

Ashland Girl Wins UN Tour

Miss Jane Yaple, Ashland, left Medford Wednesday for Portland and New York City as representative to the annual United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth. The pilgrimage is a project of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges, and Miss Yaple's sponsors are the lodges of Ashland, Medford, Central Point, Jacksonville, Gold Hill, Grants Pass and Kerby.

Jane Yaple

It is expected that about 700 young people from all parts of the United States will take part in the pilgrimage. To accommodate this large number, the pilgrimage was divided into seven periods of six days each. Miss Yaple, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Yaple, Elkader, will participate in the sixth period.

According to Ellsworth Robinson, Central Point, local pilgrimage chairman, this is the ninth consecutive year for the project.

In Portland Miss Yaple took part in a television show with 13 other district winners in Oregon before departing for New York. In Spokane the Oregon delegation met with others from Washington, Idaho and British Columbia. The trip is being made by chartered bus.

Delegates will see councils and commissions of the UN in action at the permanent headquarters. They will see graphic presentations of the work being done by some of the specialized agencies, such as the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, the Food and Agriculture Organization, the International Labor Office, and the World Health Organization, and will attend some of the council meetings and hear the discussions. Visitors may use earphones and hear trans-

Parties Honor Miss Sally Ross; Rites Saturday

Miss Sally Ann Ross, whose wedding to Neil Plumley is set for Saturday, July 12, has been honored at many parties. Miss Ross is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ross, 424 Windsor avenue. The wedding will take place at 3 o'clock at First Presbyterian church.

First of the parties was a pizza dinner and surprise kitchen shower given by Miss Patricia Donahue at her home on 1687 Spring st.

Miss Jane Barker gave a swimming party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Barker, 2430 Hillcrest rd., June 26. The bride-elect was presented a shower of linen for her new home. Another swimming party which honored the bride-to-be was given by Miss Meredith Huggins at the Huggins' new home on Coal Mine rd., July 8, and the following day Miss Gail Bender honored Miss Ross with a bridal luncheon. It was held at Rogue Valley Country club.

Tonight following the wedding rehearsal the Rosses will give a dinner at their home for the members of the wedding party and the bridegroom's parents.

Summer Theater Produces Drama

Redding, Calif.—The Tennessee Williams' drama, "A Streetcar Named Desire," is being produced this week by the Bridge Bay summer stock theater at Lake Shasta. Performances are scheduled for tonight, Saturday and Sunday, with two shows, one at 7 and one at 10 p.m. on Saturday.

"Street car" features Kay Hutchinson as Blanche DuBois, David Manley at Stanley Kowalski and Sonia Torgeson at Stella Kowalski.

The summer stock theater is a new venture in northern California, and is being enthusiastically received according to Joseph DePauw, business manager. Herbert Eaton, producer and director of the theater, had planned a balanced program of shows. Scheduled for production are "The Champagne Complex," "Born Yesterday," "Laura," "Bus Stop," "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," "The Little Hut," "Major Barbara" and "Dark of the Moon."

The season opened with "The Solid Gold Cadillac" which starred Jane Darwell, veteran movie actress who won an Academy award for her portrayal of the mother in "Grapes of Wrath."

Waggin' Wheelers Announce Dance

Waggin' Wheelers Square Dance club will hold a dance at the Square Corral starting about 8:30 p.m. Saturday. The corral will be air cooled, club officials said. An air conditioning unit is planned for the future, they said.

The dance will honor members of a beginners class which recently graduated at the corral. Potluck refreshments will be served, and all square dancers are invited.

SOPHISTICATED—Anyone who sews can have a dramatic evening dress just like this one modeled by Miss Jean Carter, 1938 Maid of Cotton. The dress was styled by McCall's Pattern 4425 and is made in a floral print by Spring Mills.

Help Yourself To Happiness

This column is one of a series which appears weekly in this paper. It presents problems of everyday living and attempts to bring you the most expert opinion in this area. By combining clinical experience, research, and homespun practicality, we hope to assist you to help yourself to happiness.

Readers are invited to present their problems. All queries will receive individual attention and should be accompanied by a stamped self-addressed envelope directed to Mary Harris Seifert, M.A., Department of Education, The American Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles 27, California.

When Your Temper Flares
"I get so mad at Henry," says Mrs. B., grasping her purse until her knuckles tense and whitens. "I get so mad that I could sock him!" She pauses, shocked at her own intensity. "I wouldn't really hit him, of course. But I surely feel like it. Right over the head! I've felt resentful for so long..."

"Why don't you?" we ask, as if socking Henry were the most logical thing in the world. "By proxy! You can use Henry's punching bag and call it all the names you've always wanted to call Henry..."

"And it can't fight back!" says Mrs. B., mentally squaring off for the battle. "Just thinking about it makes me feel better, believe it or not!" It is a known fact that anger, which causes excess adrenaline secretion, stimulates the body to activity. It is natural for Mrs. B. to feel as if she must act when she is angry with Henry. Suppressing this urge leads to additional conflict and tension; the pressure should be released before a full head of steam builds up to blow the marriage sky-high. Mrs. B. for her own sake as well as Henry's should release her tension—on a punching bag, a game of tennis, a fast hike, or scrubbing a floor.

"Whenever I get so mad I can't stand it," confesses Mrs. Y. "I ride Bob's old bike up the hill near our place. It is so hard to pedal that I forget all about my peeve by the time I get back..."

"When I'm upset," puts in little Mrs. C., "I wash windows or bake cookies..."

"I just go into the clothes closet and tell the shoe rack everything that is on my mind," laughs Mrs. K. "No wonder my shoes wear out so fast, with my words searing their soles!"

Counting, jumping rope, swimming, running, singing, milking, cleaning house, polishing the car—all these are safety devices which help release tension and allow time for perspective on a real or fancied conflict, before damage is done.

Become angry, if you must. But channel your drive toward action into safe, even productive, outlets.

Plan Picnic

The annual picnic of Olive Rebekah Past Noble Grands' club will be held Sunday, July 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dyer, 29 Myrtle street. It is set for 5:30 p.m. and members attending are asked to take food for the picnic dinner and table service.

Visitor Here

Karen Svensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Svensen, Crescent City, Calif., is spending the week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Randolph, 303 Vancouver avenue.

Dance Planned At Grange Hall

A square dance will be held at the Bellview Grange hall in Ashland starting at 8 p.m. Saturday. Byron (Buzz) Dibble and Floyd Workman, both of Medford, will call squares. Potluck refreshments will be served, and all square dancers are invited. The dances are expected to be scheduled on a regular basis at the Grange hall, the callers said.

Hilltoppers Plan Dance Saturday

Hilltoppers Square Dance club will hold a square dance Saturday, July 12, beginning at 8:30 p.m. at the Old Wagner Creek school, located on Wagner Creek road two miles west of Talent. All square dancers are invited and club officers point out that the school is air-conditioned for comfortable summer dancing. Potluck refreshments are to be served. Francis Cronin and guest callers will call the squares.

Cheese Ball Snack

New York (UPI)—For appetizers rich in proteins, make these tangy cheese balls. Mix an 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened to room temperature, with 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon each of prepared mustard and chopped parsley and 8 finely rolled potato flour crackers (about 1/4 cup crumbs). Roll into small balls, wrap each in thin pieces dried chipped beef and chill. Makes 20-25 cheese balls.

Do you envy women who design and sew their own dresses? The Jackson county library has books that will help you make smart looking clothes and at little expense.

George Riddle, member of the Shakespearean Festival company and a trained unicyclist, is on the program for the annual Bard's Heyday to be held Sunday, July 13, at the festival shell in Ashland. The entertainer is shown here with Mrs. Phillip E. Gates, Ashland, president of Tudor guild, sponsoring group. The Heyday will begin at 5 p.m. and the program includes games, a Punch and Judy show, dancing on the green, strolling singers and the traditional pantomime contest with members of the company as contestants. A variety of food prepared in the Elizabethan manner will be available. The public is invited and tickets are on sale at the Mart, Fortmiller's and the Plaza cafe in Ashland, and at Mann's store in Medford.

New York's Coming Shows To Reveal Fall Fashions

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

New York — (UPI) — Will we women climb out of our chemises and trapezes come fall? Will we oust the sack and get our waistslines back? What goes with hemlines and knees, necklines and bosoms? Well, if you're just bursting with curiosity, relax and read. The answers to these questions and many more concerning fall styles are on the way, given you by the news services and by women's or fashion editors of your newspaper.

All will be in New York, the nation's fashion center, next week to report the news in the never dull, frequently jittery world of style.

The editors will see collections of the 30 designer-manufacturer members of the couture group, of the New York

Dress Institute, showing coats, suits, dresses and evening wear. Fifteen other shows by auxiliary and associate members will include children's wear, furs, hats, shoes and other accessories, cosmetics and hair styles.

Predict Death For Sack
Predictions of what's to come already abound. The fashion group, representing designers, stylists, retailers and others in the field, predicted at a preview recently that the sack is dead, that this fall the accent will be on bosoms and legs. Hemlines are going up, said the group.

Women's wear, the trade publication, predicted continuation of a "fluid" or loosened silhouette at the natural waistline, but revival of the empire bodice. This is the shape which definitely accents the bosom, through ribbon, seaming, or bands directly beneath the bust.

And, some reporters already have scouted the New York market, the nation's clothing center, to report their findings.

Semi-Annual Event
But the greatest single turnout of news gals begins Sunday, when 200 of them swarm in from the United States and Canada. The couture group showings have been a semi-annual event since July, 1943, and seven sturdy reporters haven't missed a single season.

This year, some of the designers whose names are familiar to the woman who follows fashion closely will be missing. Claire McCardell, best known for her leadership in casual and comfortable clothes, died last spring. Aurice Rentner, generally considered the dean of American designers, died this week. But their firms go on.

Nettie Rosenstein, who made many of Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower's formal gowns including those for the inaugurations, isn't showing a fall collection. But a spokesman for the institute said she probably would be back in business by spring.

Lodge to Give Queen's Banquet

Exhibit to Open Sunday Afternoon At D'Lyn Gallery

The exhibit of Southern Oregon Society of Artists planned to open this week end will be Sunday, July 13, instead of Saturday as stated earlier. The exhibit will be held at the D'Lyn gallery, 14 Hawthorne street, and the public is invited to attend.

Hours Sunday are from 2 to 8 p.m. The show will continue through July 20.

Restore a shrunken blanket by soaking it in water at body temperature for about 5 minutes. Stretch it gently but firmly while it is still wet.

State Convention Reports Given; Officers Named

Mrs. Ben Allison reported on the "royal hunt," or state convention, of the Military Order of Lady Bugs at the last meeting of Roguette circle. The state session was held at Redmond, Ore., June 28, and also attending from Medford were Mrs. Richard Schulz, Mrs. B. B. Ramsey, Mrs. Ralph Pittock and Mrs. Ivan Lusk.

Mrs. Ramsey was elected state firefly, and Mrs. Lusk was appointed Camp White hospital chairman. Mrs. Schulz is alternate chairman. It is announced that the picnic which was to have been given for men at Camp White by William H. Harrison corps, Women's Relief corps, with Rouquette circle assisting, has been cancelled. A watermelon feed is planned for the veterans at camp August 24. All personnel of VAVS organizations will participate.
