Kremlin Thought Turning Chill Toward West

Cultural Pact Talks Concluded

London — (UPI) — Russia broke off diplomatic negotiations for a cultural agreement with Britain today in the first sign that Moscow's new cold war may take the West for a target as well as Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

The disclosure followed authoritative reports that the Soviet Communist party Central Committee is now meeting in the Kremlin. It was believed to be drafting an over-all policy to defeat "revisionists" — those who would defy Moscow's all-out control of their affairs — among the satellites.

May Underscore Fate

The new policy was expected to underscore the fate that might be expected by those tempted to follow the path of executed Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy, whose death provoked heated anti-Communist reaction throughout the world.

Kremlin policy appeared suddenly to be hardening against the satellites with the execution of Nagy and his companions. Now the new chill was being turned on the West as well.

Execution of the leaders of Hungary's anti-Communist revolution brought new and angry repercussions throughout the world. There were riots and protest marches in European cities, condemnation by free nations and shock in neutralist Switzerland. Students in Bern, Switzerland, staged a two-hour torchlight parade through the capital Wednesday night. Norwegian students demonstrated in front of the Russian Embassy and Hungarian Legation in Oslo. The Hungarian Students Union called for a protest march in London today.

Heralded by Red China

Only Communist China referred to the Nagy execution as "welcome news." It coupled this announcement with one of its most savage attacks on Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia — certain to be one of the main topics of discussion at the Moscow meeting of the Communist Party Central Committee.

Authoritative reports reaching London said the execution of Nagy was closely connected with the Moscow Communist meeting on Tito who has defied the Kremlin with his own brand of "independent Communism." Yugoslavia has denounced the Nagy execution as a gigantic double-cross.

Announcement of the death of Nagy and three co-patriots in Hungary's abortive fight for freedom was generally believed to herald the revival of the Stalinist purge at their worst.

Six Hearings on Council's Agenda

Six public hearings are on the agenda for the Medford city council at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the council chambers at the city hall.

Hearings are scheduled on sanitary sewer systems in the Laurelhurst and Kenwood Grandview districts, and on paving Eastwood dr., Kennet st., Beatty st., and Siskiyou blvd.

Bids are scheduled to be called on the projects for which hearings are scheduled tonight. Also on the agenda is consideration of an easement for a water line from Siskiyou Memorial park association, and an easement for power pole relocation and authorization to pay partial cost on East Jackson st. The council also will consider a policy on low-cost street surfacing.

Gilchrist Child Drowns in Pond

Gilchrist — (UPI) — Mary G. Ernest, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ernest, was drowned late Wednesday in a pond near her home.

The child was first missed about 6 p.m. and her body was found about 30 minutes later in shallow water near the edge of the pond and close to the boat dock. Efforts to revive the girl failed. Father of the child is an official of the Gilchrist Timber company and the mother is the former Mary Gilchrist. They have one other child.

Aged Stayton Man Rescued From Pen in Son's Yard

Stayton, Ore. — (UPI) — An 88-year-old man suffering from malnutrition was reported in fair condition at a hospital here today after deputy sheriffs rescued him from an electric fenced pen in the backyard of his son's home where officers said he had been enclosed "like an animal."

The son, Daniel George Cole, 60, was arrested on a man and battery charge and held under $2,500 bail. Deputy Charles Thornton said he saw the aged man, Eugene W. Cole, being kicked by the son and having water poured over him as he tried to get to his feet. Thornton said the elderly man was screaming for mercy. Deputies made the arrest Wednesday as they were in the process of investigating earlier complaints from neighbors that a man had been heard screaming.

The officers said the elder Cole's living quarters within the pen consisted of a filth-laden trailer containing a wood heating stove, a single light bulb and a makeshift bed. A large spoon was chained to a table for the aged man and he had what officers called an "aluminum dog dish" to eat from.

