

Louisiana Girl Chosen To Reign As Miss U. S. A.

Long Beach, Calif. — (AP) — Lovely Eurlayne Howell, blonde, blue-eyed Miss Louisiana, reigned today as Miss United States in the 7th annual Miss Universe pageant. The sweetly drawing coed from Bessier City, La., was chosen Wednesday night from five semi-finalists to represent the United States in competition with 34 foreign beauties for the title of Miss Universe.

Choice of the 19-year-old Southern belle, 5 foot 6 inches of poised loveliness, was popular with the audience of 4,500 gathered in the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium as the field was narrowed from 15 to 5 to Miss Howell.

Grace Kelly Type
Poised and dry-eyed after her selection, Miss Louisiana, a Grace Kelly type measuring a near-perfect 36-23-35½, said she was "very thrilled and grateful."

Miss Howell, a sophomore in speech and dramatics at Centenary College at Shreveport, La., was selected from five semi-finalists—all blondes and all from the South except one.

The others were Miss Alabama, Judy Carlson; Miss Florida, Marcia Vallibus; Miss Georgia, Diana Austin, and Miss Illinois, June Pickney.

Miss U.S.A. competes tonight against the foreign beauties in the semi-final round of the Miss Universe pageant. Miss Universe will be selected Friday night.

Driver Cited After Highway 99 Crash

Charles Richard Greene, 53, of 2476 Reed lane, was cited by state police yesterday for failing to stop for a red light following an accident between his car and one driven by Miss Helen Ruth Nelson, 50, of 3224 Forest ave. Miss Nelson, who suffered fractured ribs and facial cuts, according to the police report, was cited for no operator's license. She was reported in fair condition today at Rogue Valley hospital.

Police said the accident occurred shortly after noon yesterday when Greene's car, southbound on Highway 99, struck Miss Nelson's car as it proceeded on a green light from the Bear Creek Orchards. Greene suffered facial cuts, according to reports.

An average farmer in the United States spends about $3,000 a year for feed, seed, fertilizer, oil products, machines, building materials and hardware.

Grange News...

Central Point Grange
Grange met Friday night with Master Otto Niedermeyer presiding. Agriculture chairman Arnold Bohnert reported rains had damaged grain crops considerably in the state as well as in California. Fred Kuest commented on the increased amount of storms compared to other years.

Edwin Gebhard informed members on the Mexican labor situation, and spoke optimistically of the future pear market. Delmar Smith spoke on community service and the Pomona Grange booth at the Oregon State Fair.

A letter was read thanking the Grange for his 4-H school ship from David Foote, also one advising that the National Grange headquarters will be in the desirable vicinity near the White House. Visitation at Grange Grange was announced and the Jackson County Pomona meeting to be at Upper Rogue Grange Saturday, July 26, at 8 p.m. Material discussed were painting the hall and the winter wood collection.

The lecture program included a short skit and talks by the contributors of the display table. The hobby table consisted of African violets, antique collections, hand made jewelry, paintings, miniature glass, lilies, trophies, old-time firing piece and poetry. On the cost and profit of hobby collecting, Mrs. Homer Jeffries said her profit from sales had not covered costs yet but she loved all her 300 African violets so much that she got such satisfaction from the hobby.

Mrs. B. E. Ford, with her book of odd names, said friends gave her names freely, and she had none to sell. Mrs. Edwin Gebhard explained the expense of tools for making and made jewelry.

Refreshments of ice cream, sherbet, and cookies were served by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Canger and Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Taylor.

Mrs. O. T. Wilson, Publicity chairman.
