

Valuable Cufflinks Sold at Bargain

North Little Rock, Ark. — (UPI) — Mrs. Dutch H. O'Neal bought a pair of cufflinks that were really a bargain. Last October a houseboy in the O'Neal home admitted stealing the cufflinks, but said he forgot where he pawned them. They were worth about $2,500.

Tuesday, a pawnbroker charged Mrs. O'Neal $2.50 for the links.

Police, who had accompanied the woman on a round of local pawnshops, explained the true value to the wide-eyed shopkeeper. "You shouldn't feel too badly though," Chief of Police Ray Wick told the pawnbroker. "You made 50 cents on the deal."

Jobless Pay Benefit Provisions Accepted In Two Categories

Salem — (UPI) — The State Unemployment Compensation Commission said it has accepted two of the three programs for extension of unemployment compensation benefits provided for by recent congressional action.

About 1,500 veterans and former federal employees who have exhausted their unemployment compensation benefits since June 30, 1957 will be eligible to draw extended benefits after July 13 if they are still unemployed and do not have benefit rights under any other compensation plan. No Other Plans

Commission Chairman Mrs. Cecelia P. Galey said the Commission had no plans at this time to extend payment of benefits to other than those in the veteran and federal employee programs.

Under the Oregon laws, a new benefit year starts July 1 and workers who have worked enough in 1957 to earn minimum wage credits and who are now unemployed will be able to draw benefits from the Oregon fund.

This will help many of those who have exhausted their 1958 benefits, Mrs. Galey said. The commissioner said that if Congress had provided grants for payment of the cost of all three programs the state would have adopted them all without hesitation. Not Permanently Rejected

Gov. Robert D. Holmes after studying the commission plan said: "This does not mean we have permanently rejected the possibility of borrowing federal funds for an extension at a later date."

The governor said the state could enter into the program any time before April 1, 1959 and, that with employment in a seasonal upswing, now was not the "most opportune" time to provide additional benefits for all.

The two programs entered into are financed by federal grants.

Holmes Appoints Women To Jobs

Salem — (UPI) — Gov. Robert D. Holmes has appointed 78 women to state and county offices since he took office in January, 1957.

This was revealed today in a list compiled at the request of the Republican national committee.

The women's division of the GOP committee asked the governor for the list to use in its 1958 edition of "Women in Public Service," a series of non-partisan surveys compiled by that division.

"I am proud to have had the honor to appoint many outstanding women to help Oregon," the governor said.

Some women appointed include Mrs. Cecelia P. Galey, chairman of the State Unemployment Compensation Commission; Mrs. Marguerite Berg, chairman of the Oregon State Fair Board; Miss Margaret Clarke, governor's research assistant; Mrs. Cheryl S. MacNaughton, State Board of Higher Education, and Mrs. Monroe Sweetland, Oregon Centennial Commission.

Prisoners Riot In Iowa Cellblock

Davenport, Iowa — (UPI) — Twenty-nine inmates rioted in the second-floor cellblock of the Scott county jail here Tuesday night, smashing windows, benches and lights, and flooding a sector of the jail.

The inmates rattled cell bars for about 45 minutes before they were quieted down and placed in solitary confinement.

Sheriff Pete Wildman said he did not know why the prisoners rioted. There had been no written complaints from the inmates, the sheriff said.

There were rumors the inmates were dissatisfied with food being served in the jail.

Barbers Ordered To Elevate Poles

Columbus, Ga. — (UPI) — The barbers in Columbus have their orders: Raise those candy-striped poles to at least 10 feet above the sidewalk.

This command came down Tuesday from the city commission, which had given audience to a man with a complaint.

Harold Rose, a bookkeeper, appeared before the governing body bearing evidence of a collision.

He was walking along Broadway reading a catalog, he explained, when his head banged into a low-hanging barber pole. Twelve stitches were required to repair the damage.

Hawaii Governor Urges Statehood

Honolulu — (UPI) — Gov. William Quinn of Hawaii said today the time has come "to pull all stops" in behalf of the fight for Hawaiian statehood.

"We have certainly waited long enough," he said. "The Alaskans have promised full support of Hawaii now. Hawaii, which is better qualified than Alaska, should be given full and proper treatment."

Pickin' Pears News and Notes From Camp White

By WILLIAM M. BLACK Jr.

Rehabilitation is the keynote of the "planned living" program at Camp White. Social Work Service is the threshold through which many members achieve the final step of returning to the outside community as self-supporting individuals despite handicaps and disabilities.

Robert E. Kelley, chief social work service, maintains a close liaison with medical, domiciliary, special services and other divisions within the camp and with outside agencies to assist men ready to rejoin "working" force of the community.

