

Ted Williams Hits 2 Homers, Drives in 7 Runs for Boston In 11-8 Victory Over Tigers

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
Hallelujah, Ted Williams has stopped spittin' and started hittin'!

The colorful, 39-year-old Boston slugger really put on a batting show Tuesday night, and when it was all over he had driven in seven runs, tied one of Babe Ruth's records and powered the Red Sox to an 11-8 victory over the Tigers in 11 innings.

Williams tied Ruth's record when he smashed the 17th grand slam homer of his career in the third inning and then won the ball game when he hit his 17th homer of the year with two on in the 11th. The brilliant performance tickled Thumpin' Ted for a number of reasons.

Primarily, Williams was happy about getting his grand slammer off Jim Bunning, who pitched a no-hitter against the Red Sox on July 20 and nailed it down by retiring Ted for the last out.

And secondly, his blow earned Williams tremendous cheers from the fans in Detroit, where he has always been a prime favorite.

Those cheers were in marked contrast to the boos he received in Kansas City last week. He showed KC fans his "appreciation" for their Bronx cheers by spitting in their direction and subsequently was fined $250 by the American League.

Even though Williams' big grand slam homer tied the Bambino's record, it still left him six behind Lou Gehrig's major league record.

Ford's String Broken
Kansas City put an end to Whitey Ford's string of shutouts and then raked reliever Art Ditmar for five runs in the eighth inning to beat the Yankees, 7-3.

Ford was shooting for his fourth straight shutout but the A's got to him for single runs in the second and fourth innings to go ahead, 2-0. After the Yanks tied the score in the top of the eighth, Ditmar came in and, walked Bob Cerv with the bases full to force in the tie-breaking run. Hector Lopez then cleared the bases with a three-run double.

Sherm Lollar's two-run homer with two out in the ninth inning gave the White Sox a 2-1 decision over the Senators. Russ Kemmerer blanketed the White Sox on three hits until the ninth when Nellie Fox beat out a hit and Lollar connected for his 15th homer. Rookie Gary Bell of Cleveland scattered eight hits to beat Baltimore, 9-4, for his fifth victory. Billy Harrell and Russ Nixon each homered off loser Milt Pappas in a three-run first inning and Rocky Colavito's two-run single highlighted another three-run rally by the Indians in the fifth.

Giants In Lead
In the National league, the San Francisco Giants moved into the lead by a full game with a 4-3 victory over Cincinnati. It was one of those patented Giant finishes. Ray Jablonski homering with one on and two out in the ninth. That marked the 18th game the Giants have won in the ninth inning so far this season.

Jablonski's homer came off Willard Schmidt after Willie Mays had singled. Dick Stuart's three-run triple in the fifth inning paced Pittsburgh to a 6-4 triumph over Chicago. Bob Friend registered his 13th victory although he pitched only the first five innings.

The Los Angeles Dodgers dropped the Milwaukee Braves into second place by beating them, 4-2, behind the combined pitching of Don Drysdale and Johnny Klippstein. Drysdale, credited with his fifth victory, went 8 1/3 innings before he got into trouble in the ninth when Wes Covington led off with his 18th homer. After Frank Torre singled, Klippstein trotted the rally by retiring the side.

Wally Post's pinch double in the 11th inning gave the Phillies a 3-2 victory over the Cardinals in a regulation game after St. Louis won a suspended game from June 29, 4-3.

Bud Wilkinson Denies He Tried To Buy Cards

Norman, Okla. — (UPI) — Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma University football coach, today denied National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell's "wondering out loud" report that Wilkinson had tried to buy into the Chicago Cardinals professional football club.

Wilkinson came home Tuesday after testifying before a Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee in Washington where he objected to special legislation for professional sports.

Bell said he wondered how the Oklahoma coach could condemn the pros after trying to buy into the Cardinals.

Wilkinson denied he had gone to Walter Wolfner, Cardinal owner, with the offer to coach the team if he could buy into it for 25 per cent and move the club to Houston, Tex.

Labor Reform Bill Seen Out This Year
Washington — (UPI) — The House Labor Committee has virtually slammed the door on any broad labor reform bill this year despite overwhelming Senate approval.

The committee finally received the Senate-approved reform bill, designed to crack down on labor racketeering and promote democratic union practices.

Speaker Sam Rayburn delayed sending the reform bill to the divided Labor Committee for more than a month, and explained he had wanted to wait until the labor group disposed of a Senate-passed welfare fund bill.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), blamed Rayburn's "mistaken leadership" for bottling up the labor reform measure, which passed the Senate 88 to 1.

San Francisco Bay Ferry Crossings Become History

San Francisco — (UPI) — The view from the ferry-deck of San Francisco's famous skyline—gleaming in the sun or grayed in the fog—became history today.

The San Leandro, last of the many ferries which plied across the bay for more than a hundred years, bumped her way into the Ferry Building slip for the last time shortly after midnight.

Many Take 'Last Trip'
About 1,300 persons, some who lived with the ferries daily as commuters in years past and some on their first ride, stood on the San Leandro's deck on her last trip. Gay youngsters from the University of California and graying oldsters with tears in their eyes sang "Auld Lang Syne" and "California" as the boat steamed under the great Bay Bridge on the 21-minute crossing.

Skipper Frank Diaz, 58, of Oakland, a 37-year veteran of the ferries, commented that it was "an unusually pleasant night," and, of the end of the ferries, that "progress is supposed to be."

Diaz and the 14 other members of his crew have been given their severance pay by Southern Pacific Railroad, which operated the boats as a means of getting passengers from Oakland, at the end of the transcontinental track, to San Francisco.

The SP, which has been losing money on the boats for years, petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission last fall to abandon them and switch to buses. At an ICC hearing here March 13, the only voice of protest was raised by an Oregon man, Howard Morgan, of the Oregon Public Utilities Commission.

But, while they made no protest earlier, the thousands of passengers who made "one last trip" on the boat during the past few days were of one mind: "It's too bad they have to go."

Idaho Town Raked By Violent Storm
Payette, Idaho — (UPI) — A violent storm that struck this small community on the Idaho-Oregon border Tuesday afternoon collapsed three buildings, caved in a brick wall and flooded main streets and other sections, including basements of the county jail and the Bancroft hotel.

A 30 by 50 foot sheet metal shed of the Hanigan Chevrolet Company collapsed, damaging several new cars inside. A brick wall of the Rinnelli Fruit Company crumbled, damaging a number of vehicles parked nearby. Workers inside escaped injury.

A big tree was uprooted and smashed into an apartment building. Police said there were no reports of injuries from any of the incidents.

The freak storm hit about 3 p.m. and had abated by 6 p.m.
