

Gold Hill Woman Honored

Gold Hill—Mrs. Nina Dusenberry, well known Gold Hill resident, was honored on her 72nd birthday anniversary Sunday, June 16, when members of her family held a reunion and picnic in the State Park near Gold Hill. The occasion was also in observance of Father's Day and to honor one of her grandsons, Kenneth Bailey, who left Tuesday, June 17, for Ft. Sill, Okla., where he will be on duty with the U.S. Army.

The young man had been visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Bailey for several weeks, following nearly two years in Alaska with the Army.

Mrs. Dusenberry, a long-time resident of this area, has been active in Gold Hill Community Methodist church for many years. She has also worked in the Gold Hill Grange for several years.

All of her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren were present for the occasion last Sunday. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Smith and son, Delmer; Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Bailey and Kenneth Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Thebert Wright and children, Sharon, Beverly, Marlene and Donnie, all of Gold Hill. Attending from Medford were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dusenberry, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith and son. Here from Grants Pass for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Martin and daughters, Donna Martin and Georgia May Clark. Those from Central Point were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hanscom and children, Connie and Ronnie, and Mr. and Mrs. George Evans and sons, Gary and Larry and Stevie, all of Central Point.

Kit on Market

New York—(UPI)—Now on the market are do-it-yourself kits for sealing snapshots and credentials in transparent plastic.

The kits consist of matching sheets of acetate. One sheet is coated with adhesive to hold the photo or card. An uncoated sheet is placed over the face of the photo and pressed down. The kits eliminate more costly methods of laminating.

A dinner at Rogue Valley Country club preceded the program for the reunion of the Medford High school class of 1943, held June 14. Pictured here at the buffet table (at right) Dr. Thomas Anderson, Medford, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. John W. Burdell and Dr. Burdell, who came from Lebanon for the reunion. About 145 were present for the reunion. (Knackstedt photo)

Roman Miscellany

By MARGARET SCHULER

Rome—A few days ago a man here in Rome threw a coin into the Trevi Fountain. This bit of information might pass unnoticed but for the fact that the man was Jule Styne and Jule Styne is the composer of the popular song, "Three Coins in a Fountain." What really makes it interesting is that he had never before seen the fountain.

CinaCitta—Cinema City, is Rome's Hollywood. Much American activity is taking place out there—two important films are being made. The one—Ben Hur, attracts all the colossal, stupendous adjectives in the book. MGM is spending $18 million which they say is more money than any other film has ever cost. This sort of thing mounts up expenses—85 valuable horses, imported from Yugoslavia, which must be housed, fed and cared for over a period of several months; an exact replica of the Circus Maximus of Jerusalem being built at CinaCitta; also an artificial lake for the naval battle. The actual filming was started on the 20th of May, and now the director is working on the famous chariot race of the great epic. This alone will take six weeks.

Briton's Christopher Frye is doing part of the script work. Charles Heston is playing Ben Hur, and a girl from Israel (chosen from innumerable applicants) has the feminine lead. Her name is Haeja Hareet. The filming will take until December.

The other big American picture being produced here is "The Nun's Story." Audrey Hepburn plays the lead in this one. Last Saturday she entertained the entire cast of 200 at a party.

Perry Como has a television show in Rome. It is disappointing, however, as it is old films and doesn't do the popular, handsome singer justice. Italian television is good, ordinarily, and one appreciates the handling of advertising. It is two minutes at the beginning of a show—that, and no more.

Toast Substitutes

Instead of the usual toast triangles, serve creamed foods on toasted English muffins, chow mein noodles, pastry shells, baked potatoes, rice, crisp crackers, spaghetti or noodle nests.

Try whipped cottage cheese, orange juice and grated orange rind, sour cream and jellied cranberry sauce or cream cheese with chopped pineapple and maraschino cherries to top fruit salads.