The younger Cole had been a resident of this mid-Willamette valley community for more than 20 years and worked as a partime movie projectionist and gunsmith. Officers quoted him as saying he kept his father penned up to "discipline" him and make him "take care of himself." Stayton Police Chief Everett Norfleet said no water was piped into the trailer area and that toilet facilities were outside.

Medford Resident Named to State Real Estate Board

William Frohnmayer, Medford realtor, has been appointed to the state real estate board, Gov. Robert D. Holmes' office announced today.

He succeeds E. M. Chilcot, Klamath Falls, on the five-man board which conducts examinations for brokers and salesmen licenses and advises on the needs and policies of the profession. The appointment runs until June 14, 1962. Elected Treasurer

Frohnmayer, who recently was elected treasurer of the Jackson County Democratic Central committee, has been in the real estate business in Medford since 1950. Prior to that he was affiliated with a finance corporation here and in Klamath Falls, where he lived for 10 years.

He was born in Portland in 1910, and after attending Reed college there, moved to Medford. He lived in Klamath Falls between 1938 and 1948.

He is a member of the Medford Realty board, the Medford Multiple Service, the Oregon Association of Real Estate Boards, and the National Association of Real Estate Boards. He was president of the Medford Realty board last year, and is on the board of directors for the Realty board and the Multiple Listing Service.

Frohnmayer said that since the position is an advisory one, he will maintain his office and business at 622 North Riverside ave.

Ike Underscores GOP Congress Need

Washington — (UPI) — President Eisenhower underscored today the importance of electing a GOP Congress in November but kept silent on the Sherman Adams case that is worrying them.

GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn and others attending a breakfast meeting with the President reported that there was no mention of the Adams' case which linked the top presidential assistant with Boston millionaire Bernard Goldfine.

The President spent about an hour and 20 minutes with 43 Republican state chairmen and other party leaders assembled here for a "campaign school."

Lightning Strike Mopped Up, As Showers Forecast

Two crews from the state department of forestry today were mopping up the only lightning strike reported from thunderstorms in southern Oregon.

Although no strikes have been reported from last night storm which was generally southwest of Medford, forest agencies said there may be sleeper fires spotted after the weather clears.

The lightning strike yesterday afternoon was between Butte Falls and Prospect. Some state lookouts were "fogged in" this morning because of rainy weather, which also has hampered forest service officials in spotting any strikes which may have occurred in the Rogue River National forest late yesterday. Reconnaissance flights were scheduled later today by the forest service if the weather clears.

Only .02 of an inch of rain was reported at the Medford airport during last evening's storm, but heavier amounts fell in other valley areas. Squally winds also accompanied the storm, but no extensive damage has been reported.

California Oregon Power company officials said the only power disturbance was reported in the Ruch area.

Personnel at the Star Ranger station reported heavy lightning south of the station, but had no reports of strikes. The Medford weather bureau forecast occasional light rain through Friday with a chance of afternoon and evening thunderstorms.

Oregon Highway Traffic Increases

Salem — (UPI) — Oregon highway traffic increased one per cent in May compared with May of last year, the State Highway Department reported today.

The signals will be installed at Main and Eighth sts. at Hamilton st., Main and Eighth sts. at Orange st., and Eighth st. at Oakdale ave., Grape St., Front st., and Riverside ave.

Trowbridge and Flynn, contractors for signal installation, reported that the signal heads are to be shipped July 3 from Moline, Ill.

Ike Freezes Tariff Rates on Lead, Zinc

Washington — (UPI) — President Eisenhower decided today to freeze for the time being the current tariff rates on lead and zinc imported into this country.

Total cost of the couplet construction will be $227,261.80, of which the city is to pay 25 per cent. Approximately $56,800 has been placed on deposit as the city's share, officials report.

Construction of a new Bear creek bridge, to finish the couplet, will be done later. Officials said that actual construction on the bridge is not expected to get under way until next spring.

