

Quips and Quotes

A wealthy man, returning after years to the slum neighborhood of his youth, saw a group of dirty youngsters playing baseball in the street. They were dressed in rags and touched the old man's heart.

"Come along with me, children," he said. "I'm going to get you all complete new outfits."

They dutifully paraded to the finest men's wear shop in the area where the old man watched happily as each was outfitted in Ivy League suits, tiny fedoras, and bright new shoes.

The pleased expressions on the children's faces were reward enough for the old man—except for one case. This youngster had looked sad from the beginning and as they left the clothier, the child broke into tears.

"What's the matter," asked the old man, "don't you like your new suit, little boy?"

"That little boy," piped up one of the other kids, "is named Alice."

A widow ordering a tombstone in memory of her late husband had this inscription put on it: "Rest in Peace—Till I Get There."
—Lion

And then there was the wolfish businessman who had to get rid of his lady lawyer because she lost her appeal.

"Good for you! I also broke a hundred today!"

There was a songwriter in Russia who composed a catchy tune titled "Moon over Moscow." The day after it was published, the secret police paid him a visit. The leader thrust a sheet of music at the composer and demanded, "Tell us, comrade, is this our moon or theirs?"

Some wives will put up with a lot, but most of them want to start building the house right away.
—Ken Kraft

Listen, Young Lady!
Though money can't buy happiness,
One tip I will bequeath her
To keep within her pretty head:
That poverty can't either.
—Colleen Hynes Johnson

I'll Start Tomorrow
Here's why, alas, I'm gaining weight
Where formerly I wasn't:
The daily dozen I should do
I fear I daily doesn't.
—Dick Emmons

Deft-initions
A boy: noise with dirt on it.
Married man: one who cleans the windshield before going to a drive-in movie.
Married life: one undarned thing after another.

- 1. Germicidal protection!
Norforms are safer and surer than ever! A highly perfected new formula releases antiseptic and germicidal ingredients right in the vaginal tract. The exclusive new base melts at body temperature, forming a powerful protective film that permits long-lasting action. Will not harm delicate tissues.
- 2. Deodorant protection!
Norforms were tested in a hospital clinic and found to be more effective than anything it had ever used. Norforms are deodorant—they eliminate (rather than cover up) embarrassing odors, yet have no "medicine" or "disinfectant" odor themselves.

- 3. Convenience!
These small vaginal suppositories are so easy and convenient. Just insert—no apparatus, mixing or measuring. Greaseless and keep in any climate. Your druggist has them in boxes of 12 and 24. Also available in Canada.

Oh, this upset stomach... and my in-laws coming for dinner!

I know how you feel, Lou.
Look—take Pepto-Bismol.
It's wonderful for upsets,
indigestion or nausea.
And it's hospital tested.

Pepto-Bismol works where soda, antacids and "tummy-aids" fail! For upset stomach, indigestion, nausea, or diarrhea—Pepto-Bismol's special medicated formula soothes with a gentle coating action. It works in both the stomach and the lower digestive tract—where soda and alkalisers never help. For children's upsets, this wonderful pink liquid helps control simple diarrhea without constipating. Take Hospital Tested Pepto-Bismol... and feel good again!
