Weiser, Idaho (UPI)—A 4-year-old Idaho rancher was recovering in a Weiser hospital today after being saved from being buried alive when an excavation ditch caved in on him 2 1/2 miles across the Idaho border into Oregon.

Laurel J. Anderson, of Oregon Slope, Idaho, was laying irrigation pipe in a 10-foot ditch when the sides of the trench suddenly caved in, covering him up completely.

Fellow workers dug frantically to uncover the man's head while others ran to call for a respirator from the Weiser fire department. The workers dug the dirt away from Anderson's head as firemen arrived. He was removed from the ditch, given oxygen and hospitalized.

Navy Crewman Backs Into Prop

Roseburg—(UPI)—A Navy crewman from an SNB5 twin-engine military plane backed into the prop of a Navy AD-5 Douglas Skyraider at Roseburg airport Monday but was only grazed by the whirling blades and suffered a large welt on his back.

Dale Sanders, metalsmith 1st class, was treated at the scene by Navy corpsmen and flown back to Moffett Naval Air Station, California. The prop ripped Sanders' clothes from his back.

"I've been around jets too long," he said. "Forgot about the prop."

Plywood Demand Slated To Increase
Gearhart, Ore. — (UPI) — Peter W. Hoguet, president of the Econometric Institute of New York, told Western fir plywood manufacturers here today that demand for plywood in the next four quarters will rise seven per cent to 5.9 billion square feet.

Hoguet addressed some 280 mill officials at Douglas Fir Plywood association's 22nd annual meeting.

Hoguet said that construction activity and industrial production will move upward in the year ahead, marking the first sustained increase of this type since 1955.

Change in Wheat Policy Seen Need
The Dalles — (UPI) — Jack Smith, president of the Oregon Wheat Growers league, told the group's executive committee meeting here Monday that it is essential for the United States to change its white wheat policy to allow white wheat to compete more favorably in the international market.

Smith, who recently returned to the U. S. after serving as a Department of Agriculture representative at the Osaka, Japan, trade fair, said there is a "general shift" in Japan and Italy which will offer a substantially greater market for feed grain.

"We in the Northwest should recognize that we are feed grain producers and look to this market for a possible outlet for our productions," he said. Northwest wheat growers, he said, should become better informed of the factors involved in trade among the U. S., Japan, India, Italy and Pakistan.

Prizes Awarded Six Veterans for Writing

Camp White—Prizes totaling several hundred dollars in value, including checks totaling $135 were awarded to six veterans at the VA domiciliary Friday afternoon by Manager E. K. Ricker in a special meeting arranged in his office. Seven others received honorable mention.

The awards were given for participation in the hospitalized veterans writing project 1958 contest. The volunteer program, which has been conducted for 12 years, in cooperation with the Veterans administration, is intended to encourage veterans in hospitals and homes to engage in creative writing for recreation and rehabilitation. Headquarters for the project is in Chicago.

Consistent Winners
Camp White veterans have been consistent winners in these contests, but at no other time has the number and value of the awards been as great as this year. The group undertook a round table offering of their impressions and benefits from the readers and writers club, conducted by Enid Holmes, librarian. It was this effort which won most of the cash. A set of the Encyclopedia Americana was won for the library.

W. M. Black, editor of Dominews, won a portable typewriter as first, and two prizes of $25 each in creative writing. Walter L. Townsend won second prize of $50; Michael J. Dillon, $15; John Cress, $10; Earl J. Sweeney,

$10; and Walter Grow, $1, in special fields.

Honorary awards of books were given to Black, Townsend, Sweeney and Grow, who also won a watch.

Assistant Manager Banks Paul, Domiciliary Officer R. H. Ruffin, Enid Holmes, librarian, and Bud Ash, acting chief of special services, were present for the occasion.

The domiciliary writers also included Charles M. Reynolds, Price E. Payne, Owen Gearhart, Clarence Stauffer, Barton Stevens, Estel Coffey and Jim Jenkins.

Pickets Close Burns Operation

Burns —(UPI)— Pickets set up by the International Woodworkers of America union at Westfir were sent to the Burns operation of the Hines Lumber Company Monday, shutting down the plant and idling about 700 Lumber and Sawmill union workers.

Bruce Forrester, president of the Sawmill Workers, Burns local 2902, said 450 members who work in the plant did not cross picket lines set up by the IWA at 5:30 a.m. Monday. Another 250, he said, who work in nearby woods were idled also.

The pickets came from the IWA local at Westfir where they earlier struck the Hines' Westfir operation.

Thomas Rickard, president of the Izaak Walton league, spoke Monday noon at the roundtable luncheon of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce at the Jackson hotel.

Mentions Studies
He mentioned the survey now in progress by the National Park service for the Bureau of Land Management for recreational facilities at Howard Prairie reservoir and one underway by the city of Medford.

Other projects mentioned were winter sports areas, which the speaker stated were necessary in the area due to the population increase. He also commented on the desirability of having more parks and recreation areas along the Rogue river and of having the lower Rogue canyon from Grave creek set aside for recreation.

Rickard distributed literature on recreation programs set up in Lane and Douglas counties which had been encouraged by the league.

More than 20 persons attended the meeting.
