

Camp White Man Nominated for Institute Member

Camp White—Burton R. Sims, engineer officer, who has been responsible for construction and maintenance during the rebuilding of Camp White, a V.A. domiciliary station, has been nominated as a member of the engineering institute of the American Academy of Medical Administrators, according to notice received from Lynn R. Park. Sims has been with the Veterans administration 12 years, having served as chief of maintenance and operations for the Northwest before coming here from Seattle. During World War II, he was resident engineer with the Army Engineers at Spokane. Before that he was in the forest service for 10 years as superintendent of construction.

This honor is conferred on those whose special qualifications in medical administration merit such recognition, the announcement states. The academy is an international professional society designed to encourage a scientific approach to medical administration.

Sims has carried out the program at Camp White of reconditioning the buildings and beautifying the grounds. In the spring of 1954, the old wood stove pipe line from the Eagle Point reservoir was replaced with steel and asbestos pipe to supply the needs of the domiciliary and the industrial community of White City. Last year, he handled the work of building Memorial field.

The maintenance work at Camp White covers guard fire protection and transportation systems.

WILL BENEFIT U.S.

Trenton, N. J. — (UPI) — Spanish American War veteran Alfred Houser of Clinton township will receive $10,838 to the U.S. government "in appreciation of all that the United States of America has done for me as a veteran."

OIL EXECUTIVE DIES

New York — (UPI) — Percy P. Perkins, 70, a retired executive of the Esso Standard Oil Co. died Monday. Perkins who joined Esso in 1910, became an assistant in the office of the president. He retired in 1952.

NEW STATION—A new Standard Oil company service station opened recently at Jackson and Hawthorne sts. by John Mansfield, 1615 Crater Lake ave. Mansfield said the station is one of the most modern in southern Oregon, and has facilities to serve all types of cars.

Standard Station Opens at Jackson, Hawthorne Streets

John Mansfield, 1615 Crater Lake ave., has opened a Standard Service station at Hawthorne and Jackson sts., which he says is one of the most modern in southern Oregon.

Considered one of the outstanding features is a hoist adapted to all sizes of cars, including the smaller European sports models.

An oil furnace with ducts under the cement flooring of the station keeps both personnel and equipment warm.

Modern Pumps

Modern-type gasoline pumps can handle four cars at one time. These have automatic shut-off valves, but no cranks. New type buttons turn the gas meter numbers back.

Designed to keep the modern type of tires inflated at the most efficient riding levels are the air hoses attached near the pumps. These have built in super-sensitive gauges for accuracy, Mansfield said.

CANNON THEFT COSTLY

London — (UPI) — Peter Walter Wilmut, 22, and Thomas Reuben Love, 20, were fined $84 for stealing a 250-pound bronze cannon from the Royal Artillery museum. They sold the weapon for $28.

Festival Members Honored at Dinner

Ashland — This year's 24 scholarship holders at the Oregon Shakespearean Festival were honored Tuesday at a noon luncheon given by the Ashland Chamber of Commerce. The luncheon is designed to acquaint the new company members with the community and as an official welcome to the summer visitors from the businessmen of Ashland.

Scholarship holders are in acting, technical, and box office work at the Festival. Six of this season's winners are returnees, but 18 are in Ashland for their first Festival summer. Each of them was the personal guest of a Chamber of Commerce member at the noon event, held at the Plaza cafe.

As a part of the program, each of the guests introduced himself, described his part in the Festival work, and then introduced his luncheon host. Following the meeting it was "back to work" for the actors and staff, as rehearsals continue every afternoon and evening for this year's four plays. Special rehearsals and

ARTIST DIES

Philadelphia — (UPI) — George P. Fayko, 70, one-time artist with the now defunct Philadelphia Record, died Tuesday. He was credited with developing the technique of using burned matches to draw.

RETURNS—Leo E. Sohler, Ashland, newly elected president of the Medford chapter, National Office Managers' association, returned home Sunday after attending the annual conference of Area 13 of the association in Victoria, B.C. The area is made up of Canadian provinces and Idaho, Washington and Oregon. Sohler, office manager for Magnolia Lumber company, Ashland, lives at 505 Fairview st., Ashland. The Medford chapter, now in its seventh year, has 22 members.

