie added. Several contests are planned for store patrons during the first days of the sale, he noted.

Carnations and tickets for the "Wishing Well" will be given away to everyone entering the front doors, where hostesses will be stationed, he said. He added that key cases will be given to people who visit the boat, outdoor furniture, wading pool and playground equipment display which is in the store parking lot.

The lot is located at the Honor Contract Union Leaders Tell Dam Labor

Boise — — Spokesmen for Idaho unions whose members are employed at the Brownlee dam said Saturday that every effort was being made to honor existing Idaho contracts involving the project despite the strike of Oregon union members.

Coble Wheeler of Boise, chairman of the Idaho State District Council of Laborers, said that "immediately upon learning of the establishment of the picket line at Brownlee by the Oregon Council of Laborers, he advised all members of the Idaho laborers' union that they had a contract in force and they were expected to honor that contract."

Wheeler said that as a result of the establishment of the picket line by Oregon strikers, only a few members of the Idaho local were on the job Tuesday. But since that time, increasing numbers returned to work so that by Friday virtually the full crew was back on the project.

At the same time Wheeler revealed that international officers of the laborers' union ordered members on both the Oregon and Idaho sides to return to work immediately to handle any work of an emergency nature. This work, Wheeler said, was the result of the seasonal runoff of water affecting the construction work at the dam.

Freight Bureau Agrees To Cut

Bakersfield — — The Kern County Potato Growers association announced Friday the Transcontinental Freight bureau has agreed to the industry's application for some freight rate reductions.

Francis P. Pusateri, executive manager of the association, reported the bureau advised it has granted the following schedule:

A reduction of eight cents per hundredweight on 40,000 pound loads; 13 cents on 43,000 pounds, and 21 cents on 50,000 pounds, restricted to cartons only.

Rate schedules for 30,000 and 36,000 pound loads will remain the same.

Pusateri notified the bureau the reductions were accepted by the industry "with extreme reluctance and disappointment." The industry had requested reductions ranging from 10 cents on 36,000 pound loads to 41 cents on 50,000 pounds.

The new rates will be effective from central and southern California to Chicago, St. Louis and points west, south-west and southeast. Pusateri said the industry has asked carriers to petition the Interstate Commerce commission to make the reductions effective by next Thursday.

Three thousand islands, cays, and rocks comprise the Bahamas, the British colony southeast of Florida. The Bahamian Constitution, dating from 1729, provides a form of government similar to that in the North American Colonies before the Revolution.

rear of the building on Bartlett st. An entrance has been made from the parking lot to the store for easy customer access, Materie said.

Montgomery Ward officials who will be present for the opening will be Western Regional General Manager E. E. Peterson, of Oakland; Merchandise Manager S. D. Ward, of Oakland; and District General Manager W. R. Burk.

Supervised Construction

Local store construction was supervised by Al Thies and Roy Lee, both of the Oakland regional office, Materie said. Lee was in charge of display construction and Thies of the general construction of the building.

Several demonstrations during reopening are planned. Cooking by Bev Lyons of the California Oregon Power company, shopsmith tools, Sunbeam appliances, sewing machines, auto seat covers, paint, fishing fly tying and outdoor barbecue demonstrations will be given, Materie noted.

The store is the firm's first one on the west coast to complete a remodeling program in 1958, Lee explained. He said the company is presently attempt to either remodel, rehabilitate or rebuild all branch stores.

New Feature

A new feature in the building is a complete installation of air-conditioning throughout. Eight units which are capable of cooling a total of 90,000 feet of air per minute have been installed on the roof of the building. Also new is a store-wide system of fluorescent lighting which furnish two to three times more light, Lee noted. He said the building also has been repainted and repapered throughout.

All departments in the store have been changed by moving, being enlarged or being reduced to the size the volume warrants, he explained. Materie said departments which have been considerably enlarged are the drapery and curtain, the baby and girls' clothing and the fashion departments. He added that several new fitting rooms have been constructed.

Materie said new displays for bathroom equipment have been built in the store. A service station has been opened directly behind the store on Bartlett st. with the old service station location at the rear of the building turned into a larger shoe department, he explained.

Other New Features

Other new features at the building include lighted directional signs in all parts of the building, built-in storage for small items, new entrances, remodeled display windows, new tile floors and installation of new carpeting. A new marquee has been installed on the front of the building.

Lee said plans call for hanging a large sign from the side of the building and a horizontal sign to be installed.

The local store has about 75 regular employees, Materie noted. He said employment has been more than 150 at times for special sales and rush seasons.

LIGHTING INSTALLED—A new system of fluorescent lighting has been installed throughout the Montgomery Ward company store as part of its recent remodeling program. Light of the store, as shown above, is even and from two to three times brighter than the old system, according to Local Manager Joe Materie. He noted the addition of several spotlights in the ceiling of the store to highlight floor displays.

MARQUEE INSTALLED—Part of the remodeling program of the Medford Montgomery Ward store calls for the installation of a marquee, the flat structure above the windows. A special amendment to the city building code to allow the all-metal structure was necessary before installation could be completed. The box-like structure, near the corner of the building, is one of eight air-conditioners installed on the roof. The eight units are capable of cooling 90,000 feet of air per minute. Grand reopening for the store is scheduled at noon Wednesday.

1958 Wheat Crop Heads For Record

Washington — — The 1958 winter wheat crop is headed for a bumper harvest—and a record surplus supply.

The Agriculture Department estimated Friday the growing winter wheat crop will total 1,010,000,000 bushels, the third largest of record and only slightly smaller than the billion-bushel-plus crops of 1947 and 1952. The estimated crop, if it materializes, would be 43 per cent larger than the 1957 output and 19 per cent more than the 10-year average.

Department officials have said a 225-million-bushel spring wheat crop is possible, although no official estimate has been made. But assuming a spring wheat crop of that size, a total all-wheat crop of 1,235,000,000 bushels is possible.

This means that the wheat carryover, or surplus, by July 1, 1959, would rise to a record 1,132,000,000 bushels. This would be 45 million bushels more of surplus than the department calculated in its "wheat situation" report two weeks ago.

The department's general crop report as of May 1 said "a larger winter wheat crop and excellent hay and forage crops are early standouts among 1958 crop prospects." It said the winter wheat crop throughout much of the great plains looks "the best ever as fields wave with lusty growth."

The department estimated the yield at a record 24 bushels an acre. This compared with 22.4 bushels in 1957. But while "new high per acre yields seem almost assured on many fields," the department warned that the wheat still must reach maturity. It cautioned against disease loss and storms.

Against Shift For E-R Center

Portland — — The East Side Commercial club, a leader in the vote campaign that forced the city of Portland to locate its proposed Exposition-Recreation center on the east side of the Willamette river, Friday disavowed support of the current attempt to locate the center at Delta park, north of Portland.

Directors of the club said they had withdrawn all support from a movement headed by Joe Dobbins, an east side used car dealer who has spearheaded the Delta Park campaign and who is a former director of the club.

William H. Boland, president of the commercial club, charged that Dobbins was using the E-R issue to get himself elected as mayor.

An east side site between the Broadway and Steel bridges has been cleared for the multi-million-dollar glass and timber center and construction is about ready to begin.

BUSINESS PROVES IT

Castellammare Di Stabia, Italy — — The Fimi Machine Tool company issued a statement Friday rejecting Communist newspaper charges that the company profited from having as its president Industry Minister Silvio Gava. It said the company's business in 1957 while Gava was president was lower than in previous years when he wasn't president.