An example of the effective workings within social service is the experience and activity of one small group. This group, organized through Kelley's efforts as well as those of members of the domiciliary, was primarily concerned with pooling vocational experiences and rehabilitative efforts to aid each individual within the group.

One member was delegated to investigate the possibilities for some type specialized hand assembly or similar job opportunities for handicapped veterans. Through the efforts of this man, Clifford Hyde, Camp White members became associated with the Jackson County Committee to Employ the Physically Handicapped.

Now, many members of Camp White have pledged their financial support to the newly organized Handicapped Industries, Inc., and are endeavoring to make, as large a contribution as possible, of their time and talents because they feel that members of Camp White are part of the Jackson County community.

This opportunity to demonstrate their community spirit would not have been possible, or would have been longer delayed, had it not been for the investigation by members of a rehabilitation group sponsored by social work service and the medical section at the Camp White Domiciliary.

This is only one example of the many ways that social work service has aided in completing, or speeding up, the rehabilitation activities of management, members and personnel.

Acting Manager Banks I. Paul will be in Seattle on July 3 taking examinations for advancement to membership in the American College of Hospital Administrators, a hospital administrative group promoting the best hospital practices among administrators in this field.

Frank J. Glonning, chief, special services, combined a driving-vacation with business by visiting VA hospitals at Helena, Mont.; Fargo, N. D.; and Denver, Colo. to see former Camp White employees and to pick up data on their special services programs.

Glonning was recently elected chairman of the advisory board of the Rogue Valley Council on Aging. Glonning is also chairman of the executive board for the same group.

Acting Manager Banks I. Paul spoke briefly at the intergroup meeting of AA Sunday, June 29 when the Camp White group were hosts to Medford, Klamath Falls, and Grants Pass groups. The occasion was a special meeting to hear a report by "Lib" N. of Portland who was the Oregon delegate to the eighth annual service conference in New York City. Earl G. G., secretary for the Camp White group, was chairman for the intergroup meeting assisted by the secretaries of the other three AA groups that make up the eighth area of Alcoholics Anonymous of Oregon.

Special guests were Paul, John W. Sindors, Miss Enid A. Hofnes, Frank J. Glonning, R. E. Kelley and Chaplain and Mrs. Peery M. Johnson.

Chaplain Johnson also addressed the group and closed the meeting with the customary recitation of the Lord's Prayer.

The Readers and Writers Club of Camp White extend an invitation to anyone interested in writing fiction, fact articles or poetry to attend their regular Wednesday meetings at 1:30 p.m. Further information may be obtained by calling Miss Enid A. Holmes, chief librarian at Camp White, or Frank J. Glonning, chief, special services.

Frank Houlihan set a new record by scoring two holes-in-one on the Camp White pitch and putt golf course. The first HI-O was dropped into the cup on the number one green, Saturday, June 28. The second was made on the same green but on Sunday, June 29.

Bob Kearney also joined the ranks of hole-in-ones by scoring on Sunday, June 29.

It was a lucky break that Harry Chipman, president of the Rogue Valley League, was present at the baseball game between Camp White and Riddle on Sunday, June 29. Otherwise both teams would still be arguing whether the ball that bounced foul, after hitting third base and tied the score, was in play. After 15 minutes of wrangling between umpires and captains, Chipman was called down from the stands and ruled it "fair ball".

Chipman is telegraph editor for the Mail Tribune and nephew of Hilton Chipman, library assistant, at Camp White.

Stanley O. Sears, recreation leader in the arts and crafts section of special services, competed in the southern Oregon 30 caliber Rifle Tournament held recently. The tournament is the first such sponsored by the VFW and Medford pistol and rifle clubs. Sears' hobby is shooting and hand-loading of large caliber rifle shells. He holds a Marksman rating and is busy practicing to climb the shooting ladder to master rifleman.

Humble Kipper To Be Ike's Dinner

Aberdeen, Scotland — (UPI) — A humble but extremely tasty kipper is going to make his own little spot in international history this week.

The climax — and end — of this humble kipper's career will come when he is presented on a plate to President Eisenhower.

The herring was landed Tuesday at Peterhead, a fishing port 30 miles north of here. It was processed — kippered, that is and today it will be done up in a tin with seven other herrings.

The tin will be sent to President Eisenhower as a gift from Scotland by the firm of Crosse and Blackwell.

Space Age Gains Place With Youth

Warsaw, Ind. — (UPI) — Christianity is now officially a part of the space age, as far as teen-agers were concerned Tuesday.

The initiation took place at the 14th annual Youth for Christ convention at Winona Lake.

Tuesday night's session opened with a count down by the 300-voice teen choir and the launching of two rockets carrying banners which said "year two in the space age."

As the rockets climbed into the air, the teen chorus sang the opening song.
