Medford Nine Host To GP Legion Team

Medford and Grants Pass American Legion junior baseball teams collide this evening in their first meeting of the season.

Cheney field at the south edge of town is the scene of contention. Play ball is set for 8 p.m.

Despite this morning's showers, improvement in the weather was anticipated later in the day which would enable action tonight.

Players on each team will see a number of familiar faces in the opposing line-up since both contingents are made up from a nucleus of baseballers who performed this spring on high school teams in their respective communities.

Grants Pass comes here with a record of two wins and one loss against rivals that both clubs meet within the district. The Climate city boys have two wins in district counting games against Lakeview and a non-loop loss to Central Point. Medford's Crater Lake Motors club has beaten Central Point, once in a district fray and once in a non-league game and has lost to Klamath Falls in the circuit.

Non-Counter Tonight's game will not count in the league standings. The two clubs vie in a district game on Sunday afternoon, also on the Cheney diamond.

Grants Pass already has performed on the local field this season, dropping a 1 to 0 nod to Central Point last week.

Coach John Kovenz has reported that Herb Wheeler and Pat McLaughlin may see the pitching action for Crater Lake Motors tonight. For Grants Pass Coach Mel Ingram may choose among Dick Hayes, Dennis Barlow, (Roy Harris and Bill Cole, Hayes, Cole and Harris twirled a one-run no-hitter against Lakeview last Sunday with the GP winning score 17 to 1.

For the rest of the Medford crew it may be Lowell Dean or Jim Berry, catcher; Lowell Dean or Garland Lowery, first base; Ray Konepasek, second base; Calvin Dean, shortstop; Ken Durkee, third base, and Wayne Thorpson, Tom Turpin and Bob Quinney in the outfield.

Grants Pass could have Gary Honeycutt, catcher; Frank Sprinkle, first base; Lee Holmes, second, Dick Hayes or Denny Walker, short; John Fox, third, and Rex Benner, Ray Endicott or Marv Chandler, and Dan Wolke, outfielders.

Cross-Eyed Vehicle in Auto Races

Louis Kurz, Medford logging truck operator, will be racing a "cross-eyed" Studebaker this season in stock car competition at Valley View Speedway.

He will be racing under the familiar M7 number when the auto race slate opens at the track just north of Ashland on Saturday, June 21. Kurz will be in a lavender, or dark pink 1951 Studebaker. Headlights have been replaced with eyes which cross. He'll run under the banner of Dave and Vern Fraysher engineering service of Medford. It was incorrectly reported yesterday that the Frayshers would sponsor Jack Keck Jr.

Time trials Saturday are set for 7 p.m. at the speedway. First race will be at 8 p.m. There will be a trophy dash, two or three heat races and a main event.

The track is north and east a short distance off Highway 99 in the Jackson Hot Springs area.

REPEAT CHAMPION—Louis Hunt, 13, Medford, above, was the only local shooter to win a championship in the Oregon state shoot of Pacific International Trapshooting association at Medford Gun club last week end. He broke 99 out of a possible 100 birds to take the sub-junior 16-yard singles title for the second straight year. His performance impressed an out-of-state gunner, John Bateman, Moses Lake, Wash., who flew Hunt to Moses Lake for practice before entry in the Washington state tourney of the American Trapshooting association at Spokane, Wash., this week end. Next week the Hedrick Junior High school student will compete at Reno, Nev. In the event for his state title Hunt missed only the 92nd target. —(Knackstedt Photo)

Hunting & Fishing Southern Oregon

By MEL REES

With the return of summer weather there has been a good "hatch" of "fishing bugs" and from the reports most of the outdoor fraternity has been bitten. Every stream and lake in the state has been well attended and this will probably hold true for the remainder of the season.

A quick look around the state shows the following bits of info. Tillamook bay good for salmon. Fly fishing good on Crescent lake. Lower Deschutes and Crescent creek fair to good. Ochoco reservoir is slow. 10-Mile lakes good. East and Palina lakes very good a'ta still fishing with eggs yet.

IMPROVED ON KLAMATH

Close to home—the fishing improved right with the weather on Upper Klamath lake. Bob Sloan of Harriman's resort says most of the honors went to our local fishermen for the big fish this past week. Dick Harrison of Phoenix, took a 4 1/2-lb. rainbow; E. L. Neiderman of Grants Pass, 8 1/4 and 6 3/4; J. M. Costa of Morro Bay, Calif., 4; Chuck Kinney, Ashland, 5 1/2; Han Doris, Medford, 7 1/2.

Plenty of smaller fish were landed during the week. Andy Reekers, Flat Fish and Fender 'n Worms were the best bait. Prospects are excellent for the coming week end barring a siege of inclement weather.

KNOW-HOW PAYS

Fish lake and Willow creek reservoir are still producing to the knowing anglers. Some of the best fish of the season are being taken but the overall take isn't quite as good as earlier.

A strange thing about these two lakes. There are fishermen who regularly take limits or near-limits from these waters and seem to never fail. Then there are other anglers who find it a hit and miss affair. Both lakes have their hot spots and unless the angler studies the situation well enough to find these spots he can well get "skunked."

Squaw lake is still producing some nice catches. Here is another case of knowing the lake and how to fish it.

GLOWING REPORTS

Diamond lake has some glowing reports of big fish being taken. Some excellent fly fishing is to be had near the shore in the late

Portland — (UPI) — The week end forecast of fishing conditions by regions as prepared by the Oregon State Game Commission:

Southwest: Winchester Bay is slow for salmon. Lakes and streams in the Rogue district have improved. A good run of salmon is in the Grants Pass section. Fish lake in Jackson county is good. Salmon fishing has improved at Coos Bay bar.

Badger lake road is still closed by snow. Clear lake is good. Olallie lake is fair to good and should improve by the week end.

There have been excellent catches from Serene, Shining, Hideaway and Middle Rock lakes. Blue lake is excellent for rainbow and blueback. Suttle lake is fair for Kokanee. Wickiup reservoir is fair and Ochoco reservoir is good on fly and trolling. Haystack reservoir is good on troll.

Whiters Entertain Klamath on Friday

Camp White — An inter-league rivalry which could establish the victor unofficially as No. 1 ranking semi-pro baseball club in the southern Oregon — northern California sector is slated Friday evening at Veterans Administration Memorial field, Camp White.

The Klamath Falls Cubs will be guests of the VA-sponsored Camp White aggregation. Game time is 8 p.m. Klamath is currently leading the Northern California league by half a game with a 4-1 standing. The Whiters, of course, have yet to prove themselves but do loom as a leading contender for Rogue Valley league honors.

While Camp White already has a bit of a jump in the inter-league contention with an 8 to 6 verdict over the Cubs last Saturday, Klamath with a similar decision this week could put the situation right back where it was before the week end engagement.

SOC Mound Duel

A mound duel between a couple of Southern Oregon college pitchers could come about Friday night. Jim Eggers is scheduled to hurl for Camp White. The Kub chucker could be Eggers' Red Raider teammate, Dave D'Olivo. However, Klamath crew could go with either Rod McPhail or Wayne Hironaka who saw duty in last Saturday's fuss.
