Congress To Finish Job, Johnson Says

Washington — (UPI) — Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said today Congress is not going to go home "until it does the job it needs to do."

Johnson told the Senate that this session may run considerably beyond the Aug. 7-9 target date many members are shooting for.

House Republican leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., and Sen. Leverett M. Saltonstall (Mass.), chairman of the Senate Republican Conference, agreed that Aug. 15 rather than Aug. 9, "would be more realistic" as an adjournment date.

The House has hit a much faster pace than the Senate and could quit by Aug. 9. But Martin said the date the lawmakers go home was up to the Senate.

Faubus Candidate For Third Term

Little Rock, Ark. — (UPI) — Arkansas voters decide today whether to grant an almost unprecedented third term to controversial Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The energetic man who brought the troops to Central High School in an attempt to prevent integration and became an internationally-known symbol was expected easily to top his two opponents for the Democratic nomination. But both expressed hope they could force him into a runoff.

Opposing Faubus are Lee Ward, 51, of Paragould, and Chris Finkbeiner, 37, of Little Rock.

The right or wrong of segregation was not an issue, but rather how to handle federal orders to end it in Little Rock's Central high school.

County Polio Chapter Supports Program Changes

Members of the Jackson county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis decided last night to support the new program of the foundation, as announced last Tuesday. Under the new program, the foundation will continue research, education and patient care in the field of polio, as well as the same program in arthritis and birth defects of the central nervous system.

The decision followed considerable discussion in which chapter members were strong in their opinions that, while they considered the new program worth while, they did not wish to lessen their work in the field of polio.

Gerry Gastineau, county chairman who with county treasurer Aubrey Loper attended a closed circuit television announcement of the new program in Portland last week, assured the group that the foundation has no plans to lessen its efforts in behalf of polio.

Money for Polio

Funds raised through the March of Dimes and now in chapter or foundation treasuries will be spent only for polio, Gastineau said, while no funds will be available for arthritis and birth defects until next January's fund drive is completed. The annual fund-raising campaign will continue to be known as the March of Dimes, he said.

The chapter members also voted to change the name of the local chapter to the Jackson county chapter of the National Foundation, in line with the change made by the foundation in announcing its new approach in the field of health.

15 Fires Reported In La Grande Area

La Grande—(UPI)—State Forest Service officials reported at least 15 new fires in timber land near here since last night.

Winds of 30 miles per hour whipped the lightning-started blazes across Union county, east of here, on Forest Service land.

Two new forest fires were reported in the Wallowa area. More fires in that isolated area were feared.

Forest Service officials flew over the area radioing the location and the estimated size of the fires to ground crews.

Eight smoke-jumpers from Winthrop, Wash., were standing by at La Grande municipal airport. The new Forest Service B-25 plane is at the La Grande field ready to bomb the fires with Borite if they cannot be controlled by ground crews in the rugged Wallowa area.

Shingle Weavers Offered Wage Hike

Seattle—(UPI)—The U.S. Red Cedar Shingle Industry, Inc., offered the Washington-Oregon Shingle Weavers' District Council a five-cent hourly wage increase at a meeting here Monday but the striking union turned it down.

The meeting was called by mediator Albin Peterson in an attempt to iron out the 15-day-old strike, which has idled about 2,000 workers in 70 mills in Washington and Oregon.

The union is asking a seven and one-half cent across the board increase and certain key changes in the existing contract.

No future meetings were scheduled.

ADJOURNMENT RUSH ON

Plans to Restore Britt Home, Land Told at Meeting

Plans for the restoration of the Peter Britt home and grounds in Jacksonville are being formulated by the Siskiyou Pioneer Sites Foundation, Inc., according to Albert W. Gandt, foundation president.

The Britt home, built 97 years ago by the famous photographer, was partially destroyed by fire on April 29, 1957. In addition to the main house there are several smaller buildings on the property including a winery.

Gandt discussed the aims of the foundation at the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce Round Table luncheon Monday at the Jackson hotel. The foundation was incorporated as a non-profit organization in July, 1957. Since that time, the speaker said, members have held monthly meetings to discuss plans for restoration and preservation of historic sites in the area.

