Broncs Hold 2-Tilt Lead In NW Loop

By UNITED PRESS
Lewiston's Broncs have opened up a two-game lead in the six-team Northwest league race and a big share of the credit must go to hurler Thornton Kipper.

Kipper was touched for 12 hits Tuesday night but stayed in there all the way as the Broncs topped Wenatchee, 6-4. The victory gave him a season's mark of 4-1.

Lewiston got two runs in both the first and second frames then added two more, including the eventual winning run, in the third.

Catcher John McNamara opened with a walk and moved up on a sacrifice. Ted Rhodes then walked and Arnie Hallgren sent both runners home with a double.

Nifty Pitching
Yakima got a nifty pitching job from Dick Donnelly to blank Tri-City 2-0. Donnelly allowed but three hits and fanned 12 while walking but two. Solo homers by Bill Gilmore and Pete Gongola provided all the margin he needed.

Salem took Eugene 6-2 behind Vern Kindsfather who needed help in the seventh. Don White took over and finished up.

Salem got two in the first, added another in the fourth and eighth and polished it off with a two-run ninth inning.

Cal Bauer tripled in the Salem seventh and came in on a sacrifice fly.

For Kindsfather, it was his second victory of the season. The loser was Berlyn Hodges.

Rogue River Nips Eagles

Eagle Point—Rogue River high nosed out Eagle Point 12 to 11 in an A-2 school baseball game yesterday.

The Chiefs put the tying and winning run on base in the bottom of the seventh inning and Byron Cordes doubled to score them and break up the game with two men out.

Eagle Point put over five runs in the first inning and took an 11 to 6 edge with four markers in the sixth but the Chiefs got within striking range with four runs of their own in the bottom of the sixth.

Cordes had three hits for Rogue River. Jim Nease had three safeties and Tom Perdue and Dusty Gerbing each two for the Eagles.

Baseball season has ended for EP seniors. It is planned to slate more action for the other players.

Sacramento moved back into first place in the Pacific Coast league standings Tuesday night, but the Solons had to share the limelight with the Phoenix Giants—responsible for a 22-3 massacre of Portland.

While the Solons edged Vancouver, 3-2, to drop the Mounties into second, .006 percentage points out of first, the Giants waded through three Beaver hurlers, collecting 20 hits along the way. Felipe Alou led the onslaught with a grand-slam homer in the third inning.

The Beavers contributed six errors to their own downfall as Phoenix scored two runs in the opening frame, added seven in the third, four in the fifth, five in the sixth and four more in the eighth.

WSC Nicks Beaver Nine 3-2 in ND

Pullman, Wash.—Washington State moved into a tie with Oregon State for second place in the Northern division baseball race Tuesday by downing the Beavers 3-2 here.

Both have 6-4 records while league-leading Oregon is 5-1. Dick Montee, a righthander, held Oregon State to six hits while the Cougars got nine off Lowell Pearce of the Beavers and bunched four of them in the fifth inning for all their runs.

Bradshaw Scores
Oregon State didn't score until the seventh when Kim Bradshaw went all the way from first on Tom Bowen's single. The Beavers got their other run in the ninth when Jerry Droscher doubled and scored on Bradshaw's single.

Bradshaw was the only Beaver with two hits.

Oregon meets Idaho at Moscow today and Thursday and then plays Washington State on Friday and Saturday and Washington at Seattle Monday and Tuesday.

Food Poisoning Strikes Youngsters

Lake Park, Ga.—Nearly 180 elementary school students were hospitalized today in an outbreak of food poisoning believed caused by tainted canned mackerel.

Three were reported in critical condition.

The students, ranging in age from 6 to 12, were rushed to a hospital by every available means of transportation late Tuesday.

Principal Wade Ring said most of the pupils became ill while on their way home from school.

The world population increased from 2,519,000,000 in 1951 to 2,691,000,000 in 1955.

San Diego defeated Seattle, 7-3 and Salt Lake dumped Spokane, 6-1, in other games. Three In First

The night's action, concentrated at Phoenix, left Sacramento, Vancouver and Salt Lake in a three-way deadlock for first place in the games behind column. Seattle remained in the basement, but only two and one-half games off the pace.

Ernie Broglio went all the way for Phoenix, allowing the Beavers six hits, two of them home runs, to pick up his fifth victory of the campaign against no losses. Leon Wagner and Roger McCardell added roundtrippers for the winners.

Sacramento scored three runs in the ninth inning for the Solons' victory. Marshall Bridges allowed Vancouver only three hits but poor support in the field let in both Mountie runs before the winners staged their last-inning rally.

A single by Jim Greengrass scored Harry Bright with the winning run. Reliever Roger Bowman was credited with the victory, while Mountie starter Mel Held suffered the defeat, his first against two wins.

The Big Lining
At San Diego, the Padres pushed across five runs in the sixth inning to break a 2-2 tie and leave Seattle in the cellar. Earl Averill homered for the winners. Padre starter Gary Bell picked up the victory, his fourth of the year, although he needed help from Pete Wojcik in the ninth.

Salt Lake exploded for five runs in the seventh at Spokane to disappoint a crowd of 3,177. The contest had been a pitchers' duel between the Indians' Dick Hanlon and Eddie O'Brien of the Bees until the seventh. Dick Stuart led the winners with two runs—batted in.

Unit-Type Plan Proposed For Antlerless Deer Hunts

A unit type plan for hunting antlerless deer has been proposed for consideration by the Oregon Game Commission, Phil Schneider, state game director, reported Monday night at a meeting of the Jackson county chapter of the Izaak Walton League.

