

VICINITY OF PROPOSED DUMP—The above map shows the city of Jacksonville and residences in the vicinity of the proposed garbage dump site (in black) south of the city. The county planning commission has under consideration requests from Jacksonville residents to prohibit the City Sanitary Service company from using the site as a dump. The small square black areas indicate residences in the area, and the arrows in the white areas extending through the garbage dump property indicate the direction or general slope of drainage downhill in ravines.

Medford Youth Impressed With Cemetery Guard

Washington, D. C.—One of the most impressive sights in the Washington, D. C. area for a Medford, Ore., youth was changing the guard at the Arlington National cemetery.

Gerald A. Vice, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Vice, Medford, is in Washington, where he attended the American Legion-sponsored Boys' Nation program. Young Vice was selected as "first citizen" of the Oregon Beavers Boys' State.

Vice is visiting the nation's capital for the first time, and reports that he has enjoyed the visit. The most impressive sight, he reported, was watching the guard change at the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National cemetery.

Two Delegates

Vice and Douglas Leonetti of Portland were Oregon delegates to Boys' Nation, which was run by 98 boys from the nation with little advice from Legion counselors attending the program.

At Boys' Nation, they participated in debates on two subjects, determination of presidential disability and whether a national science academy should be established.

The Oregon youths agreed that something should be done to cope with possible presidential disability, but neither considered either of the proposals offered was adequate. Vice said that establishment of a science academy was not a pressing need.

The youths also visited the U. S. Senate chambers.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WILLIE MAYS, San Francisco's great ball hawk, had his very first meeting with the immortal Tyrus Raymond Cobb recently, according to Max Kase. Cobb grinned, "Willie, I bet you don't know who I am."

"You got me," admitted Willie, "who are you?" Cobb coughed nervously and said, "I'll give you a clue. My first name is Ty." Willie concluded the interview with "That's nice. Glad to meet you, Mr. Ty."

Discovered in Canarsie: the most cautious mother of the month. Her kid asked, "Can I go outside and watch the solar eclipse?" "Okay," she conceded grudgingly, "but don't stand too close."

Doctor Seligman's new secretary, copying notes he had written hastily at the scene of a riot, came to "Shot in the lumbar region." After a moment's hesitation she typed, "Shot in the woods."

Federal Prison Improvement Eyed

Urbana, Ill.—UPI—The University of Illinois plans to look into ways of improving the federal prison system.

Prof. J. E. Hulett Jr., head of the university's department of sociology and anthropology, said his department will use a Ford Foundation grant of $242,000 to do research on measures to increase the effectiveness of the federal correctional system.

Hulett said the research will be directed by Dr. Daniel Glaser, associate professor of sociology.

Glaser's research will seek to determine failure rates of different types of offenders released from prisons, as well as determine factors involving these offenders' reversion or non-reversion to crime, Hulett said.

He said the project is based on Glaser's interest in the application of a behavioral science theory to practical problems. Glaser has spent more than a year planning the research and has experience in the field of criminology and parole prediction.

Longshoremen Balk At Working Vessel

Portland—UPI—Local longshoremen refused to work a Peruvian naval vessel, for a time, here Thursday.

The reason: The ship entered port without a U.S. flag flying from its foremast as is the custom.

An officer aboard the vessel explained that it was a misunderstanding. The longshoremen, satisfied with the explanation, began working the vessel.

The vessel was the Peruvian Navy ship Callao which carried a commercial cargo of lead, zinc and fish meal.

The California Highway Patrol made 20.5 per cent more arrests for hazardous traffic violations in 1957—a total of 765,236—than in the previous year.

Russia Said To Possess Weapons To Destroy Fleet

Cairo—UPI—The editor of the Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram today quoted Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev as saying Russia has weapons that "could turn the U.S. Sixth Fleet into coffins of molten steel for its sailors."

Editor Mohammed Hassenin Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the visit to Moscow last week, following the landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon.

Heikal, who often acts as Nasser's unofficial spokesman, said Khrushchev told Nasser they (the United States) cannot imagine how strong we are.

