

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joseph Apostalo

Ceremony At Home Weds Pair

Jacksonville—Miss Mildred Lucille Milam became the bride of Frank Joseph Apostalo in a ceremony held July 6 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mansel W. Milam, Sterling road, Jacksonville. Mr. Apostalo is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander A. Apostalo, Port O'Connor, Texas.

The Rev. Earl Best of Ruch Community church officiated at the single ring ceremony held at one o'clock in the afternoon. Eighteen relatives and friends attended. Red and pink roses decorated the home for the event. Miss Becky Keen was in charge of the music.

The bride wore a white ballerina length gown with fingertip length veil and carried white magnolias. Mr. Milam gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. James Stephens was honor attendant and Miss June Milam, both sisters of the bride, was bridesmaid. Mrs. Stephens wore a pink ballerina length dress while Miss Milam was in blue and white. They carried white flowers.

James A. Stephens, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Milam wore a blue frock with rhinestone trim and white accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held.

The couple will leave for Seattle the latter part of the month where the bridegroom will rejoin his ship, the USS General Anderson. He is a storekeeper third class in the United States Navy. The bride plans to return to Jacksonville in August where she will continue her education at Jacksonville High school.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included John Fleming and Mrs. Ethel Littrill, Grants Pass.

Miss Lana Laws Bride of Raymond Darrell Mahoney

A wedding of interest to friends in the Rogue valley was held recently in Eugene, when Miss Lana Dale Laws became the bride of Raymond Darrell Mahoney.

The ceremony was held Saturday, June 28, at First Church of Nazarene in Eugene at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening. The Rev. Barrett Kirby, pastor of the church, read the double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Laws, formerly of Rogue River and now of Eugene. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stults, Eugene.

The church was decorated with pink carnations and ferns arranged in copper bowls; wrought iron candelabra held lighted pink tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown designed and made by her mother, of white lace over white satin fashioned with low scalloped neckline, short sleeves and fitted bodice. The lace skirt fell into scallops at the lower edge over the white satin floor length gown. A tiara of pearls and sequins held her fingertip tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of pink rose buds and fern encircled by a heart-shaped lace ruffle.

For "something old" the bride wore a family heirloom strand of pearls belonging to her mother.

Maid of honor was Miss Marva Weaver, formerly of Rogue River and now of Brookings. She wore a ballerina length pink taffeta frock and carried pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Fredrickson and Miss Phyllis Koele, both Eugene. They wore pastel green taffeta ballerina frocks and carried pink carnation bouquets.

Traveler Returns From Trip East

Seth Bullis, 15 Florence avenue, returned to Medford last week after spending more than three weeks on the East coast.

Mr. Bullis left the valley June 12 and attended the 50th anniversary of the 1908 Cornell university class. From there he traveled to New York City where he discussed bookings with Civic Music concert service officials before visiting in Atlantic City, N. J., Philadelphia, Pa., and Washington, D.C.

He visited with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Parsons and their four children. Mr. Parsons is Washington district representative for the General Exhibits and Displays company. After a two weeks stay in the area Mr. Bullis was in Charleston, S.C. before visiting his son, Lee S. Bullis, in Atlantic, Fla., a suburb of Jacksonville. While there he also saw his grandson, Spencer Bullis Jr. Lee Bullis is with the news and special events department of WMBR-TV in Jacksonville.

From Jacksonville Mr. Bullis flew to Medford via Chicago and Portland.

Job Counselor Says Skip Gum

Chicago — (UPI) — Skip glamour and gum if you want to become a secretary, a job counselor advises.

"Be neat and smartly tailored, but not glamorous during a job interview," said Neil Joyce.

Gum-chewing, bright nail polish and clanky jewelry can dim a girl's chances of employment, she said, because business firms have become more demanding in their requirements. "The reason — more talent to draw from."

"The boss notices the little things now," said Miss Joyce. She advised moderation in use of makeup.

"No doe eyes," she warned. "They scare the men. And go easy on bangles and rhinestone earrings."

As for hair style, a pony tail often lessens a girl's chance of advancement, because it tends to make her look too young, Miss Joyce said. She also suggested arriving early for appointments — "at least five minutes ahead."

Never interrupt the employer, and don't put too much emphasis on vacations or salary raises. Such maneuvers can dig an applicant's grave, she said.

Wear a hat, she advised, have clean hands, don't accept a cigaret, sit up straight, and be pleasant. From then on, you're on your own.

Cover rough edges of tables, chairs, and desks with cellophane tape to avoid snagging stockings and dresses.

First Franco-American Debs Ball Great Success

Versailles, France—(UPI)—American high society belles danced till dawn's early light today in the old-world splendor of Versailles' Royal Palace, making a triumphant success of the first Franco-American Debutantes' ball.

The 60 American and more than 200 French debutantes began their fabulous social fling at 10 o'clock Friday night in the high-vaulted Orangerie hall of the palace built by Louis XIV in the 17th Century to show the world he was its greatest sovereign.

When sunrise came the girls still danced and laughed with partners chosen from the best families of France and Europe.

As candles flickered low in the sumptuous ballroom and the last drops of champagne were being rationed out by be-wigged footmen, it looked as though a new transatlantic tradition had been born.

Replaces Court Presentation

The ball was organized by prominent French and American socialites after Britain's Queen Elizabeth decided last year to discontinue traditional court presentation ceremonies in Buckingham Palace.

Most of the girls had no special escorts, taking turns dancing with the cadets of Saint Cyr, French naval mid-shipment, students from the Sorbonne Law school and the Polytechnique Engineering institute and the young elite from French aristocratic families.

The American debs were lovely in wide-skirted white formal gowns. The young French ladies wore high-style evening dresses of every hue.

More than 1,000 townspeople gathered around the wrought-iron, gilt-painted gates of the huge stone doorway of the Orangerie Friday night to stare and gasp as the tattered debs arrived.

Red-coated French hunts-men blared out a hunting-horn welcome. One by one the girls proceeded princess-like down a red carpeted stairway, lined by blue-liveried lackeys holding lighted candelabra. They were ushered by footmen in 18th Century livery to the reception line headed by their hostess, the Countess of Lafayette.

As they arrived in the ballroom a master footman, clad in black, loudly proclaimed each debutante's name.

Then U. S. society band-leader Meyer Davis struck up the music and the dancing began.

Disguise Ironing Board

Chicago—(UPI)—The newest "out of sight" ironing board masquerades as a kitchen cabinet, until pulled out and unfolded. The cabinet cover also has storage space for an iron.

Fresh Corn Soup Is Summer Special

New York —(UPI)— Make cream of fresh corn soup the feature dish for luncheon or supper.

Cook 2 cups fresh corn, cut off the cob, in 1 cup boiling water for 5 minutes. Set aside.

Melt ¼ cup butter or margarine, add 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion and saute until the onion is limp. Blend in ¼ cup flour until smooth, gradually stir in 3 cups milk, and add drained corn, along with 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and ½ teaspoon garlic powder.

Cook 10 minutes or until slightly thickened, stirring constantly.

Garnish with fresh parsley and serve hot. Yield, six servings.

Fruit Short Cake

For something new in desserts, try peach-strawberry shortcake. Crush the strawberries lightly, sprinkle generously with powdered sugar and combine with drained canned cling peach slices. Spoon over warm buttered shortcake.
