Trujillo's Yacht Is Reclassified

San Diego — (UPI) — Despite a single-shot line-throwing gun, Gen. Rafael Trujillo's 350-foot personal "man of war" was classified by harbor officials today as merely a very luxurious yacht.

Presence of that bit of armament was enough to wig the Angelita classification, as a man of war and from dockage at Los Angeles Harbor but here the going rate at the Broadway Pier for the yacht was $15 daily.

How long the rich, young general, son of Dominican strongman Rafael Trujillo, would choose to stand the gaff for the charges was not known. Reports were that he would stay two or three days. Trujillo put into the harbor here early Wednesday morning after a short trip from Los Angeles Harbor with a mysterious "load" in his aboard.

Mysterious, that is, until she was identified as Lita Milan, a New York-born starlet. Unlike actress Zsa Zsa Gabor, Kim Novak and Joan Collins, though, she said she had received no gifts from the general.

"He is a wonderful gentleman and I won't give up my friendship with him, not for anybody. They can't understand him," she said.

Fishing Boat Sinks Off Cape Arago

Coos Bay — (UPI) — The 47-foot commercial fishing vessel Dorothy J. of Aberdeen, Wash., struck a fog shrouded reef and sank Wednesday afternoon off Cape Arago, south of Coos Bay.

The skipper and owner, Carl Jepson, about 70 of Aberdeen was picked from his lifeboat-skiff a short time later by a sports fishing boat owned by Emery Hanson of Charleston.

Jepson said that an attempt will be made to salvage the vessel, which is lodged in an upright position on the rock-strewn ocean bottom. The boat is in about 30 feet of water.

Some 4000 or 2500 pounds of salmon were reported in the hold of the vessel.

Jepson said that the wind was blowing from an unexpected direction and he failed to hear a fog horn warning that is on the Cape.

Langley Petitions U. S. Supreme Court

Portland — (UPI) — William M. Langley, former Multnomah County District Attorney was reported today to have petitioned the United States Supreme Court to review the record of the trial in which he was convicted of neglect of duty.

Assistant Attorney General Peter Herman said in Salem Wednesday that a copy of the petition was received by his office.

Langley was convicted April 13, 1957, of neglect of duty by failing to prosecute operators of a gambling game.

In an appeal to the State Supreme Court earlier this year, the decision of the Circuit Court was upheld.

PAID FOR THIS ONE

Cheyenne, Wyo. — (UPI) — A Democratic senatorial candidate donated a vicuna coat Wednesday night to the Cheyenne labor union's committee on political education — and the group plans to auction it to raise money. The candidate, Hepburn T. Armstrong, told union officials: "I paid for it in Bolivia. Goldfine didn't give it to me."