Plans Membership

The foundation plans to become member of the National Trust for Historic Preservation this fall, according to Secretary Janice Houghton. She reported that the Trust has indicated that it will accept the local organization as a member.

At the present time, Siskiyou Pioneer Sites Foundation is negotiating with the state for a lease, with an option to buy clause, on the Britt home, Mrs. Houghton said. The lease is expected to be processed within two weeks, she said, and it is hoped that work on restoring the grounds can begin this fall.

Initial emphasis will be placed on restoring the garden, according to the secretary. Gandt reported that several businessmen and civic organizations have indicated their willingness to donate materials and labor toward the project.

Once the grounds are restored to their original magnificance, Mrs. Houghton reported, a small fee will be charged so the attraction will be self supporting.

Gandt extended an invitation to all interested persons to attend a foundation meeting. They are held at 8 p.m. in the courthouse auditorium the second Thursday of each month. Persons interested in joining the foundation are asked to contact Mrs. Dwight Houghton at SPring 2-2717.

Manley Reports on Proposed Bill for Ferrochrome Co-Op

Cave Junction—At a meeting of the California-Oregon Chrome Producers association Saturday, President Bruce Manley of Medford, reported on the work done in Washington in behalf of the industry as well as the present legislative outlook and suggested a workable plan to keep the industry going provided the present bill is passed.

The proposed bill in favor of a ferrochrome co-op introduced by Rep. Clair Engle of California, met with considerable opposition at the hearings, but also has many friends in favor of it. Due to the pressure on Congress at this time with the Far East situation and the heavy schedule in the short time before recess, Manley was advised to return in January with the co-op proposal.

One of the weaknesses of the bill which should be revised is the request for an assured Government market of 50,000 tons of ferrochrome. This request should be doubled, he said.

Added To Bills

In asking that the chrome industry be given something in order to keep the producers in business, Manley succeeded in having chrome added to the mineral bills already before Congress for approval.

At present, there are two bills in Washington, one before the Senate which allows a $40 subsidy for 40 per cent ore and adds $1 per unit for higher grade ore, which means that 42 per cent ore would receive $42. Manley stated in his opinion, this bill would not pass the House.

The second bill now before a House committee which will pay a $40-per-ton straight subsidy, although a battle is expected when presented on the House floor, will, if passed by the House, meet with approval in the Senate.

Work Hardship

This bill, known as S4136, will work a hardship on the small operator so that the industry faces the possibility of losing all but the large producer. This would mean that when the Engle bill is again brought before Congress, the chrome producers would be too few to gain Congressional recognition.

To forestall this situation, Manley offered a practical workable proposal to keep the chrome industry alive.

He proposed that a co-op brokerage firm be formed by the Cal-Ore Chrome Producers association, which would enable the operator with as little as one load per week to stay in business along with the larger producers. Under the bill S4136, the producer must make his sale of ore to industry and have a bill of sale before receiving the government subsidy. Under the proposed brokerage plan, the miner can receive his subsidy payment on delivery to the co-op station.

Stockpiling

The brokerage firm would also provide means of stockpiling the ore as well as market outlets. It would be operated on the basis of other co-ops in the agriculture and oil refineries.

A committee of five was appointed to investigate the best plan of procedure under bill S4136 for the association. The committee appointed included Manley, J. W. Pressler, Gene Brown, Jack Eggers and Colin McClendon.

The present subsidy bills allows a five year program with the right of the Secretary of the Interior to make annual reports on the progress of the program and make recommendations.

Flying Objects Said 'Not Mere Rumor'

Alamagordo, N. M.—(UPI)—Dr. Carl Jung, the father of analytical psychology, claimed in a published article today that so-called unidentified flying objects "are not mere rumor" and blasted the U. S. Air Force for withholding information about them.

Jung's statements were printed in the monthly bulletin of the Aerial Phenomena Research Organization's UFO Filter Center headquartered here, and for which Jung serves as chief psychologist.

"In the course of years, I gathered a considerable mass of observations," Jung wrote. "However, I can only say for certain these things are not mere rumor. Something has been seen."
