MIDNIGHT INTRIGUE — Industrialist Bernard Goldfine, clad in pajamas and robe, meets newsmen in his Washington hotel room after scheduled midnight press conference was delayed on grounds that a hidden microphone had been found behind the door of an adjoining room. Standing beside Goldfine is Jack Lotto, newly-hired press aide to Goldfine attorney Roger Robb.

Midget Chickens Studied at OSC — Corvallis — Midget chickens that produce normal size eggs — yet require less space and do the job with less feed — are under study by Oregon State college poultry scientists. Paul E. Bernier, poultry geneticist, has a collection of six true dwarf laying hens, little more than half the size of normal hens, that have matched the rest of the OSC flock — egg for egg — during the past year. Not only have the diminutive birds shown that it doesn't take a "big hen to lay a big egg," but they can maintain their egg production on 35 per cent less feed, estimates George H. Arscott, poultry nutritionist. Livestock are processed and packed in more than 380 meat plants in Illinois.

Obituaries

EARL L. SANDS
Earl L. Sands, 68, of 2092 Scenic ave., Central Point, died yesterday at his home. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Conger-Morris, funeral directors.

CARL ADKINS
Funeral services for Carl Adkins, 55, who died Saturday at the Veterans Administration Domiciliary, Camp White, will be held at the Camp White Chapel at 9 a.m. Friday. The Rev. Lawrence Eskay will officiate. Committal will be in the Camp White cemetery with Perl Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Adkins was born February 27, 1903, in Springfield, Ohio, and was a peace time veteran and served with the Army from March 30, 1920, to March 29, 1923, and at which time he was a private in battery D of the 76th field artillery, and served from May 2, 1923, to May 13, 1924, and was a private with company B of the 15th infantry.

Mr. Adkins entered Camp White on May 10, 1956. He is survived by one daughter, Evelyn Crittenden, of Pedro Valley, Calif.

MRS. CELIA SHEARIN
Funeral services for Mrs. Celia Shearin, 91, of 2414 Starlite lane, Medford, who died in the Jackson County Farm home Friday, will be held at Perl Funeral home Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. Walter Morris of the Nazarene church will officiate.

Mrs. Shearin was born in Galveston, Ind., Nov. 2, 1866, and had been a resident of this area for the past 35 years. Mrs. Shearin graduated from nursing in Ohio and received her doctor's degree from a medical college in Indiana. After several years of practice, she retired and married J. Y. Shearin. Mr. and Mrs. Shearin came to the Rogue valley in 1923, where they built the first service station on Crater Lake highway between Medford and Prospect where they were in business for 18 years, after which they sold their business and moved to Phoenix.

Mr. Shearin died in 1947. She is survived by one stepson, T. J. Shearin, of Hornbrook, Calif. Burial will be in the Siskiyou Memorial park.

ARTHUR TOMLIN
Arthur Tomlin, 76, a resident of Atwater, Calif., died at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Dye, Eagle Point, this morning. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Perl Funeral home.

Four Areas Complete Bangs Disease Tests

Salem — Four counties completed brucellosis testing requirements for certification in May and two counties were recertified as modified brucellosis-free areas, according to the monthly report from the federal and state veterinarians' offices in Salem. Testing was completed in Union, Grant, Benton and Deschutes counties, according to Dr. K. J. Peterson, state veterinarian with Oregon's department of agriculture. Multnomah and Washington were the two counties re-certified in May.

Poultry Exhibit Predicted Large For State Fair

Salem — Advance inquiries indicate the largest poultry, pigeon and rabbit show in the history of the Oregon State fair, according to Kenneth Jennings, superintendent of the poultry division.

Approximately $4,250 will be awarded for premiums. This year's show will not be split and all poultry, pigeon and rabbit entries will be shown for the full 10 days of the fair. To accommodate the large number of expected entries the machinery exhibit sheds will be used for rabbits and pigeons. Poultry will continue to be shown in the Poultry building.

In the poultry division, there will be classes for American breeds, Asiatic, English, Polish, Hamburg, French, Continental, Oriental and Guinea. There will also be a division for games and game bantams and ornamental bantams.

Special Awards
Special ribbon and bronze medal awards will be made by the American Poultry association for the champion fowls in each division. The premium books list 117 breeds of pigeons for which awards will be made, including 19 varieties of tumbler pigeons and 5 varieties of homers.

A feature of the pigeon show will be the release of a number of homing pigeons every day in front of the pigeon exhibit.

Jennings is trying to arrange with one of the hatcheries for an exhibit showing continuous hatching of baby chicks. This was done last year for the first time and proved one of the most interesting features of the fair. All day long, crowds watched baby chicks peck their way out of their shells. A similar exhibit in the American pavilion at the Brussels World fair is reported to be one of the most popular attractions at the fair.

Railroad Shares Reach New Highs

New York — (UPI) — Railroad shares rose to new highs for 1958 in a moderately active stock market session today while industrials and utilities receded.

Thanks to special strength in Atlantic Coast Line and Louisville & Nashville, the rail average crossed its previous top for the year and went on considerable distance.

DOW-JONES AVERAGES

New York — (UPI) — Dow-Jones final stock averages: 30 industrials 480.00, off 1.85; 20 railroads 119.75, up 0.22; 15 utilities 79.57, off 0.13, and 65 stocks 165.74, off 0.38. Sales today were about 2,430,000 shares compared with 2,510,000 shares Monday.

The dip in industrials reflected easier steel issues, a decline running to a point in the chemicals and irregularity in the oils. Motors did little more than hold their own.

Lorillard was strong in the tobaccos. The issue ranged between 67 1/2 and 69, the latter up 1 1/4 points. Other tobaccos were irregular.

Oil issues moved irregularly in a narrow area. Today's prices on selected stocks:
