3-Way Knot In Pee Wee Ball Loop

Central Point pulled into a three-way tie for leadership in the pee wee southern division of the Southern Oregon Junior Baseball league yesterday.

The Pointers bounced the Ashland Cubs 6 to 1 while the Medford Wildcats were whacking the Medford Tigers 9 to 2.

Tigers, Cubs and Central Point are now deadlocked with 2-2 standings in the loop while the Wildcats are a half-game behind with 6-3.

In another fracas Eagle Point ripped the Ashland Bears 9 to 4.

Darrell Summerfield, Central Point twirler, was credited with a no-hitter. His balks in the final inning permitted in the only Ashland run. An error and walk put men on base. Summerfield walked five and struck out six. John Rhodes, chucking for the Cubs also issued bases on balls. He recorded a five-hitter.

Chucks Four-Hitter
Don Twedell doubled for the only extra base hit. The Pointers got three of their safeties in the fourth inning.

Gary Highland held the Tigers with a four-hitter in the upset by the Wildcats. He walked four and whiffed four. Tiger tossers Marc Kinney and Pete Hinman issued a total of eight bases on balls and three strikeouts. Jim Allen and Ron Edmunds had two hits for the 'Cats and Dan Miles socked a triple for the Tigers.

Four runs in the top of the fifth inning helped Eagle Point to its verdict. The runs were on three bases on balls and hits by Avery and Whaley.

Tri-City on Warpath
United Press International
Those Tri-City Braves are on the warpath in the Northwest League.

Tuesday night they notched their ninth straight victory with a 6-2 decision over league-leading Yakima. Although still in third place, the Braves are but one game behind the league leaders.

Yakima opened the scoring with one run in the third but the Braves wrapped it up with five runs in the fifth. The big blow was a two-run double by pitcher Don Dobrino.

Dobrino went the distance for the winners to square his mark at 7-7.

Lewiston's second place Broncs got four runs in the bottom of the eighth to take Salem, 6-2. Thornton Kipper went the route for the winners.

Lewiston batted around in the eighth picking up eight hits along with two Salem errors and a wild pitch.

for the second straight day. The Mounties now lead both Phoenix and San Diego by a full game, with the latter holding a slight .001 advantage over the Giants percentage-wise.

In other games, Spokane handed fourth-place Salt Lake its second straight defeat, 7-6, and Portland and Sacramento split a pair, the Beavers coasting to an 11-0 shutout in the opener and the Solons coming back for an easy 13-3 win in the nightcap.

Eight Inning Blast
Phoenix exploded for eight runs in the eighth inning on four hits, five walks, a hit batter and two errors by the Padres. The Pads, behind tight pitching by starter Steve Ridzik, had led 4-2 going into the fatal frame. Rod Graber and Rudy Regalado homered for San Diego, while Willie McCovey connected for the Giants. The Padres outbit the winners, 13-9, but not when it counted.

Russ Heman, who relieved starter Art Ceccarelli in the third, gave up only four hits over the last seven innings at Seattle to put Vancouver back into first place. Ceccarelli had to leave the game because of a pulled back muscle.

The Mounties tied the count at 1-1 in the fourth, then pushed across what proved to be the winning tally in the fifth when Owen Friend, who had led off with a double, came home on Buddy Peterson's two-out single. The win brought Heman's record to 7-5, while the loss left Seattle's Mary Kutyna with an 8-7 mark. Both clubs had seven hits.

Portland backed up Vic Lombardi with a dozen hits as the Beavers ran wild in the seven-inning opener. Dave Melton led the Beaver attack with a two-run homer in the third. The victory was Lombardi's sixth against three defeats.

The Solons, who could manage only three safeties in the first game, came back with a 12-hit onslaught in the finale, scoring seven runs in the seventh, five in the eighth and another in the ninth. Frank Kellert accounted for all of the Beaver runs with a three-run blast in the seventh. Spokane withstood a three-run uprising by Salt Lake in the eighth to give Indian starter Art Fowler his second win over the Bees. R. C. Stevens smashed a three-run homer in the near-fatal eighth but Spokane ended the threat with a double-play. Sam Miley also homered for the losers, who had 12 safeties to Spokane's eight.

Sam Baugh Testifies

Washington —UPI— Sammy Baugh, Washington's greatest sports hero a decade ago, returns to the Capitol today to testify on the football application of a House approved bill to exempt professional team sports from the anti-trust laws.

Scheduled to appear with Baugh are Arthur J. (Dutch) Bergman, one of Sammy's former teammates on the Washington Redskins, Rep. William E. Miller (R-N.Y.), a co-sponsor of the House bill, and Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis.).