Playing Like Kids

"Yes, we are far stronger than they ever imagine," he quoted Khrushchev.

"This 6th Fleet they are playing with in the Mediterranean like kids and whose command they gave to an exceedingly foolish admiral, how easily it could be destroyed."

"We have weapons that if we should use them could turn the 6th Fleet into coffins of molten steel for its sailors."

"But this is a question of arms and we want it to be a question of peace, not a question of arms."

France Urges Soviet Voice in Mid-East

Paris—UPI—France wants the Soviet Union to be given a voice in the Middle East, informed diplomatic sources said today.

But the sources said France has no intention of abandoning traditional friends in the area, such as Israel, to bring such a state of affairs about.

Diplomatic sources said experts already were mapping a plan for a possible East-West agreement that would ease the tension now enveloping the Mediterranean and that such an agreement would admit the Russians have a right to be consulted on future events in the Middle East.

Miss Universe Pearl Found in Drain Pipe

Long Beach, Calif.—UPI—A $100,000 pearl missing from the Miss Universe jewel-encrusted crown was discovered early today in the drain of a wash basin.

James B. Boutross, designer of the crown, reported to be worth $1 million, found the missing jewel when he returned to his hotel room with officers from the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium.

The pearl, a large, blue, heart-shaped piece an inch and one-half long, was reported missing Thursday night by Gladys Zender, Peruvian beauty crowned Miss Universe last year.

A score of Long Beach police officers were called out to look for the missing pearl.

Redding Woman Files Suit Here

Evelyn Lawhon, Redding, Calif., through her attorney James A. Redden Jr., Medford, has filed a complaint in circuit court for $22,856.50 damages from the Lloyd's Wrecker Service, Ashland.

In the complaint, the plaintiff charges the defendant with negligently operating a tow truck on Highway 99 seven miles south of Ashland March 15, 1957, so as to cause a collision between the truck and an automobile in which Evelyn Lawhon was a passenger.

The plaintiff states that she was violently hurled, tossed and thrown in and about the car in which she rode.

DeCicco's Driver License Suspended

Salem—UPI—The driver's license of Mike DeCicco, Portland tire dealer, remained suspended today following a hearing before the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The hearing had been requested by Sam Wilderman, attorney for DeCicco, who had contended that the Department had not been fully aware of all the facts surrounding DeCicco's accumulation of traffic violations.

The department said Wilderman did not contribute any new information.

James F. Johnson, department director, said he considered only "the cold hard facts of a driving record."

Peeper Arrested At Beauties' Rooms

Long Beach, Calif.—UPI—A young man found peeping into apartments of Miss Universe contestants was arrested early today when Gladys Zender, last year's winner, reported jewels and cash missing.

Officers Victor Perez and Louis Lyons said they spotted Donald G. La Rocque, 25, Glendora, Calif., standing on a second story landing looking into the apartments shortly after 2 a.m.

Shortly after the arrest, Miss Zender of Peru said a $1,000 wristwatch, a $500 ring and $60 in cash were missing from her apartment.

The ring was found on La Rocque and the watch and money also were recovered.

President To Spend Week End at Farm

Washington—UPI—President Eisenhower hoped to depart by helicopter today for his Gettysburg, Pa., farm for the week end.

The President might delay his departure until Saturday morning or cancel the trip altogether if developments required.

San Francisco's 1,017-acre Golden Gate park, largest man-made park in the world, was a sandy wasteland until reclaimed by John McLaren, beginning in 1887.

Holmes Summons Education Parley

Salem—UPI—Gov. Robert D. Holmes today called a conference on the problems and needs of secondary education in Oregon to be held here Nov. 6-7.

Dr. Rex Putnam, superintendent of public instruction, will organize and administer the conference.

Key speaker will be Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University, who is presently making a survey of American high schools for the national citizens council for better schools.

Other nationally known speakers will be secured, including a representative of the U. S. Office of Education.

Personal invitations to attend the conference are being extended by the governor to about 300 Oregon citizens.