He said that big game personnel of his department came up with the proposal this spring and mentioned that such an idea could lead to permanent units. Under such a program the number of hunters in an area and, theoretically, the number of deer could be predetermined.

Schneider spoke at the regular monthly meeting of Waltonians at the Veterans hall. Members of other sportsmen's groups of the area were among the guests. The game director reviewed the deer management program of the commission and staff. He pointed to the desire for sustained yield and at the same time maximum possible use of the Oregon deer crop.

Cannot Be Stockpiled
Deer are not static, cannot be stockpiled and must be used "as we go along," Schneider said, in relating some basic facts. And he stated that the capacity of the animals to produce and the character of the environment in which they live as factors in the abundance and cropping of the deer.

The game official traced the development of the deer management from the time when Oregon had only 75,000 to 90,000 hunters and deer kill was roughly 50,000, with bucks only taken, until the last few years when hunters have numbered around 225,000 with the kill maintained at somewhat over 100,000.

Schneider told of the start in the early 1940s of inventory and evaluation on carrying capacity of ranges. It became apparent that the resource should be used more on a sustained yield basis through a series of special hunts. The commission felt its way along in a few isolated areas and was able to develop a more extensive cropping program.

Comprehensive Information
By the late 1940s the game division had as comprehensive a cross-section of information as is to be found anywhere in the United States, Schneider remarked, and around 1950 the commission began a more liberalized antlerless deer hunting program.

The director said the game division tries to avoid overcropping in some areas and undercropping in others. He said that there has been a problem of distribution of hunters with too heavy pressure in some areas, particularly in Central Oregon, and not enough hunters in others. This situation has been reviewed thoroughly in the past year, Schneider reported.

Fifty-four geographical units have been proposed on which population trend data could be gathered and deer kill regulated.

Schneider also answered questions. On the query concerning possibility of earmarking funds from a proposed increase in the price of deer tags, he said that the commission feels it poor policy to make such designation of funds.

Oppose Steelhead Plan
Slides illustrating the deer counts and deer kills over a number of years were shown by John McKean, chief of operations of the game commission.

In their business meeting Waltonians passed a resolution opposing the proposal to open the Rogue river below the mouth of the Applegate river to steelhead fishing from December 1 to March 1.

The IWL took the position that originators of the steelhead petitions were unmindful of the biology of the fishery and lacked consideration for the downstream migrating problem of spawned out steelhead. The members opposed any extension of the fishing seasons unless the local biologist of the game commission believes it will not harm the fishery.

Members of the landowner-sportsmen relations committee of the chapter were delegated to investigate the recreational assets which will result from Howard Prairie reservoir of the Talent division reclamation project.

Letter Copy Received
A copy of a letter written to County Judge Rodney Keating by Marshall Dana of the Portland Chamber of Commerce and expressing interest of the chamber in Howard Prairie, had been received by Col. Paul Weiland, state director of the chapter.

Dana inquired as to what the county court has done in regard to Howard prairie and on the prospects of public or private interests in the county assuming administrative responsibility. Keating, who attended the Walton meeting, said the matter never has formally come before the court. He said, however, that the court is extremely interested and is going to pursue the matter. The county planning committee has a getting facts and figures on such a subject.

Keating also expressed county interest in getting and preserving suitable properties for the people for recreational use.

Enterprise Club Owner Delays Plea

Enterprise, Ore.—An Enterprise club owner, Orville Burcham, 46, delayed his plea Tuesday before Circuit Judge Wesley F. Brownton on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Milton Sasses, Enterprise, March 30.

Burcham's attorney, S. H. Burley of La Grande, filed a demurrer to the indictment claiming the indictment was "faulty." No time was set for arguing the demurrer.

Wallowa County District Attorney Keith Wilson said Sasser died of injuries after Burcham allegedly attempted to eject him from a club and Sasser fell to the floor, striking his head. He died about eight hours later.

Red Raiders Bounce Camp White 19-2

Memorial Stadium, Camp White—Southern Oregon college spoiled the home opener for the semi-pro Camp White baseball aggregation by trouncing the Veterans Administration domiciliary-sponsored team 19 to 2 last night.

While the Red Raiders of the Rogue were taking advantage of 16 hits, 11 bases on balls off VAD pitchers and six errors by the Camp White nine, Pitchers Jim Eggers and Jack Brown limited their hosts to four hits.

Larry Maurer swatted two doubles and a single in six times up for the Raiders and LeRoy King clubbed three for five including a two-bagger. Eggers and Ron Maurer three-bases for the Ashland collegians Jim McAbee, Jim Diez and Eggers each had two hits. King drove in five runs.

Seven in Ninth
Seven of the SOC counters were in the ninth and final inning on four hits, four bases on balls, an error, a passed ball and a wild pitch. There were five stolen bases in the stanza and King and Gordy Thoreson swiped home.

Camp White gained one of its runs in the second inning on Chuch Mairchant's double, a wild pitch and Vern Parent's bouncer single. The other was on a walk, stolen base, groundout and error in the ninth inning. Parent had one other hit for Camp White and Bob Smith rapped the other safety.

Eggers threw five innings. He yielded three hits, struck out four and walked one batter. Brown in four frames was tagged for one hit. He whiffed nine and walked two.

Camp White tossers Don Sanford, Clyde Smith and Jack Burns fanned a total of nine.
