

Annual Hospital Event Attracts Many Visitors

The annual tea given by the Rogue Valley Memorial Hospital auxiliary in recognition of National Hospital week, attracted a large group of visitors last Friday afternoon, according to Mrs. John Winston, auxiliary president of the hospital. The affair was held in the board and staff room of the new hospital building on Barnett road, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. William Barker.

Flowers in the room were arranged by Mrs. Carroll Miller, and members who served as hostesses included Mrs. V. Ward Hammond, Mrs. Charles Barnes, Mrs. Edward P. Barnett, Mrs. Glen Bessonet and Mrs. Robert W. Sleeter. Mrs. Hammond, who is in charge of outlying chapters for the auxiliary, explained the use of items displayed by these groups. The most recent projects undertaken are surgical instrument kits now being made in two sizes by the Gold Hill Health unit and the Colony club. Also shown were "ditty bags" previously made by the Gold Hill group, oxygen tent hoods from the Colony club, diaper covers and scuff slippers from St. Martin's guild at Shady Cove, and "Pinkie the Puppet" which is made by members of St. Martha's guild, Church of the Good Shepherd, at Prospect. These hand puppets are given to each child patient, to entertain him during his stay in the hospital, and are taken home on discharge.

Mrs. Frances Stein of the hospital staff presented a display of radio-isotope equipment which is used locally for diagnostic work, and limited treatment. Also shown were samples of tray favors used on holidays during the past year. These are made by various youth groups, and are scheduled by the auxiliary.

Pouring during the afternoon were Mrs. Edwin Durno, Mrs. C. W. Guches, Mrs. Eugene Thorndike, Mrs. Alfred S. V. Carpenter, Mrs. George W. Pitts, Mrs. Shelby Tuttle, Mrs. James Rowan and Mrs. R. W. McDuffie of Springfield. Mrs. McDuffie is president of the State council, Oregon Hospital auxiliaries.

Miss B. J. Larsen, administrator, stated today that appointments for touring the new building may be made by calling the hospital, SP 3-6281. Groups of 15 persons will be shown through by an auxiliary worker, by appointment only, so long as public interest demands, she adds.

Union Hears Talk By Missionary At Last Meeting

Mrs. Charles L. Cummons of Phoenix, a missionary in India for 35 years, was speaker at a meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance union last Thursday. The meeting was held at the Girls' Community club.

Indians say that the "Americans feed their bodies and the Indians feed their souls," Mrs. Cummons said. Although the Indians believe in many thousands of gods, she said that many who are converted to Christianity ask why had they not been told before about the "one God" a god of love.

Mrs. Clifford White of Phoenix led the devotions service. The Rev. Lee Mansveld, pastor of the Medford Nazarene church, sang. He was accompanied by Mrs. Marvin Lumley, Phoenix who also sang a solo. The program also included a discussion of candidates who sought nomination for offices in the primary election.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Guy Cox, Mrs. Mabel Houck and Mrs. E. R. Santo.

Fresh Strawberries Used With Oranges For Economy Dessert

New York—If the first fresh strawberries on the market are a little high for your budget, try this dessert which stretches 1 pint of berries to six servings.

Wash and cap 1 pint berries, halve them, sprinkle with 1/4 cup sugar before chilling in refrigerator. Just before serving, peel and cut 3 large oranges into sections. Fill sherbert glasses with alternate layers of sweetened strawberries, orange sections and grated coconut, using about 1/2 cup coconut in all. Garnish each glass with a whole uncappped berry.

Remove grease spots from clothing with flour. Put a clean cloth underneath the garment and rub flour on the spot. Then rub the spot with another clean cloth. The method is useful for taking off grease from shirt collars.

Ashland Woman Honored

Ashland — Mrs. Herbert Lewis was named Woman of the Year by Ashland branch, American Association of University Women, at the annual spring breakfast and it was announced that a fellowship grant of $500 had been named in honor of Mrs. C. D. (Mabel) Winston.

Mrs. Lewis, selected from a group of five finalists by a committee of three men, was chosen for an imposing list of civic interests and public service. She teaches a class in the Methodist Sunday school, is chairman of the church's social-economic committee, has been president of Briscoe Parent-Teacher association for two years and is a den mother for Cub Scouts.

Mrs. Lewis has served on the board of directors of the Ashland-Talent Community fund, has been publicity chairman of the Ashland Parent-Teacher association council, has assisted with the summer recreation program of the city, helps to give dances for teenagers and promoted the last carnival given by Briscoe PTA.

Mrs. Lewis works with Girl Scouts, assisted with the last Mothers' March on Polio and with the play "Cinderella" which the Ashland and Medford AAUW branches sponsored to raise fellowship funds.

Mrs. Lewis is a member of the Ashland High school faculty, and the couple has three children.

Mrs. Winston, who is a member of the Ashland branch, has served as Oregon AAUW president and as president of the North Pacific region.

Mrs. Howard Gang, president, presided during the breakfast and Mrs. Winston conducted installation of new officers. Mrs. Bill Sampson is the new president.

Girl Scouts Give Dinner; Annual Awards Court Held

An outdoor buffet dinner was planned and given by the members of Girl Scout Troop 77, sixth graders of Lincoln school, for their parents and families at the troop's annual court of awards on Saturday evening, May 17, at the home of the leader, Mrs. Eric de Place. Each troop member prepared a dish for the dinner and aided with the serving.