Until the completion of the Bear creek bridge, east-bound traffic on Eighth st., once the couplet is opened, will flow into Riverside ave. City officials reported that some congestion of traffic may necessitate a traffic officer at the intersection during peak rush hours.

Dismissal of Hoffa Charges Refused New York — (UPI) — Federal Judge Thomas F. Murphy refused today to dismiss wiretap conspiracy charges against Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and two others.

Grants Pass Man Arrested on Bribe Attempt Charges

A charge of attempting to bribe a public official was lodged against Allan Adams, 52, of 577 S. W. "G" St., Grants Pass, after he was arrested by Jackson county sheriff's deputies and postal authorities Wednesday evening.

Adams is suspected of being the sender of an anonymous letter on June 10 to Judge H. K. Hanna of the circuit court, offering him a $500 bribe for a favorable decision in the civil case of Adams vs. Patton.

Request of Husband Officers believe the letter was written by Mrs. Adams at the request of her husband. Handwriting analysis led to the arrest, according to the sheriff's office here.

The suspect is in the county jail under $5,000 bond while awaiting arraignment. Authorities reported that he is charged with the violation of a state statute rather than a federal one because the judge is a state official.

The Adams vs. Patton case involves a suit brought by Adams for reformation of a logging contract with Charles Patton. Adams was doing business as the Adams Logging Co. The case was tried on March 6 and the decision is pending.

Agreement Inked For Fruit Sales

A trade agreement between the U.S. and the United Kingdom providing for the sale of up to $20 million dollars worth of American fruit was signed in Washington, D.C., today.

The office of Sen. Richard L. Neuberger told the Mail Tribune the ceremony in the capitol was witnessed by Oregon's two senators, a number of other senators, and, among others, Raymond Reter, Medford fruit packer and president of the International Apple association.

The reports said the new agreement increases the prospects for a considerable increase in the sale of American fruit to Great Britain. The agreement was signed for the U. S. by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, and for Britain by members of the British Trade commission.

Voters Approve Levy In Jacksonville

Jacksonville — Jacksonville school district voters yesterday approved 166 to 83 a levy for operating the three Jacksonville schools during fiscal year 1958-59.

The levy will be $141,322.21. At an election earlier this year, voters defeated a proposed $153,404.40 levy for operating the district. Reductions in the levy were made by cutting transportation allowance and the reserve to cover unpaid taxes, and by reducing the proposed total for salaries.

One vote cast in yesterday's election was void.

Dismissal of Hoffa Charges Refused

New York — (UPI) — Federal Judge Thomas F. Murphy refused today to dismiss wiretap conspiracy charges against Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and two others.

Senator Knowland Urges President To Carefully Weigh Case of Adams

Fellow Party Members Increase Demands To Quit

November Chances Declared Unknown

Washington — (UPI) — Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland said today President Eisenhower should "carefully weigh" whether Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams has "hurt his usefulness" by taking gifts from Bernard Goldfine.

The Californian made this observation at a news conference as new demands came from Republican members of Congress for Adams' resignation.

Not That Far Knowland, who is running for governor of California, did not go that far. Asked if he thought Adams should quit, he said:

"I think this is something which the President and Adams should carefully weigh as to whether Adams has so hurt his usefulness that it might be harmful to the broad policies which the President must carry out in the remaining two years of his administration."

Mistake in Judgment Knowland said a "serious question" was raised by Adams' acceptance of gifts from the New England industrialist. Knowland said he did not think it was "good public policy" for officials to accept gifts. He added that it is a "difficult matter of judgment as to what should be accepted and it is always hard to know where to draw the line."

But he said he felt that Adams had made a "mistake in judgment" in the Goldfine case. Knowland said he had "no way of knowing what effect if any" the Adams situation would have on the Republican party's chances in the November election. "But I doubt if it would help any," he said.

As more of Adams' fellow party members turned on him a Democrat, Rep. Peter F. Mack Jr. (R-Ill.), demanded that the Justice Department investigate the presidential aide's relations with Goldfine.

