APPLEGATE VALLEY Teachers Hired at Ruch

By MAUD ZIEGLER
Applegate Valley — Three new teachers have been assigned to complete the teaching staff at Ruch school next term, according to Boyd Gibson, principal, who was re-elected for the fourth year recently.

Mrs. George Redhead will teach fifth and sixth grades for a half day period, and vocal music. Bruce Matheny of Jacksonville will be the athletic coach and will have half day teaching of fifth and sixth grades. LeRoy Mauroni, band director for Jacksonville, will direct the Ruch band.

Teachers re-elected are Mrs. Ruth Granby, first grade Mrs. Cleo Shannon, second and third; Mrs. Lucille McKemie, fourth; Gibson, seventh and eighth grade.

School will open Sept. 2, and morning bus schedules will be the same as at present, but school will be dismissed at 3 p.m., and children will be taken home on the bus. An additional bus will bring the high school children from Jacksonville at 4 o'clock.

Kenneth Nivens, fifth and sixth grade teacher for three years, will be in business at Albany, this summer, and Marvin Throne, band instructor for three years, will leave to complete his master's degree in music. The plans of Mrs. Gene Hunsaker, seventh grade teacher this year, were said to be incomplete. School will close May 29, and eighth grade graduation will be held in the gymnasium the previous evening.

sons attended Sunday, and the cabinet was presented by Mrs. Harley Hall, superintendent of the church group.

Those attending from other sections were the Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Randall of Medford, the Rev. and Mrs. Allan Hill and children and Mrs. Hill's mother, Mrs. Annie Noy of Central Point, and Miss Eleonore Corbin of Portland, formerly of the community, who is in Christian teaching after graduation from Multnomah school of the Bible.

Mrs. Amanda Childers of Jacksonville spent several days last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chester Jones.

The Log Town cemetery association, which has held annual clean-up days prior to Memorial Day, will hold another work day in October, according to Mrs. John Black, who attended the annual work day Sunday.

Official visiting hours at the cemetery also were established, Mrs. Black said, which are from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m. April through September, and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. during the winter months.

Mrs. Bill Wittingham was re-elected chairman of the group. About 45 people worked there Sunday. Lunch was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Adams, with Mrs. A. W. Stevens as co-hostess.

Donald Gregory, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gregory, and a forest service employee at Prospect, took pre-enlistment tests in Medford this week, expecting to enter the United States Air Force, with basic training in San Antonio, Texas.

Mrs. Cecilia Worth of Coquille was a guest at the Bert Clute home and of other friends here this week. Mrs. Worth is the mother of Mrs. Earle Fichter of Medford, and the family resided in the valley about 30 years ago, where they operated the co-operative creamery near the Applegate store.

Henry Hyde has returned to his home at Yoncalla after spending several days at the home of Mrs. Boyd Hamilton and with his grandmother, Mrs. Henry Pawlowski. Henry's father, Bill Hyde, former resident here and teacher in the Ruch school, is completing the teaching term in an elementary school in Douglas county and next year will serve as principal of a five-room grade school north of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Wagner of Los Angeles have returned to their mining claim, "Tin Cup," near Blue Ledge mine for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Henderson of Arcata, Calif., have purchased the Dow Lewis home here, and will move here after completion of Mrs. Henderson's school term at Arcata. The couple are former residents of the community, and Mrs. Henderson will teach at the Applegate school next term.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Helms of Medford have purchased an acre of land from Ed Finley and are building a home on the property. Wallace Haskins of Medford started the carpentry this week.

Rural Reflections: One of the upsetting things about the sudden plunge into summer was the sad plight of 17 folks on four election boards at Ruch Tuesday, all fortified with a supply of hot coffee and no cold drinks in the 93 degree heat. The ladies fanned themselves and furiously plied powder puffs, and Hennie Lepiniec had provided herself with a few more necessities for freshening up, but had no time to use them in the rush of voters. There was one calm soul able to count his blessings in the midst of it all, and this was Harlan Cantrell, who said, threading his ballot stubs, that Americans have no cause to complain and that life's upsetting incidents brings only greater appreciation of the good.

SHOOTING ON DIAMOND—A long standing feud between two families culminated in a shooting during an amateur baseball game in Detroit. Twenty-eight-year-old Dario Medrano (light arrow) was hit twice in a flurry of five shots by Raymond Gonzales, 30 (dark arrow). Top picture shows Medrano being chased by Gonzales, in bottom picture Medrano is felled by bullets from Gonzales gun, seriously wounded in hip and chest.

Rutgers Scientists Find Many Persons Not Well Nourished

Washington, D.C. — Scientists of Rutgers university recently released a report which said that many persons who are sure they eat enough of the right foods actually are undernourished.

The report followed a study of 610 industrial workers in New Jersey, a random sample of factory workmen, which showed that about a fourth were getting less of one or more nutrients than necessary for best nutrition. Particularly there was evidence of the lack of calcium, thiamine and riboflavin (B vitamins) and ascorbic acid (C vitamin).

The scientists observed that "Dietary faults frequently observed were low consumption of milk and vitamin C-rich vegetables and fruits."

CAN YOU PICK THE BUMBLE BEE TUNA?

It requires real skill. There are people at Bumble Bee who have been picking the best of the tuna catch for 20 years or more. They're tough judges. How do they do it? They pick tuna with a light, clean color and a bright, fresh look. It must have that fine, fresh, just-out-of-the-sea smell. Gills are examined. Meat is tested for solidity and firmness. Maybe you can pick the winners now, a and b. They have that true Bumble Bee quality. The others were good, but not good enough for the Bumble Bee experts, who feel that careful selection of tuna makes uniform fine eating. An Oregon Product