Nancy Atwood, Susan Spencer, and Bette de Place decorated the three outdoor tables and made the punch. Following dinner the badges earned by each girl were presented by the leader, after which each Scout was asked to tell the guests some of the things she had learned or made in earning at least one of the proficiency badges presented. Each also had a snapshot made of her holding her badges, by Eugene Spencer, husband of the assistant leader.

Following the presentation of the proficiency badges, the troop and parents made plans for a swimming party. Badges Earned — The troop majored in the homemaking field, with the majority of the girls earning two or three badges from this group. Earning the hospitality badge were Nancy Atwood, Judy Chastain, Bette de Place, Linda Ellison, Patty Fagone, Twyla Finney, Diana Heidemann, Regina Holland, Karen South, Eugenia Sparling, Susan Spencer, and Oma Lea Whipple.

All of the sixteen girls active in the troop earned the good grooming badge, by attending the charm school held during the fall and winter by the Rogue Valley Council of Girl Scouts. Child care proficiency badges were earned by Oma Lea Whipple, Regina Holland, Diana Heidemann and Nancy Atwood, all of whom were aided by their younger brother or sister, (under two years of age) in this work. Nancy Atwood, Judy Chastain, Bette de Place, Susan Spencer, and Oma Lea Whipple also earned the seamstress badge. Two girls, Oma Lea Whipple and Karen South, earned the housekeeper badge; Karen South also earned the nutrition, foods, and handywoman proficiency badges.

Basketry Studied — In the arts and crafts field the whole troop earned the basketry badge, and Nancy Atwood, Judy Chastain, Bette de Place, Linda Ellison and Susan Spencer earned the needlecraft badge. Members not present at the court of award, but receiving the basketry and good grooming badges were Terri Jean Clark and Mary Beth Lockington. Jackie King received second class rank.

In the nature field the dog and cat badge was earned by Nancy Atwood, Bette de Place and Susan Spencer. Susan Spencer earned a skating badge and Diana Heidemann a horsewoman badge from the sports and games field. Judy Chastain earned the dressmaker badge by taking lessons from a local sewing machine company.

The leader, Mrs. de Place, thanked the troop committee members for their help during the year and introduced them to the girls and families present. The committee consists of Mrs. Mervyn Chastain, Mrs. Katherine South, Mrs. William Lockington, Mrs. J. W. King, and Mrs. S. J. Fagone.

Of the five oclaves of energy that makes up sunlight only one is used in the field of human vision.

Members of Club Enter Contests — Shady Cove—Members of Shady Cove Home Economics club are entering sewing contests this summer. Mrs. Jane Sattler will enter a dress in the national Grange sewing contest, Mrs. Edgar Vanderrip and Mrs. T. M. Littlefield plan to enter the state sewing contest.

At the last meeting of the club, held at the home of Mrs. Walter Cross, Crater Lake highway, Mrs. Littlefield exhibited her finished article.

Mrs. Edward Houston, chairman, presided. Roll call was answered with poems. Mrs. Vanderrip, program chairman, read a poem on birds and Mrs. Reed McKay received an award for a drawing. Mrs. Kee and Mrs. Dusenberry were judges. For the "thought of the day" Mrs. Vanderrip read an Ella Wheeler Wilcox poem on "The Art of Being Kind."

The next meeting will be June 10 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Motchenbacher. It will be a family potluck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Riders to Take Outing Sunday

Medford Trail Riders will sponsor a ride Sunday, May 23, in to the Dead Indian area. All riders of the valley are invited, and are asked to meet at the Dead Indian junction and Highway 66 at 9 a.m.

Those making the trip are asked to take a sack lunch, and coffee will be furnished by the club.

About 20 members of the club went to Grants Pass last Sunday to participate in a horse show.

Oak Grove PTA To Hold Meeting

Oak Grove Parent-Teacher association will hold its last meeting of the school year Thursday, May 22, at 2 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

New officers will be installed and a program will be presented by the Spanish class.

College Women May Pilot First Ships Into Space

By TILL HAGERTY United Press Correspondent Columbia, Mo. — College women may be the first space travelers.

Kenneth Newland, director of the Aviation department at Stephens College, believes it is likely that women will pilot the United States' first space ships.

"Women will make better pilots than men in space ships because they are more precise, patient and more able to withstand stress and strain," said Newland.

"Of course," he added, "the women are smaller, and weight will be an important factor in space travel."

800 Licenses — In the 15 years since the girls' school started its aviation course, more than 5,000 young women have been trained in various phases of flight work. Some 800 private pilot licenses have been issued to Stephens students, Newland said. That number represents about 10 per cent of the women pilots in the country.

The man who turns students into fliers is chief pilot Tower Cressy.

"Women make smoother pilots than men — after they get the knack of flying," Cressy said. "It's a natural tendency for them to be more gentle, even with a plane."

Not Mechanically Deficient — Each new aviation student makes a nose-to-tail inspection of a plane to become familiar with the craft. Then the girls learn about controls, instruments, and starting and third lesson covers principles of flight and gravity.

After that, the student goes up in a plane, and practices turns, gliding, climbing, spins and stalls. Take-offs and landings usually are included by the eighth lesson.

Stephens inaugurated the nation's first junior college flight department during WW II in order to help meet the critical manpower shortage. The initial program trained women for traffic jobs in the commercial aviation field. A year later the school added the flight section.

Newland does not believe that men understand mechanics better than women. Women are no less intelligent, he said. They just have been conditioned to believe they lack mechanical ability.