The department said it had no comment on Mack's statement. Sen. Charles E. Potter and Rep. John B. Bennett, Michigan Republicans seeking reelection this fall, called Wednesday for Adams' resignation.

Today Reps. Harry G. Haskell Jr. (R-Del.) and Charles E. Chamberlain (R-Mich.) seconded the motion. Mack also demanded that Adams retire.

Maintenance Work Done on City Streets

The state highway commission summer paving crew has been in the city for the past several days doing annual maintenance work, highway commission officials reported today.

Paving work is being done on Central ave., Main st., Riverside ave., and Front st.

Fuchs Depended on Sno-Cats for Trip At Pole, He Says

Sir Vivian Fuchs, leader of a British expedition across the continent of Antarctica, recently told Tucker Sno-Cat Corp. officials that the group depended on the over-snow vehicles — and without them, the 2,650-mile trip across the unknown continent could not have been accomplished.

M. Tucker, Medford, vice president and general manager of the firm here, who with his family returned this week from a month's tour of Europe, said he did not see Fuchs personally, but did talk with him via telephone from London to Scotland.

Tucker said Fuchs told him the expedition appreciated the Sno-Cat, and expressed the belief that the trip, which was the first ever made across the continent in a motorized vehicle, could not have been completed without them.

Use Four Vehicles The expedition used four Sno-Cats. One now is touring England and Europe, another is en route to the United States to be returned to the corporation plant here for display, and the other two are awaiting another assignment from Scott base in the Antarctic.

Tucker also talked with David Pratt, transportation and engineering officer for the expedition. Pratt spent two weeks in Medford about two and one-half years ago familiarizing himself with the vehicle. Pratt did all maintenance work while the vehicles were traveling across the continent.

The only unusual maintenance problem, Tucker reported expedition members as saying, was when the vehicles encountered hidden crevasses. Little other mechanical trouble was reported.

Tucker talked with several of the 18 crew members who made up the expedition. He said some crew members reported they were skeptical when Fuchs went about half way around the world to a relatively unknown town for equipment for the expedition, but all of them were pleased.

Compensation Plan Approved by Officers

Officers of the Jackson County Employees association today approved, "rather reluctantly," the proposed county compensation plan for this year adopted by the county court and budget committee.

The association this week received a letter from the county court explaining how they plan to put the compensation plan into effect.

Spokesmen for the association said they will accept the plan although they believe another alternative suggested by the civil service commission would be better, and that the money for it is available.

Needed Adjustments They added that they hoped needed adjustment in some salaries and wages can be made during the coming fiscal year, and they "hope for action — not just promises, of the kind we were given last year and the year before, which were never fulfilled."

suggestions regarding compensation, and the way in which it had been handled during the budgeting sessions this year.

The court's letter contained three main points:

1. That the court had adopted the second of three alternative methods of compensation suggested by the civil service commission, which will provide that employees whose present wage or salary is in excess of that provided in the plan will be frozen at the present level, and that others would be increased to the next step above, none being adjusted downward.
2. A review board to study future adjustments in salaries will be set up "as soon as possible." The court rejected a suggestion that $70,000 be set aside in the new budget for possible adjustments found necessary by the review board.
3. The court will "in the very near future," issue an order setting up fringe benefits, and will send copies to department heads. The court's letter concluded: "We want you to know that the county court does have the present and future welfare of every county employee in mind, and hope that you will bear with us until some time in the very near future, working through a review board, we can work this thing out to the satisfaction of all."

Prepared Before Letter In a 10-page statement, prepared before the court's letter to the association was received, the association expressed "regretful disappointment at not hearing from the court, and then discussed the situation leading up to the negotiations and disagreements concerning the compensation plan.

The statement declared that the court's decision of last year, to obtain a job classification survey and compensation plan, was a step in the right direction, but it added the association was in disagreement with the way it had been handled by the court and budget committee.