The subcommittee, which will rule on the House measure that affects baseball, football, basketball and hockey, heard a plea Tuesday from Creighton Miller, attorney for the National Football League Players association, for more protection than the House granted.

Miller, a former Notre Dame star, said the players' "bargaining position would be weakened" because the House bill would force close their rights to resort to the courts to correct grievances.

He said if owners received complete exemption from anti-trust laws then "our protection from unfair practices by club owners, such as possible blacklisting, mistreatment of injured players and other dictatorial policies, would be practically nil."

CANADA'S GOLF TOURNEY

Another six equalled it and seven were only one stroke over.

Big Labor Force Progresses Well At Squaw Valley

By HAL WOOD
United Press International
San Francisco —UPI— A labor force of 300 men is rushing construction of the village for the 1960 Winter Olympic Games at Squaw Valley—and there is no doubt that everything will be in readiness for the international event long before 1960.

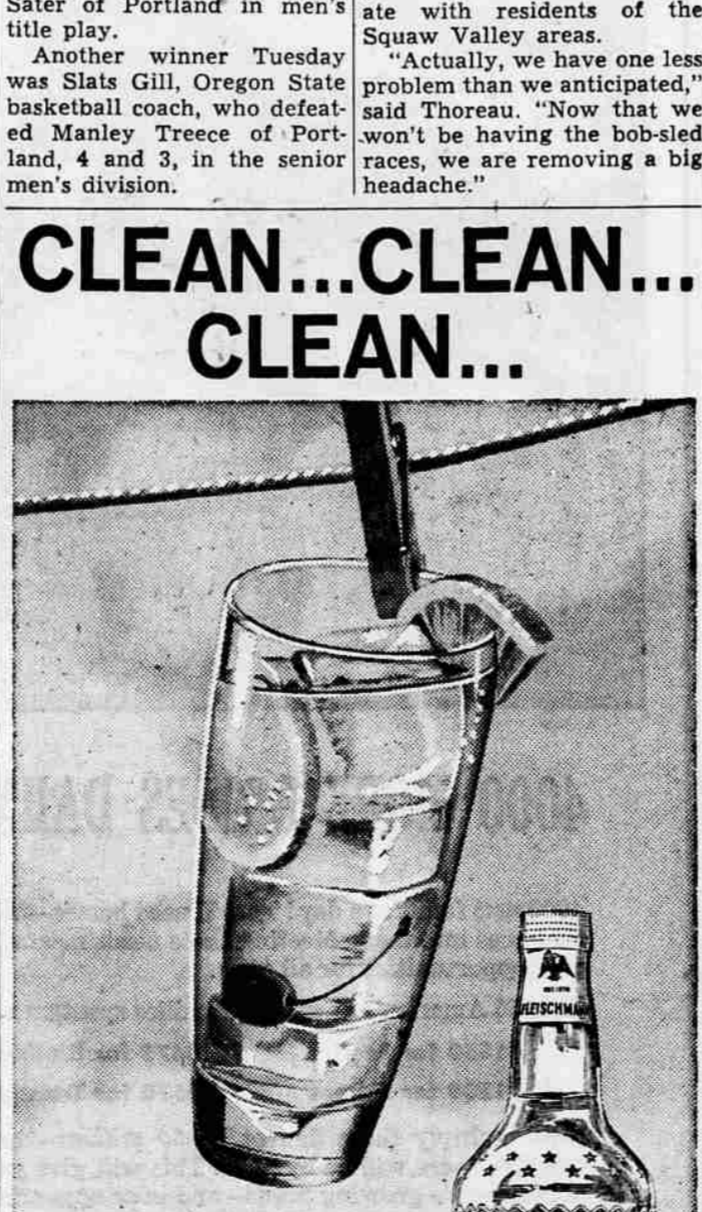

That's the word today from H. D. Thoreau, executive director of the organizing committee and in bold contrast to charges by recently-resigned technical director Alan Bartholmey that the whole program was a mess.

"We have 300 men at work in Squaw Valley," says Thoreau. "Work is going along smoothly. The physical work is coming along, despite the slow start occasioned by our trouble in acquiring land. And paper work on such things as transportation, housing, etc., is going well."

"Ticket applications will be in the mail this fall," Bartholmey, who had started out as executive director of the games and then was demoted to technical director, charged in his letter of resignation that Prentiss Cobb Hale, president of the organizing committee, had refused to follow advice of technical experts and would not cooperate with residents of the Squaw Valley areas.

"Actually, we have one less problem than we anticipated," said Thoreau. "Now that we won't be having the bobbed-races, we are removing a big headache."
