Gunman Found To Be Woman

Los Angeles—(UPI)—Police arrested what they thought was a gruff, tough-talking gunman Wednesday after a Western Union office was robbed of $30.

When they got to the station, though, they found the suspect was not a menacing gunman but a woman, her hair cut man style, and attired in tan trousers, white shirt and sports jacket.

The dark-haired suspect was identified as Barbara May Wickser, 23, Laguna Beach, Calif. She revealed she was a woman after arriving at the police station.

"She sure fooled me," said Sgt. W. C. Morrell, who took the young woman into custody a block away from the Western Union office. I thought she was really a man.

So did Mrs. Barbara Johnson, 25, clerk at the Western Union office who handed over the money, and Lee Richmond, 40, who grabbed the suspect but let go when she threatened to shoot him.

Police said Miss Wickser had a record for robbery and narcotic violations.