Every day, to Rome, come the great, the near great, the illustrious, the near illustrious—saints and sinners and American movie luminaries. Many of these people stay at the Excelsior hotel. The Excelsior is on the Via Veneto Rome's Fifth Avenue and its most scintillating street. In order to go in or out of the hotel, these news makers must do it on the Via Veneto, and to stroll on the Via Veneto (a popular outdoor diversion with hoi polloi and celebrities alike), they must pass the outdoor coffee tables at Doney's. So, if you are a fan of public idols, you may see them daily, for the price of a cup of coffee.

91st Birthday Is Celebrated By George Haff

Gold Hill—George Haff, well known Gold Hill man, celebrated his 91st birthday anniversary, June 14. He was honored at a dinner and party Friday evening given in the home of his step-son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson at 960 Second avenue, in Gold Hill. The occasion was also in observance of Mr. Thompson's birthday on June 12. Others attending the dinner were Miss Jenny Lou Thompson and Miss Veriva Beman.

Later in the evening the Thompsons and their guests were joined by Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Force, Miss Judy Force, Dave and Jack Force. For the occasion Mrs. Thompson served a decorated birthday cake and refreshments.

Mr. Haff was born in Colorado. He has been a resident of Gold Hill since 1895, and recalls many events of the "gold rush and saloon" days.

Until his retirement, he was engaged in the mining profession most of his life. Mr. Haff has earned his own way since he was 14 years old. On his 14th birthday, his mother died, and on that same night President Garfield was assassinated.

Following his mother's death he supported himself by working in the kitchens of several different hotels. During those years he learned to be a chef. George, as everyone calls him, is well known in southern Oregon for his famous "old fashioned sour dough biscuits," and also among members of the Odd Fellows lodges in the valley he is known for his oyster stews which he has prepared on innumerable occasions. Cooking and writing poetry are two of his hobbies.

Mr. Haff has been an active member of the Gold Hill Odd Fellows and Amethyst Rebekah lodges for over 50 years.

Mr. Haff is a direct descendant of John and Priscilla Alden. His mother's maiden name was Alden.

Medford Woman Honored By Oregon Garden Club

Mrs. A. O. Floyd, Medford, president of the Oregon State Federation of Garden clubs, was honored by the group during the 31st annual convention in Eugene last week. A bench, to be placed in the foyer of the national permanent home in St. Louis, was purchased by the membership of the Federation, in honor of Mrs. Floyd. This national permanent home, long a dream of the National Council of State Garden clubs, will be formally dedicated during the convention of the council there in May 1959.

Receiving recognition during this state convention was the Central Point Garden club with first award for the mimeographed division of the yearbook contest; the Medford

Garden club and Ashland Garden club received first and second award in the printed division of the yearbook contest. The Medford club also received first award for the best bird scrapbook.

Mrs. R. T. Nichol, Medford, was installed as director of Siskiyou district, during the banquet Wednesday evening. Carl Starker, Jennings Lodge, Ore., an arranger well-known throughout the United States and a horticulturist, was given the major horticulture award of the Federation.

Among those participating from this area were Mrs. Floyd, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. E. G. Taylor, Talent, recording secretary of the state federation; Miss Claire Hanley, Jacksonville, past president and scholarship chairman; Mrs. C. W. Anhorn, Central Point, Newsletter chairman; Mrs. Clarence Mathes, Ashland, yearbook chairman; Mrs. Ira Fitzgerald, Medford, outgoing director of Siskiyou district, and the presidents and delegates of the various clubs.

Sunshine Girls Hold Initiation

The Pythian Sunshine Girls will meet Thursday, June 26, at 7 p.m. at the Pythian building. Following the meeting a wiener roast will be held at the home of Miss Barbara Kadin, 601 West Jackson street.

Six new members were initiated at the meeting held June 12 at the Pythian hall. They included Miss Gail Stone, Miss Mary Ann Cherrier, Miss Mary Carol Copeland, Miss Donna Copeland, Miss Evelyn Potter, and Miss Marcia Potter.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by Miss Janice Chalkler and Miss Layle Bostwick.
