

Aaron, Williams in Stride To Spark Sunday Victories

By FRED DOWNS
United Press International
It was fun while it lasted, but the honeymoon is over for the pitchers who've been making Hank Aaron and Ted Williams out to be 250-hitters.

Aaron, the National League's most valuable player in 1957, owns a whopping .733 average for his last three games and has boosted his season mark to .282. And Williams, who won the American League batting title with a .388 mark last season, has raised his current average to an even .300.

Aaron smashed four hits, including a grand slam homer, and knocked in five runs as the Milwaukee Braves beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 10-6, Sunday, while Williams hit a three-run homer and a single to help the Boston Red Sox down the Detroit Tigers, 10-7.

The Braves' victory increased their first-place margin over the St. Louis Cardinals to 2½ games and the Red Sox' win moved them past the Tigers into third place in the American league.

Aaron's grand slam in the sixth inning, following singles by Bob Rush and Red Schoendienst and a walk to Eddie Mathews, turned out to be the Braves' victory margin in the late innings. Rush went eight innings to gain credit for his sixth victory, while Stan Williams, kayoed in the third, suffered his second defeat. Charlie Neal hit two homers and Carl Furillo and Dick Gray one each for Los Angeles.

Williams lofted a towering drive off the roof of the third deck of Briggs Stadium in the eighth inning to make the Red Sox' margin, 10-6. The Tigers knocked out Frank Sullivan in the last of the ninth but Mike Rorhagen came in to halt the rally. Jackie Jensen hit his 23rd homer and Gene Stephens also homered for the Red Sox.

The Philadelphia Phillies scored a 5-4, 13-inning decision over the Cardinals and were rallying in the eighth inning of the nightcap when the Pennsylvania curfew law suspended the game with the Redbirds ahead, 4-3. The San Francisco Giants beat the Cincinnati Reds, 2-0, and the Chicago Cubs won, 8-3, after losing to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2, in the other N.L. games.

A's Wallop Yanks
In the other AL games, the Kansas City A's walloped the New York Yankees, 12-4, the Baltimore Orioles swept the Cleveland Indians, 11-6 and 5-2, and the Chicago White Sox came back from a 12-0 debacle to split with the Washington Senators, 12-11, in 11 innings.

Harry Anderson doubled home the winning run for the Phillies in the opener to give Jack Meyer his first victory since Aug. 10, 1956. The Phillies had one run in, runners on first and third and none out in the eighth when the second game was suspended. It will be resumed from that point on the Cardinals' next trip east.

Willie Mays hit two doubles, one his first extra base hit in 78 at bats and the other driving in his first run since June 7, for the Giants who got four-hit pitching from Al Worthington and Johnny Antonelli. Don Newcombe yielded both San Francisco runs and lost his second game in three decisions with the Redlegs. His overall season record is 1-8.

Dale Long drove in four runs and Lee Walls knocked in two in the Cubs' victory after Gene Baker's pinch double in the sixth inning of their opener gave the Pirates their margin of victory. Roy Face won the opener for Pittsburgh and John Briggs the second game for Chicago.

The Athletics spotted the Yankees a 5-0 lead and then buckered six pitchers for 15 hits, including homers by Roger Maris and Hector Lopez, to cut New York's AL lead to 8½ games. The Athletics started their assault against 11-game winner Bob Turley and wound it up by scoring four runs in two innings off relief ace Ryne Duren.

The Orioles reduced Joe Gordon from a 1,000-manager to a 500-pitcher by garnering 13 hits and nine walks in the first game and then getting a four-hit pitching performance from Arnold Portocarrero. Bob Boyd had five straight hits for the Orioles in the opener and had two singles in four tries in the second game.

Jim Rivera's 11th-inning double earned the White Sox a split after Pedro Ramos pitched a five-hitter for Washington. Jim Lemon knocked in five runs in the first game and four in the second game.

Pepsi Links Title Won By Palmer

By OSCAR FRALEY
East Norwich, N.Y.—(UPI)—Brawny Arnold Palmer, with the $9,000 first money in the Pepsi golf championship fattening his year's fairway winnings to $37,564, headed for defense of his Rubber City open title today with a putting stroke learned one week too late.

The Masters champion from Latrobe, Pa., scored a five-shot victory over lean Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., in the Pepsi with a final-round par 71 for an 11-under-par, four-round total of 273.

Almost as happy as the winner was the slender Hebert. The Sanford, Fla., pro, a native of Louisiana, long has been hailed as a potential big winner but his $4,600 second place money — on a final-round, three-under-par 68 for 278 — was the biggest payoff of his career.

Snead-Kroll Tie
Another shot away came Don Fairfield, the human one iron from Casey, Ill., whose closing 70 for 279 earned $3,000. It was the most he'd ever carried off, too.

Tough Foe Today for Yank Netter
Wimbledon, England—(UPI)—Lanky Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, figured to win a quarter-final berth in men's singles in the Wimbledon tennis championships today but the odds were stacked against the only other surviving American, Budge Patty and Gardner Mulloy.

MacKay, who was seeded eighth as the only Yank to get a nod from the tourney officials, faced a dangerous and experienced foe in Indian Davis Cupper Ramanathan Krishnan but was expected to win.

Patty and Mulloy, however, faced seeded stars in their efforts to add one more day of glory to their long careers. The 34-year-old Patty, of Los Angeles and Paris, who won the title here in 1950, clashed with seventh-ranked Sven Davidson, a former U.S. indoor champion; the 44-year-old Mulloy of Denver, Colo., met third-seeded Australia southpaw Mervyn Rose.

Also making a bid for a quarter-final berth today in women's singles was 40-year-old Margaret Osborne DuPont of Wilmington, Del., 1947 Wimbledon champion, who met Fay Muller of Australia. The only other U.S. women still "alive" in singles were defending champion Althea Gibson of New York and unseeded Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, Calif., both of whom already have reached the quarter-finals.

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho—(UPI)—Bill Stead got Mave-rick off to a flying start and held his lead through ten exciting laps Sunday to win the first annual Diamond Cup unlimited hydroplane race on Lake Coeur d'Alene.

Thriftyway Too was second in the race; Miss Spokane, third, and the point total leader going into the final heat, Miss U.S. I, finished a distant fourth.

Holt Loses Post As Spokane Pilot; But Indians Split

Vancouver, B.C.—(UPI)—Bobby Bragan, released last week as manager of the Cleveland Indians, was hired as manager of the Spokane Indians of the Pacific Coast league today to replace Goldie Holt, who was fired Sunday night.

By SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press International
As Jimmy Dykes once said, "the only thing a manager can be sure of is that he'll get fired."

And it happened to Goldie Holt of the Spokane Indians Sunday as his Tribe split a twin bill with Phoenix which kept the Giants from nudging Vancouver out of first place in the PCL chase.

Phoenix downed Spokane, 8-5, in the first game and then President Dick Walsh of the Indians passed on the word that Holt was finished after the doubleheader. Spokane won the nightcap, 9-7, in an ironic windup to Holt's brief career with the seventh-place club.
