

Homemakers' Festival Features Frock Follies

More than 300 women from all parts of Jackson county attended the annual Homemakers' festival of Jackson county extension units Wednesday afternoon in Central Point Grange hall. The program featured a talk by Evelyn Funk, extension agent from Oregon State college, and a style show in which women modeled cotton dresses they had made in a workshop held last winter.

Mrs. Rillin Jones, Medford, chairman of the county extension committee, presided, and Miss Marilou Garner, extension agent, was commentator for the style show.

The afternoon closed with tea and social hour.

New county committee members were elected during a business meeting. Mrs. Leland Charley, Lake Creek, who is first vice-president of the state committee, was named to a one-year term to represent District 1, replacing Mrs. Chester Willson, Rogue-Elk unit, who is moving to Idaho. District 1 includes Lake Creek, Elk-Trail, Prospect and Shady Cove.

Mrs. W. W. Jackson was elected to a three-year term to represent District 2, which includes Eagle Point, Butte Falls and Reed Creek. She succeeds Mrs. Ted Fredenburg, Butte Falls unit.

Elected to represent District 7, Sams Valley, Agate and Evans Valley, was Mrs. Ruby Pleasant. She succeeds Mrs. Barbara Gosnell, Sams Valley.

Remaining on the committee are Mrs. Elmer Reinking, District 3, Westside, Lone Pine and Medford parents; District 4, Mrs. Rollin Jones, Oak Grove, Griffin Creek and Medford; District 5, Mrs. Paul Snook, Central Point, Howard and Willow Springs; District 6, Mrs. Dora Krause, Applegate, Upper Applegate, Ashland, and Valleyview.

A skit was given in honor of Miss Mary Pat Lucy, county extension agent for home economics, and she spoke on the purposes of the extension program. Mrs. Jones welcomed members and visitors, who numbered 35. Mrs. Ted Fredenburg, Butte Falls, gave the invocation. Mrs. Doris

Adarel Chapter Announces Events; Delegates Return

Jacksonville—Adarel chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold installation of officers Saturday, June 21, at 8 p.m. in the Jacksonville Masonic temple.

Adarel social club will meet Thursday, June 12, at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Winningham, 107 Perrydale avenue, Medford. Members are asked to take table service.

Attending grand chapter sessions from Adarel were Mrs. Winningham, worthy matron; J. E. Crawford, worthy patron, and Mrs. Crawford; Mrs. George Mero, associate matron; Gail Buffington, associate patron; and Mrs. Orval Shores, grand representative to Illinois in Oregon.

Knapp led community singing, and Mrs. A. W. McQuat was organist.

"Desire is the key to learning," Miss Funk told the women during a brief talk. She said that every person has the same amount of time — 24 hours in every day — and that everyone has the same three commodities to spend — time, energy and money. She added that money will buy only food, but not appetite, that it will buy medicine, but not health, and may bring joy but not peace of mind. "Time is more important than money," said the speaker and explained that the happiest people are those who give themselves to something that lives on when they are no longer living.

Eighty-eight women modeled clothing in the show. The dresses made in the workshop had to meet four requirements; each must have set-in sleeves, have a seam at the waistline, have a collar and buttons and button holes.

The Frocks Follies closed on a humorous note. Miss Lucy modeled a 1929 black chemise dress and Mrs. John Davidson, Eagle Point, wore a "sack" dress made from a gummy sack labeled with "Rat Poison."

Installation Held for Mothers

Mrs. John Davies was installed commander of Rogue Valley Navy Mothers club at the meeting held recently. Warren Boe, Navy chief petty officer, Navy recruiter here, installed the officers.

Also installed were Mrs. L. C. McKay, first vice-commander; Mrs. Ben Ashton, second vice-commander; Mrs. Glen Curtis, chaplain; Mrs. James Wicker, judge advocate; Mrs. Henry Dooms, Ashland, finance officer; Mrs. C. W. Childers, Applegate, adjutant; Mrs. Carl Ludwig, flag bearer; Mrs. Mary Fredericks, banner bearer; Mrs. Nute Lycksen, matron-at-arms, and Mrs. C. R. Alexander, musician.

The club will meet July 15 at 1 p.m. at the Girls Community hall.

Speaker Named For Assistants

Ned Minamoto of the Ames Research laboratories will be guest speaker at the Thursday, June 12, meeting of the Jackson County Medical Assistants in the Red Cross building, Hawthorne avenue.

The business meeting will start at 8 p.m. with the program at 9 p.m. A contest will be held for the naming of the group's monthly publication.

Mrs. Donald Kimmell, who will be chairman of the Eagle Point Extension unit for 1958-59, was one of the models for a cotton dress style show held as part of the annual Homemakers' Festival Wednesday afternoon. Each woman wore a dress she had made in a workshop, and although each had to observe the same four rules as to style and design, all 88 were interestingly different.

Mrs. John Morgan, Route 2, Central Point, modeled a green sports type cotton dress at the annual Homemakers' Festival held Wednesday afternoon in Central Point. More than 80 women modeled dresses made in an extension service cotton dress workshop last winter.

Tour of Gardens To Be Part of Rose Festival

Portland—Six private gardens and the Portland Garden club building and grounds will be open to the public during the Portland Rose festival. This is the first time a tour of private gardens has been made available to the public.

The tour is sponsored by the Junior League of Portland in cooperation with the Festival association. The tea which will be held in conjunction with the tour is sponsored by the Portland Garden club.

The tour will be held June 11, 12, and 13 from noon until 5 p.m. with the tea scheduled between 2 and 4:30 p.m. Chartered bus transportation will be available.

Persons may order tickets and bus tickets, if needed, from the Junior League office, 1717 S.W. Park avenue, Portland.

Chorus to Sing For Chapter AA

Mrs. J. F. Fliegel will entertain Chapter AA of PEO Sisterhood at her home, 22 North Modoc avenue, Wednesday, June 11, at 12:30 p.m.

The Convention chorus will sing following the luncheon. Mrs. J. A. Cunningham and Mrs. C. I. Drummond will assist the hostess.
