Home Show Opens At Local Armory

The third annual Medford Home Show will open at 5 o'clock this evening for a four-day run at the Medford National Guard Armory.

The show features more than 100 exhibits of home furnishings and appliances, as well as new ideas in home modernization, decorating, and building methods and supplies. The majority of the home exhibits are by Rogue valley merchants, but many items have been imported to show methods and materials that will be available here in the near future.

Special exhibits in this year's show include a large garden section, the California Redwood Loghouse, a three-room home hand-carved inside a giant redwood tree; the "Moverama", showing the latest scientific methods of packing, storing, and moving household goods; a film of the firing of the first Jupiter satellite launcher; and others.

Several attractions have been arranged for youngsters, and there will be stage shows each night, as well as afternoon shows on Saturday and Sunday.

The Home Show will be open at the Armory from 5 to 11 p.m. Thursday and Friday and from noon to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.
