

Singer-Composer Shuns Big City For Music Career

BY HUGH ROBERTSON
UPI Staff Correspondent

Memphis—(UPI)—A young Tennessee giant, who believes he should have more than words and music, is giving New York City the cold shoulder—for the time being.

Gericho Brown, 21, six-foot, six inches and 245 pounds, doesn't think the big city is the place to be "discovered."

Brown, a self-proclaimed combination crooner-composer, thinks songs he's written so far "have a meaning."

"Everything I hope to put out will have a meaning," Brown said. "For instance, I wrote 'Little Neva' about a little co-ed I met at Louisiana College. I saw her during classes and she impressed me."

"She was very, very small, five feet on the nose with a figure as cute as a peach." Brown's song goes in part "... she's really cute and she really gets around... she can even make a dog's heart pound."

"Prettiest thing you ever did meet. O. She had her hair in a pony tail... she can even make a hound dog wail."

Studied for Ministry
Gericho, who studied for the ministry before giving it up for the music business, said "would dog" or not, he's not a rock 'n' roll man.

"I've tried to make my own style, and don't pattern myself after anybody really, but I like Pat Boone and his style."

Brown's boss is John Begley, who heads RKO-Unique, part of the RKO broadcasting set up.

"Nobody is going to be discovered in New York," Begley said. "We think this boy is going to be big, and we thought if we could get him in Memphis and then spread it out from there that would be the best way."

Brown gave up studying for the ministry because he wasn't sure what he wanted to do.

"If God doesn't make you absolutely sure, you shouldn't be in the ministry," he explained.

"Right now, I think He has a place for me in show business."

Masa Tierra, the island off the coast of Chile where Robinson Crusoe supposedly lived, is now chiefly a haven for specially built schooners which go there to harvest its famous lobsters.

Trimmed Off

Many markets remove the meaty portion, giving you less meat in proportion to bone. Compare the extra value you get at Safeway where you always get ALL the good meat that belongs.

This meaty portion belongs on a blade-cut pot roast. We LEAVE it on. Many markets cut off this portion and sell it as boneless pot roast at a much higher price per pound.

Tender "USDA Choice" Beef POT ROAST

Safeway Pot Roasts are cut from chunks of "USDA CHOICE" beef. This is the grade that offers greater value because it means you get more meat in proportion to bone. It is well marbled for finer flavor.
