Super-Voltage Rays Helpful in Cancer

At a recent medical meeting in Houston, Dr. Gilbert Fletcher reported that some of the new super-voltage x-rays and other forms of radiation have been giving excellent results in the treatment of certain cancers. In a series of 74 cases in which the patient had a cancer either in the back of the throat or in his mouth, 70 per cent of the lumps were destroyed, whereas with the old type of treatment, only 33 per cent were destroyed.

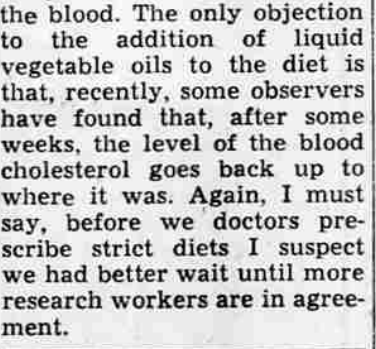

Already, the two-year survival rate of patients has almost doubled. Quite a few patients with cancer of the bladder or with an inoperable cancer of the neck of the womb have been saved with the new powerful rays.

Cholesterol in Arterial Disease

At Harvard, a team of doctors has discovered a new and possibly very fruitful method of studying the influence of cholesterol and other fat-like substances on arteries. They have grown cells from the human aorta (the large artery that comes out of the heart) in cultures, and then have modified these cultures by adding cholesterol to the nutrient medium. This cholesterol did much harm. Then linolenic acid, such as is found in vegetable oils, was added, and the culture became almost normal again. When stearic acid, which is found in animal fats, was added, there was a deposition of much fatty substance among the growing cells.

The results of these experiments tend to reinforce the clinical studies which indicate that a saturated linolenic acid, added to a diet, tends to lower the amount of apparently harmful cholesterol in the blood. The only objection to the addition of liquid vegetable oils to the diet is that, recently, some observers have found that, after some weeks, the level of the blood cholesterol goes back up to where it was. Again, I must say, before we doctors prescribe strict diets I suspect we had better wait until more research workers are in agreement.

KNOWLAND—Senator William F. Knowland at press conference in Washington seems in a pensive mood following his set-back in the California gubernatorial race. His Democratic opponent, "Pat" Brown almost snowed the senator under in the primary.

The 1957-58 Argentine cotton crop is estimated at 480,000 bales. This is a decline of 83,000 bales from the previous year. Insects, bad weather and disease curtailed production.

Ministers Protest Stores Reopening

Albany—(UPI)—Two local ministers protested the prospective re-opening Sundays of two supermarkets, Foodtown and Safeway, here Friday.

The Rev. William Shellhart and the Rev. William Brown said closing of stores on Sunday has met public approval and that most local merchants have declared the plan to be "very successful."

The two ministers were challenging the statements that the Sunday closing experiment was not working out in Linn county. The statements were by store managers.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gilchrist and daughter, Judy, stopped Friday evening at the Don Ward home, en route to Hornbrook where they were the guests of Frank Ward. On Sunday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Robert De Voe and sons, Mrs. Clarice De Voe and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McCulloch, all of Medford, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Ward and daughters for a barbecue dinner on the lawn at Mr. Ward's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fogiatto and daughter, Lena, made a business trip to Yreka Saturday. They then drove to Montague where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rizzardo. Johnny Fogiatto, who has been a student in Chico State college, returned to his home Tuesday for the summer vacation.

It was brought to our attention that Mrs. Lucy Mendes was a guest on the Sheila Sherman Feminine Fancies TV show on April 30, where she displayed her needlework. This is Mrs. Mendes' hobby and she has many beautiful pieces. Appearing with her was her granddaughter, Pamela Mendes.

Another hobby called to our attention is the growing of iris at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jones. They have 50 different varieties which were at their peak of blossom recently. Many friends drove to their home on Highway 99, south, to view the spectacular scene.

With the presentation of report cards the Hilts School closed at noon Thursday, May 29.

Prior to that, field trips were enjoyed by the various rooms, the trip made by the third and fourth grades appearing in an earlier column.

On May 15 the fifth and sixth grades and teacher, Mrs. L. E. Jeter, traveled to Medford where they visited at the Tucker Sno-Cat plant, Harry and David Bear Creek Packing Plant, and Beck's Bakery. A rest period was spent in Hawthorne park after which they all enjoyed lunch at the "Clock."

Mothers taking cars were: Mrs. Robert Fremd, Mrs. Al Simmen and Mrs. Robert Trinca. On May 21, the first and second grades and teacher, Mrs. Alec Rutledge, spent the day at the S. S. Bar Ranch northwest of town. Mrs. Vern Burns served punch to the children and coffee to the adults to go with their sack lunches. The group toured the ranch buildings and were able to see the livestock at close range, always an interesting sight to boys and girls.

Mothers going were Mrs. Les Chase, Mrs. Lorne Martin, Mrs. John Brannon, Mrs. Robert Fremd, Mrs. John Green and Mrs. Vic Van de Weghe.

The seventh and eighth grades visited Yreka High school on May 22 to become acquainted with a school so much larger than theirs. On May 23, at the close of school they enjoyed a picnic in Lithia Park, then swimming at Twin Plunges. They then drove to Medford to attend a show at the Craterian theater. Transportation was by school bus, driven by their teacher, Mario Michelen.

On May 26, this group took a tour of the woods and logging operations. Resident manager Mel Barron, Don Fremd, Dave Sage, and Mario Michelen transported the group by car. On May 27, they were taken on a conducted tour of the mill and other plant installations, where they saw how the logs are processed after arrival from the woods. Explaining the various phases and answering questions were Mel Barron, William Tollis, and W. A.