HORN BROOK Truck Damages Station

By KATHERINE CHAPMAN
Hornbrook — An estimated $1,500 worth of damage was done to the California State Quarantine Station here about 1:30 a.m. Sunday, when the air brakes on a PMT truck failed, and the truck rolled backwards hitting the south end of the building.

The driver of the double-trailer-type truck had parked his rig on the driveway about 50 feet from the station, and had checked his load with the inspector on duty. He was returning to his truck when the brakes released and the truck began to roll. He leaped into the cab, but did not have time to get complete control before the 75,000-pound truck slammed backwards into the building, hitting the support between the two truck exits. The timber was shattered, and parts of the steel and concrete torn loose, but the support remained upright.

The crew of the local quarantine station held their annual picnic Saturday evening at Lithia park in Ashland. Attending the picnic were Senior Inspector and Mrs. Frank Henley, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Jeter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Collier and Tommy, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hamner, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Saul Friedman and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Farmer and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Willingham.

Thomas Click, of Ashland, a student at Oregon State college at Corvallis, is employed for the summer as a temporary inspector at the quarantine station. Tom is a stepson of Earle M. Swift, who retired May 31 as supervisor of the northern border stations of the bureau of plant quarantine. This is his second summer on the job here.

Miss Anna Richling left by plane from Medford Friday to return to her home at Omaha, Neb., after spending two weeks here as a houseguest of the Harry Chapman's. Miss Richling and Mrs. Chapman worked together in the same office in Omaha, and have been friends for the past 27 years. This was the first time the two had seen each other for 12 years.

The Vacation Bible school of the Hornbrook Bible church will continue through this week, with closing exercises scheduled for Friday evening, June 27. When the youngsters come for Friday morning for classes, they are to bring a picnic lunch, and that afternoon will have a picnic and games.

Teachers at the school this summer, both of whom are members of the Student Missionary Council, are Miss Wilma Fink of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, and Miss Doris Stuki from a music Bible school near Chicago.

Week end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bear and sons, Steve, Leonard and Ermin, were their daughter, Mrs. Robert Vandehey, of Brooks, Ore., a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bear of Corvallis, Ore., and friends, Mr. and Mrs. William Nicol and daughters, Gale and Carol, of Seattle, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cummins and son, Raymond Moffett, and daughter, Shirley Moffett, visited in Dunsuir, Calif., Saturday with Mrs. Cummins' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spearin. Mr. and Mrs. Cummins attended the dedication of the new Dunsuir post office.

Charles Spearin became a great grandfather for the first time when a son was born Saturday June 21 at the McCloud, Calif., hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Patton of Dunsuir. Mrs. Patton is the granddaughter of Charles Spearin, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spearin of Dunsuir.

Ray Osborne and son, Maurice, flew their plane in from Coos Bay and arrived at the Siskiyou airport at Montague on Saturday. They spent the week end at the home of Osborne's niece, Mrs. Ed Mason, and left from the Siskiyou airport Monday afternoon to fly to Burns.

Mrs. Anna Coppin, accompanied by her grandson, Richie Mendonaca, of San Francisco, arrived last week for what was to have been Mrs. Coppin's yearly summer stay at her home in Hornbrook. However, she was taken ill early

SOC Science Teacher Attends Conference

Ashland — Miss Irene Hollenbeck, associate professor of science at Southern Oregon college and national president of the National Association of Biology Teachers, recently attended the Pacific division meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Miss Hollenbeck is teaching this summer at the University of Colorado, but she will return to Southern Oregon college this fall to resume her teaching duties.

Dr. Stevenson Returns From Science Meeting

Ashland — Dr. Elmo Stevenson, president of Southern Oregon college, recently returned from a meeting of the Pacific division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The conclave was held at Utah State university in Logan, Utah.

Dr. Stevenson, who holds a master's degree in social biology and a doctorate in biological science education from Stanford university, spoke to the National Association of Biology Teachers during the conference. Dr. Stevenson's topic was "The Part of the Administrator in Making a Good Biology Program at the Community Level."
