Portland — (UPI) — The State Board of Higher Education Tuesday re-elected Dr. R. E. Klein, of Silverton as its president for another year. He has been a member of the board since 1941 and its chairman since 1953. Henry F. Cabell was re-named vice president and William E. Walsh of Coos Bay was named third member of the executive committee of the board.

The board Tuesday also stated a press policy.

Public Meetings

A resolution said "all formal and informal meetings... shall be public meetings, and shall be open to the public and the press, except that the board may meet in executive sessions upon the call of the president... for consideration of personnel matters or of other matters which for the time being should not be publicly disclosed."

The board has been criticized for holding closed, "off-the-record" sessions.

In other action, the board made official the addition of 12 degree programs at Portland State starting next year.

Had No Intention

Dr. John R. Richards, chancellor, said he had no intention of blocking proposals of curriculum change by Oregon State faculty members when he included statements about expansion of liberal arts at OSC in a written report to the board on Portland State. Dr. A. L. Strand, president of Oregon State, had protested. Dr. Richards said he would "certainly bring to the board whatever recommendation is prepared by the OSC faculty" on curriculum matters.

The written statement had emphasized OSC's role as a technical school.

Dairymen Discuss Breed Name Label

Salem — (UPI) — Amendments that would put teeth into dairy laws pertaining to the use of breed names on labels or in advertising of milk were recommended Tuesday by various dairy breed associations in Oregon.

The association members met here with Agriculture Department officials. O. K. Beals, chief of the department's division of foods and dairies, said the present law, enacted 33 years ago, was not adequate.

The law states that in order to use the name of the breed in advertising each cow in the herd must carry not less than 50 per cent of the blood of the breed.

Dairymen at the meeting agreed with the department's contention that this was impossible to determine in many cases. They suggested that each animal in a milking herd should be indistinguishable from registered, purebred cattle as a possible standard.

Marine Killed in Lebanon Identified

Washington — (UPI) — The Navy today identified a Marine who was shot and killed by one of his own buddies at the Beirut, Lebanon, airport Monday night, as Pfc. Scott B. Sanborn, 18, Fairfield, Conn.

Lebanon Aggression Will Be Defeated, Nasser Tells Throng

Cairo — (UPI) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser told thousands of cheering Egyptians Tuesday night that "American aggression in Lebanon will be defeated."

He said the "people" also will triumph in Jordan and Algeria, as they did in Iraq.

Nasser, head of the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria, made his predictions at a mammoth rally marking the sixth anniversary of the colonels' revolt which ousted King Farouk.

Crowd Cheers Wildly

An estimated 100,000 Egyptians jammed in the vast Republic Square in front of Farouk's former Abdin Palace cheered wildly when Nasser declared:

"The people will triumph in Beirut... Amman will triumph. Jerusalem will triumph. Nabulus, Ramallah, and every Arab town determined to fight for freedom will triumph."

Nabulus and Ramallah are in Jordan.

Nasser bitterly attacked King Hussein of Jordan and said if "the struggle of the Jordanian people suffered a relapse it is because the king deviated and deceived his people and opened the country to imperialism."

Grandfather's Mission

He said Hussein was carrying out the same mission of his grandfather, King Abdullah, "who betrayed us and all Arabs..." Abdullah was assassinated in Jerusalem in 1951.

Cheers also greeted Nasser's brief mention of his dash to Moscow for conferences with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev after U. S. Marines landed in Beirut.

Gov. Faubus Asks Supreme Court To Review Injunction

Little Rock, Ark. — (UPI) — Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus asked the U. S. Supreme Court Tuesday to review an injunction against his interfering with integration at Central High School.

A request mailed to the Supreme Court asked for a recall of records of the case from federal district court here and from the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeal at St. Louis.

Brief Ordered

In Washington, the Justice Department ordered a brief prepared for possible use in the Little Rock school segregation appeal. Officials said the brief would be used if the department decides to intervene when the St. Louis court hears the case Aug. 4.

The circuit court will review Federal Judge Harry J. Lemley's June 20 ruling postponing integration at Central until mid-semester 1961.

Justice Department officials declined to say what position the government intends to take in the case.

Upheld By Court

The injunction against Faubus was issued Sept. 20 by Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies and was upheld by the circuit court on April 28. Faubus had until next Monday to appeal.

Walter Pope, a Little Rock attorney representing Faubus, said the governor's petition claimed Davies should have disqualified himself from the government's move for an injunction because of bias.

Pope said the request asked the circuit court decision be set aside.

Neuberger Urges Incentive Pay

Washington — (UPI) — Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) Tuesday introduced a motion in the Senate Interior Committee to report favorably a bill to provide incentive payments for mineral production including metallurgical chrome and mercury.

The measure, Senate bill 4146, now going to the Senate calendar, provides payment of production incentive of $1 per long dry ton up to 4.6 million long dry ton units of chrome ore and $50 per flask on up to 33,000 flasks of mercury.

Neuberger said he was hopeful of early Senate action despite administration objections to some provisions of the bill. The Oregon senator said approval of the bill was needed to meet conditions in depressed segments of the Oregon mining industry.

De Gaulle Splits On Talks Site

Paris — (UPI) — Gen. Charles de Gaulle, in his first major diplomatic decision since returning to power, has split with his American and British allies over the site of a summit conference on the Middle East.

Despite intensive French-American-British consultations on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's suggestion for Middle East summit talks, De Gaulle's reply differed sharply from that of his Anglo-American colleagues.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Eisenhower endorsed a high level meeting within the United Nations, but De Gaulle said only he was willing to confer on a "date and place." It soon became apparent he had ruled out the U.N. Assembly.

De Gaulle's aides emphasized the general felt the spotlight of publicity in the U.N. would not be favorable to a "happy evolution of the discussions."

The Premier's reply also reflected the deepening division between France and its two major Western allies. Although still steadfastly a member of the Western camp, De Gaulle was showing signs of more and more independ-
