TRYING FOR COMEBACK
—Ted Husing, one of radio's famed sportscasters, before a brain tumor crippled him and took away his sight, is shown on the telephone at Pasadena, Calif. Husing, 56, trying to make a comeback, says the path is rough, largely because of his own feelings of depression.

We are still celebrating the completion of our new expanded and remodelled store. Already, all records for the Groceteria have been exceeded... the interest shown by our southern Oregon friends and neighbors has been most gratifying... your comments and compliments most pleasing! We know, now, that you like the Groceteria's wider aisles, the ease of shopping in our roomy, well arranged store. We know that you like the many new products we are featuring, and the budget-saving prices that make Groceteria shopping more profitable as well as more pleasant. The new magic doors that open automatically for you... the handy and spacious parking area... and most of all, the courtesy and friendliness of Groceteria staff members... these all add up to food shopping at its very best!

Court Plans No Action on Request

Members of the county court said yesterday they did not plan any action on a requested 15-miles-per-hour speed zone on Wilson lane, northeast of Central Point. The court received a copy of a letter addressed to the state speed control board and a petition from residents of that area requesting the lower speed limit be established. The petition bears 23 signatures.

The board acts only on requests submitted by a county court or city council, the copy of a letter addressed to Mrs. Floyd Caughie, route 2, Central Point, stated. Following a request from either of these two bodies, the board will make an investigation, the letter stated.

Jet Trainer Makes Wheels Up Landing

Spokane—(UPI)—A T-33 jet trainer from Portland, Ore., made a "wheels up" landing at Geiger Air Force base near here Wednesday when the plane's right landing gear failed to drop.

Geiger officials said the pilot, 1st Lt. Daniel B. Warwick of Portland, notified the control tower he was in trouble and fire crews sprayed foam on the runway. The plane came in with its wheels up and skidded about 1,000 feet. Co-pilot was 1st Lt. Robert E. Ottaviano, Portland. Neither airman was injured and damage to the plane was slight.

Greyhound Request Refused by Morgan

Salem—(UPI)—The Public Utility commission today permanently suspended proposals for curtailment of passenger and express service by Western Greyhound Lines on the Seaside-Astoria-Portland route via the Sunset highway. The company asked that one of the present three daily round-trips be dropped.

Some other schedule changes asked by the company also were suspended. PUC Commissioner Howard Morgan said the company was losing money and patronage over the route, but said the reduction asked for would not provide adequate service.

Public Hearing Set On Beer License

A hearing will be held by the county court at 2 p.m., June 25 on recommending a beer license for Charles A. Carr's restaurant at 6463 Table Rock rd., the county court has announced.

Carr, represented by Medford Attorney O. H. Bengtson, is seeking an RMBB license which allows the sale of beer over the counter and packaged beer.

Petitions on the request was denied, it was reported. The county court felt then that it was not a case of public convenience nor necessity at that location, county court members said.

HOME PRODUCT

Brunswick, Me.—(UPI)—Members of Squadron 23 at the Brunswick Naval Air station decided not to get homesick for Maine when they left for three weeks' assignment in Puerto Rico. They carted along a Maine snowman in the bomb bay of a Neptune patrol bomber.
