Council Launches State Program On Citizenship

To call attention to the great need for increased personal interest in all stages of government, the Oregon Farm Bureau Women's Advisory Council has planned a statewide citizenship program. Mrs. John Devereux, Bandon, women's chairman for the Farm Bureau, has announced that Mrs. Harris Higgins, Parkdale, has been named chairman of the citizenship committee.

The citizenship program will be divided into three major projects. The main areas will be, first, an essay contest on the subject of "How I helped elect fighters for freedom," open to Farm Bureau members of all ages; second, a "vote campaign," to encourage voters to register, and third, a citizenship activities program, including study programs for all Center and County Farm Bureau in analyzing the drift toward centralized government and the loss of freedom brought on by new ideologies not based on the constitutional rights.

Other parts of the program will include studies of school budgets, public roads, etc., and encouraging that members serve on special public boards and committees. Each center and county is being encouraged to develop a "bill of citizenship responsibilities" as a counterpart to the Bill of Rights. Each group is being encouraged to organize tours to public hearings on important civic matters.

Girls to Form Horizon Group

Members of Ayuzunta Camp Fire group entertained guests Saturday with an outdoor barbecue and an evening of informal fun at 832 Palm street. The group is making preparation to organize a second Horizon club in the Rogue Camp Fire council.

The group enjoyed a week of camping and hiking in Lassen Park last summer and plans are underway for a similar trip this coming summer. The girls have not yet decided where they will camp this year.

Any eighth or ninth grade girl, especially those interested in outdoor activities, who would like to know more about the groups' plans, may call Mrs. Rufus Younger, group advisor, at SPring 2-2315. Final plans for the proposed camping trip will be made within the next three weeks, and since only registered members may participate in an activity of this kind, any girls interested should contact Mrs. Younger as soon as possible.

CAN YOU PICK THE BUMBLE BEE TUNA?

Sandwiches made with chunk style Light Meat Tuna

It doesn't take long. Even mayonnaise can't hide the differences. Just look under the mayonnaise for the tuna meat that has a lighter, clearer color, a sure sign that it came from fresh, prime quality tuna. Next, find the tuna mixture with the firm, tender morsels. Bumble Bee Tuna sandwiches are never too dry, never too moist, never "squashy." Finally taste. Look for gentle, fresh-fish flavor. It's always the pay-off for knowing your tuna. There you are. The Bumble Bee

Tuna is a and f in the photo above. Next time you'll buy Bumble Bee chunk style Light Meat Tuna. Won't you?
