But he added that "I have followed certain principles with regard to the economy, with regard to our responsibility internationally throughout those 11 years." "So far as the 'new Nixon' is concerned," he continued, "I might suggest that it's very possible that many of those who are finding the new 'new Nixon' may not have known the old one."

Washington—(UPI)—The Democratic party magazine says Vice President Richard M. Nixon is expected to stage a "super colossal political spectacular" with he campaigns for California Republican candidates this fall.

But the magazine, the Democratic Digest, suggested that Nixon will suffer no matter how the elections turn out.

An article in the July Digest said the California campaign "imposes a greater test upon the cunning, dexterity and histrionic ability of President Eisenhower's heir apparent" than ever before.

It said both Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland, nominee for governor, and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, nominee for senator, apparently would have been stronger candidates if they had merely sought reelection.

"The man who needs help the most is Knowland, who is running on a flagrantly reactionary, anti-labor program," the Digest said. "If Nixon campaigns for Knowland, he will seem to put himself in the old guard camp of the GOP.

"But Nixon has been working for years to gain coloration as an internationalist and economic moderate to win support from the Dewey wing of the party. How can he keep this camouflage suit on and still work for Knowland..."

Nixon himself, appearing on a filmed television program, was asked by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.)

Every American Owes $1,540 As Share of United States Debt

New York—(UPI)—The average American makes an annual salary of between $5,000 and $7,000 a year and has around $1,570 in cash savings. However, he also is $2,900 in hoc.

Some people owe more money than others, but the fact is that every single American, including every baby born today, is in debt to some extent.

The total public and private debt in the U.S. at the end of 1957 amounted to almost $726 billion, an increase of $26 billion over 1956.

Broken down further, the total private debt, including mortgages and installment debt, came to a whopping $435 billion, an increase of $23 billion over 1956. The public debt at $271 billion was $3 billion greater than the previous year.

Despite what many people might believe, the public debt is something that is going to have to be paid off someday. It represents money that the government has borrowed to finance its operations—money borrowed mainly from individuals.

Figuring a population of 170 million, the public debt alone works out to around $1,540 for every man, woman and child in the nation. That is what you personally owe.

The private debt, of course, also includes the $217 billion that corporations owe. The private debt has risen at a much faster pace than the public debt, climbing from $250,900,000,000 in 1950 to $455 billion in 1957.

Individual and non-corporate borrowers increased their debt by $1,440,000,000 last year, while the corporate debt rose only $8,600,000,000. Both increases were smaller than in 1956.

The corporate debt affects consumers. A company must pay the principal and interest on its loan, and this is figured as a cost of doing business which is reflected in the
