Travel, Recreation Business Booming During Recession

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

New York—(UPI)—If you want to know why the thing we are in is called a recession and not a depression, just look at the billions being spent on vacations and travel.

In a real depression, faces hang way down, and people stay close to their homes, be they ever so humble.

They certainly aren't staying close to home this year and they haven't stopped playing.

This travel and recreation business may well run to $40 billion—about one-seventh of the total consumer spending for goods and services—says Prentice-Hall in its current "Report on Business."

The recreation business is so big that it branches into all phases of American industry—even to the durable goods lines.

Source of New Buying

Prentice-Hall advises adapting one's business, to this line as a vital source of new business.

Since it booms in recession periods, the travel and recreation markets are recession proof. Some of the lines have literally boomed.

Here's why these lines are recession proof: paid vacations are better paid and they're longer; retirement is coming at an earlier age; financial retirement incomes are improving; there's greater cultural interest in travel here and abroad.

Prentice-Hall makes some suggestions for business cashing in on this rich market.

It suggests pre-fabricated housing for bungalows, cabanas, guest and bath houses.

Firms could pinpoint a sales campaign for camping equipment to National Park sites.

To make travel easier, a wider range of lightweight, easy-to-carry and operate products will be needed. That holds true, P-H says, for no-ironing, wash-and-wear clothing lines and low-weight luggage.

Advice From Government

Even the U.S. government is getting in on the act. It has prepared a profile on the travel market, entitled "Your Community Can Profit From The Tourist Business," which is available from the superintendent of documents.

Waterfront activities rate highly in the recreational list—boating, water skiing, skin diving, and other sports such as hunting and fishing tied into the boat market.

Then, there's the boom in home swimming pools which Prentice-Hall estimates at $325 million in 1937 and will increase 80 to 90 per cent this year.

Construction will play a part in the growth of recreation.

Sis-Q Horse Club
Sunday, June 29, 12 members of the Sis-Q Horse club rode down the Neil creek canyon. The ride was started at the Vic Stewart's ranch on Neil creek. Everyone enjoyed the day, even though it was the roughest ride we have taken this year.

Hayburners 4-H Club
Members of the Hayburners 4-H Horse club participated in an overnight horseback ride on June 27 and 28. The group rode to Liv' Prairie on John's peak, north of Jacksonville, where they set up their overnight camp. Those making the trip were Marilyn and Marsha Watson, Linda and Clint Gibson, Sharon Forde, Linda Smith, Bonnie and Mary Cheney, Craig and Susan Wright, and Penney Sampert. The group was joined later by the leader, Mrs. Robert Fisher and her husband, Robert Fisher. All the members felt that a great deal of camping experience was gained from this trip.

FEAST OR FAMINE
Boston—(UPI)—It's either feast or famine for Baltimore's Billy Loes. Loes lost seven straight games without a victory this season. He scored his first victory on July 1 and promptly notched his second Thursday when he blanked Boston over the last 5 2/3 innings in a 15-inning 7-5 triumph by Baltimore.

Panel to Discuss Polio on Television

"The Great Crippler" will be discussed by a panel of local physicians on the Jackson County Tuberculosis and Health association show Saturday at 5:30 p.m. over station KBES-TV.

Saturday's panel, composed of Dr. A. Erin Merkel, head of the Jackson county health department, and Drs. Laurel Case and Robert Reichers, also will answer questions concerning polio and the Salk vaccine which are telephoned to the station during the program.

Harry Chipman, former chairman of the local chapter of the Polio Foundation, will be a special guest on the show.

Today, the association points out, fewer than 60 per cent of the children in the United States under 5 years old have ever received a single shot for protection against polio. Persons in the 20 to 40 age group are still largely unprotected. Because of facts such as these, they noted, polio remains a continual threat to the health of the nation.

Children Urged to Get Examinations

Salem—The state board of health Wednesday urged that complete physical and dental examinations be obtained "as soon as possible" for all children entering school for the first time this fall. The announcement said Oregon school authorities require records of such examinations at the time of each child's first registration.

Early examinations are necessary to allow time to complete immunization schedules and any corrective work which is indicated, according to Dr. Harold M. Erickson, state health officer.

Parents also were reminded that many school districts require copies of birth certificates for all new admissions.

Pickets Reduced At Dalles Plant

The Dalles—(UPI)—Circuit Judge Malcolm Wilkinson has ruled that he can see no legal justification for prohibiting all picketing at the Harvey Aluminum plant here.

He did, however, reduce allowable pickets from five to two and followed the suggestion of a union official to prohibit pickets from patrolling in front of cars entering or leaving the plant during shift changes.

The General Engineering company, contractors for the completion of the aluminum reduction plant here, had secured a temporary injunction May 22 prohibiting mass picketing, intimidation, and coercion.

The company sought modification of the May 22 order to prohibit picketing of any kind. The request was based on incidents at the plant entrance in June.

The plant was picketed after non-union workers were hired.

ENJOY DAY OFF
Los Angeles—(UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers for the first time in their recollection had a day off on July 4th, traditionally one of baseball's big days. The Dodgers played a double header Thursday night with the Cardinals and had today off because their home grounds, Memorial Coliseum, annually is the scene of a fireworks display sponsored by the American Legion and the baseball club agreed to give up the date.

Forester Clubs Camp Out at Lake

Phoenix, Ashland and Elk-Trail 4-H foresters participated in a forestry overnight campout Monday and Tuesday at Lake of the Woods, Glenn Klein, county extension agent, reported.

Activities included training in tree and shrub identification, pacing, and fire building and extinguishing. Inter-club competition found each club taking one first place.

The Phoenix Forestry club placed first in pacing, the Elk-Trail club was first in tree and shrub identification, and the Sis-Q club, Ashland, earned first in the fire building and extinguishing. Top club for the three categories, according to Klein, was the Elk-Trail Forestry Squads.

Assisting with the identification contest were Carl Skyrman, Oregon State college forestry student, and Mrs. John Bohnert, Central Point.

Leaders of the participating clubs were Mrs. Oscar Hanson and Mrs. Morris Bush, both of Elk-Trail; Mrs. Robert Rosenbaum and Mrs. H. B. Chapman, both of Ashland, and Lawson Scott Jr., Phoenix.

Drivers Licenses Suspended Listed

Salem—The department of motor vehicles has released names of 373 drivers whose licenses were ordered suspended during the period beginning June 22 and ending June 27.

Length of suspension varies, depending on charges involved, recommendation of court, discretionary action by the department or requirements of Oregon law. The department said some of the licenses involving financial responsibility and court recommendations may have been reinstated after suspension was ordered.

The department warned drivers that the penalty for driving while suspended is a jail sentence of no less than two days and up to six months, and there may be imposed a fine up to $500. Under licensing procedures, this will also result in an additional year of suspension.

Those suspended in Jackson county were:
