Friends who wish may, in lieu of flowers, make a donation to the Heart Fund.

Mr. Norman was a member of the Jacksonville IOOF lodge for the past 25 years and held a life membership. Pallbearers will be William Campbell, T. E. Thompson, Arthur Hinkle, Albert Hackert, Robert Lamb, and Kendrick Thomas.

Couple Convalesce Following Accident
Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bratton are convalescing at their home at 22 Summit ave. after an automobile accident last Sunday near Merrill, Ore., the family has reported.

Mrs. Brattin received facial cuts, a broken jaw and was treated for shock. Brattin received cuts on his face and hands. Their children, Sherry, Karen, Bill and David received minor scratches and bruises, it was reported.

The couple was taken to the Klamath Falls hospital by ambulance. They were released Tuesday.

The car was damaged beyond repair, the family said. Cause of the accident was given as a blow-out on the right front tire. This threw the car into a concrete pipe and irrigation ditch.

Woman Who Hated Dentist Dies in Chair
Los Angeles—(UPI)—Mrs. Carol Joy Gates, 30, of nearby Whittier, always dreaded to go to the dentist's office. Because she couldn't stand the pain, the mother of two children always insisted on receiving a complete anaesthetic.

Friday, as a medical doctor administered the anaesthesia, Mrs. Gates died on the dentist's chair. Cause of death was not known.

Nine Milwaukee Cars Derailed Near Othello
Othello, Wash.—(UPI)—Nine cars of a 66-car Milwaukee Road freight train jumped the tracks Friday at Beverly near here.

There were no injuries. Cause of the derailment was not known immediately.

Railroad officials expected the tracks would be cleared early Saturday.

First Photographs of Missile Seen
Denver—(UPI)—The first photographs of the Titan intercontinental ballistic missile were revealed here Friday night by station KOA-TV.

The pictures were obtained by the station's photographers using long-range lenses from a vantage point in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains overlooking the site of the Titan's assembly point southwest of Denver.

The 90-foot-long missile has a range of 5,500 miles, according to Defense Department figures. It measures 10 feet in diameter at the base, eight feet at its top and, when fully fueled weighs 200,000 pounds.

Falconry, like archery, goes far back into antiquity. Chinese appear to have practiced the sport some 2,000 years ago. Ancient sculptures and written accounts suggest that hawking was popular in Egypt, Persia, Greece, and Rome. In medieval Europe it was a favorite pastime of the nobility.

Boise Girl Found Unharmed Friday

Montrose, Calif.—(UPI)—Janice Thrallkill, 14, Boise, Idaho, missing four hours while on a church picnic in a foothill area, was found unharmed Friday night.

The girl, visiting her uncle, Harry Hammett, Sepulveda, Calif., disappeared in the foothills of Angeles National forest. She told deputy sheriffs she became ill during the picnic Kagel Canyon north of San Fernando, Calif., and went for a walk. She said she became lost, fainted and was unconscious for more than an hour.

Deputies entered the case when members of the Inter-Denominational Church of San Fernando were unable to find Janice. A dozen deputies began looking for her. She was found at 11:45 p.m.

Foster, Marshall To Open New Office

Foster and Marshall will open a new brokerage office Monday at 44 South Central ave., Medford, a firm spokesman announced Saturday.

The new modern brokerage office will have all the necessary equipment to service its clientele. Air-conditioning and indirect lighting are included.

The new office also has continuous quotations during market hours, a Dow Jones news board tape plus well-known stock and bond services, a company spokesman said.

On Oct. 1, 1957, Hogan-Rowan and company merged with Foster and Marshall, who are members of the New York Stock exchange. For 30 years prior to James P. Rowan's association with the firm, the security business of M. N. Hogan and company in Medford was operated as a sole proprietorship, it was explained.

Foster and Marshall is a well-known firm with offices in Portland, Seattle, Spokane, Eugene, Olympia and Yakima.

Farmer Tells Daughter How To Amputate Limb

Palmer Lake, Colo.—(UPI)—A 48-year-old farmer whose arm was mangled in a hay baler told his young daughter to amputate the limb with a pocket knife and then gave her instructions on how to take care of the farm before he was taken to a hospital.

The accident occurred on Thursday to Russell Higginson on his farm three miles north of Palmer Lake.

His daughter, Beverly, 16, told this story:

Higginson's arm became caught in the baler as he and the girl were working in a field.

He told her to cut off the arm just above the elbow with a pocket knife and to apply a tourniquet with a scarf. She performed the surgery and Higginson and the girl left for a Colorado Springs hospital in his pickup truck with Beverly driving.

She blacked out enroute and the truck ran off the highway into a ditch. Higginson jumped from the back of the truck where he was riding when it appeared ready to overturn.

Edward R. Morrow Takes River Trip

Edward R. Morrow, radio and television journalist, traveled down the Rogue river from Grants Pass to Gold Beach on a five-day sightseeing and fishing trip last week.

"He really enjoyed the trip a lot," said one guide who accompanied Morrow's party. They caught a number of small trout, he added.

The guide said Morrow had "a lot of fond memories" of this part of the country. Morrow was graduated from Washington State college in 1930. For two years he was a compassman and topographer for timber cruisers in northwest Washington.

Other members of the party included Morrow's son, Charles Casey; Tom Stoddard, Portland; A. W. Michaelis, Harold Olsen, and Leo Hogan and his son.

Veterans Receive Writing Awards

Camp White—Five members of the Camp White domiciliary recently received awards for achievements in the 1958 annual hospitalized veterans writing project. The gifts were presented by Acting Manager Banks I. Paul.

Awards went to Michael Dillon, who received several books including the 1958 World Topic Yearbook, Corinna and a Theodore Roosevelt Roundup; Walter L. Townsend, who received a copy of "How to Write A Short Story and Sell It" by Adela Rodgers St. John and three other books on writing; W. M. Black Jr., who won an Olivetti portable typewriter and several books on writing; Walter V. Grow, who received a Bulova wrist watch; and Earl J. Sweeney, who received two books.

The domiciliary was given a 30-volume set of encyclopedias which the group won in the writing projects. The writers also won a total of $120 in cash. Some writers have been notified they won prizes in the June Quarterly HVWP contest.

Plan Many Events During Rodeo Here

A long list of events is planned for the Rogue Valley Round-up World Championship rodeo sponsored by the Medford Junior Chamber of Commerce Aug. 15, 16 and 17, in Medford. Gil Gilbert, general chairman, announced Saturday.

The event, which is expected to attract well-known contestants, is scheduled at the Sheriff's Posse grounds on Sage rd.

Events include a queen contest, two street dances, a western style parade and a buckeroo breakfast. Times and places will be announced later. Applications for the queen contest may be obtained by calling Dick Lamont, Medford, queen program chairman, at Spring 3-1037.

Listed as rodeo events are bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, bulldogging and team roping.
