Winner of the opener will stay in the running for the conference and District 6 A-1 banner, moving up just a game behind the loop-pacing Grants Pass Cavemen. Loser of the battle will be out of the chase for the diadem.

Other league contention is billed for another Medford field also on Friday. Crater will be host to Klamath Falls on the Cheney Studs' diamond at the south edge of town. In this action the counting game will be at 1:30 p.m. with a non-conference mix to follow.

The Medford-Ashland battles are rated toss-ups. They have broken even in previous activity this spring. In the SOC counting fracas Ashland was victor 1 to 0. In non-league games Medford recorded 1 to 0 and 2 to 0 verdicts while Ashland took one hassle 6 to 3.

Coach John Kovenz is expected to call on Dennis Barr to handle the Medford Black Tornado chugging chores. For Ashland Mentor Snuffy Smith may assign Pete Stemple to the hill chore, although Alan McKinnis is a mound possibility.

Golfers Clash In Invitational

Other pros frequently mentioned as possible winners are young Ken Venturi of San Francisco, Dick Mayer of Stamford, Conn., Masters champ Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., and Doug Ford of New Haven, Conn.
