Grange Notes

Gold Hill Grange
Gold Hill Grange is indebted to James E. Dyer for the showing of some colored movies of Alaska, at the meeting May 15.

Dyer lived in Alaska 14 years prior to his coming to Oregon. During these years, Dyer did a great deal of hunting and fishing. Using automobile, truck, boat and plane to get to the most remote parts of the territory, even penetrating into some parts where civilization had not yet reached.

Many types of wild life were shown on the films including bear, elk, deer, caribou, mountain sheep and goats and others. Also geese and other birds in their native habitat.

Also included was the showing of the mammoth vegetables, and the gorgeous display of the many colored flowers, both wild and cultured.

There were the dog team races at the Anchorage Fur Rendezvous. All who saw the films enjoyed them greatly and expressed their appreciation to Dyer for showing the pictures.

The business meeting was called to order, and reports were made by the various committee chairmen: The agriculture chairman stating that beef prices were steady, lambs down to $1, and hay about $15 a ton.

The resolutions committee presented a great number of resolutions that the members might understand them and decide how they wished their delegate to vote on these resolutions at the State Grange session in Eugene June 9-13, inclusive.

Attendance prizes were won by Willie McLean and Chauncy Page. Refreshments were in charge of the Don Morrow and Betty Molloy.

BEKINS AGENT FOR MEDFORD AND ASHLAND

From its beginnings this nation has been guided by great ideas.

The men who hammered out the Constitution and the Bill of Rights were thinkers—men of vision—the best educated men of their day. And every major advance in our civilization since that time has come from minds equipped by education to create great ideas and put them into action.

So, at the very core of our progress is the college classroom. It is there that the imagination of young men and women gains the intellectual discipline that turns it to useful thinking. It is there that the great ideas of the future will be born.

That is why the present tasks of our colleges and universities are of vital concern to every American. These institutions are doing their utmost to raise their teaching standards, to meet the steadily rising pressure for enrollment, and provide the healthy educational climate in which great ideas may flourish.

They need the help of all who love freedom, all who hope for continued progress in science, in statesmanship, in the better things of life. And they need it now!
