Valley Couple To Make Home In Roseburg

Eagle Point—Miss Lila Lee Silva, daughter of Mrs. Lila Peile, route 1, box 522, Eagle Point, and Joseph J. Silva, Talent, became the bride of Gregory Brent McKeen, son of Mrs. Ida J. McCready, Jacksonville, in a ceremony held July 25 at the First Methodist church, Medford.

Dr. George G. Roseberry officiated at the double ring ceremony held at eight o'clock in the evening. Approximately 40 relatives and friends attended.

Baskets of white, yellow, pink, and orange colored gladiolus decorated the church for the event. Mrs. Lester Boardman played the traditional organ wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Alencon lace over taffeta frock. The ballerina length gown was styled on princess lines and had matching bolero. Her fingertip length veil was held by a cap of iridescent sequins and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink Ester Reed daisies.

Mrs. George Shelton, Klamath Falls, was matron of honor, and Miss Judy Carmen, Talent, was maid of honor. They wore pink ballerina length frocks with white carnation corsages.

Frank McKeen, Medford, served as best man for his brother, while Donald Daley, Medford, and Henry Connors, Eagle Point, seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Peile wore a blue suit with black accessories. Mrs. McCready chose a grey dress with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the church. The newlywed couple traveled to Crescent City, Calif., on their wedding trip. For her traveling attire the bride wore a tan suit with pink accessories.

The bride attended Eagle Point schools. Mr. McKeen is a graduate of Jacksonville High school and is employed by Western Union in Roseburg, where the couple are making their home.

Ambassador's Wife Dresses to Please Husband

By PATRICIA WIGGINS

Washington — (UP) — The bride of the French Ambassador has an important tip for American women on selecting clothes.

Dress to please your husband, says Mme. Herve Alphonse.

Her wardrobe, at this moment, is an all-Dir collection of trapezes and "loose look" gowns.

She told a reporter shortly after her recent arrival on the Washington scene that if Ambassador Alphonse shows dislike of, or indifference to, an ensemble she is never happy wearing it again.

This guide might be a difficult one for women to follow if their husbands don't have as cosmopolitan a taste as the debonair Alphonse apparently has.

The Simple Lines Those attempting to follow her example also should bear in mind that Mme. Alphonse is a stunning blonde, a long-legged beauty on whom almost anything would look sensational.

Mme. Alphonse, the mother of two teen-age children by a former marriage, also follows another rule in selecting her all-French wardrobe.

Select clothes with "simple" lines. One of the dresses in the trunk, two valises and a single hat box that she brought from Paris is a blue printed shantung, trapeze line without any trim except for the buttons down the back. She wears it with a simple strand of double pearls, matching hat, purse and gloves.

Likes Embassy Decor Mme. Alphonse, who married the ambassador after he divorced his first wife several months ago, doesn't intend to do much changing in the French embassy from the way her predecessor maintained it.

Nicole Alphonse likes many bouquets of flowers scattered throughout the embassy. She thinks the white, beige and gray decor throughout most of the embassy is "absolutely perfect." And she prefers small dinners to "big" receptions or balls.

Whatever type of parties the new Mme. Alphonse gives, it is a fair guess that Washington hostesses will be watching, as they also watch her stylish wardrobe that, already has blossomed on local society pages.

Modern, Traditional And Contemporary Furniture for Fall

Chicago — (UP) — Furniture designers want their modern "straight" in new collections. Market experts say most designers have abandoned modern lines with the "flourishes" of traditional furniture. The straight-lined durability is emphasized, along with new materials and techniques in functional furniture.

Most styles feature woods. Fruit woods are the most popular for frames and trim. Tables and dressers are decorated with diagonal grained woods or contrasting horizontal and vertical graining.

Traditional designs, such as French Provincial, 18th Century and Early American, stick to authentic styling with modern improvements in construction.

The bulk of furniture offerings for fall are modern, contemporary, and traditional styles which emerge as useful pieces. Beds will have built-in storage space in headboards and shoe racks concealed in footboards.

Tangy Potatoes New York — (UP) — A tangy dill-sour cream dressing makes new potatoes a real taste treat. Dressing for 2 pounds potatoes (6 servings) is made by combining 3/4 cup sour cream with 1/2 teaspoon dill seed and 1/2 teaspoon ground white pepper. Toss lightly with hot boiled potatoes and serve.

Glaze Strawberry Pie Summer Treat

Luscious strawberries, covered with a shiny red glaze make a picture pie for a very special occasion. Bake a single pie crust in oven set at 450 degrees. When the edges are tinged with brown, remove the crust from the oven. (Baking will take about 10 to 12 minutes). Cream an 8-ounce package of cream cheese with 2 tablespoons of milk and spread on the bottom of the cooled pie crust. Arrange fresh strawberries over the cheese. Melt a glass of currant jelly until it pours easily and drizzle it over the strawberries. The jelly is sweet enough so no additional sugar is necessary. Chill the pie an hour or two before serving.

Chicken in Marinade For Outdoor Treat

New York — (UP) — Make your next cook-out dinner a gourmet feast with chicken broilers in marinade. Combine 1/2 cup each of salad oil and rhine wine with 1/4 cup lemon or lime juice, 1/2 teaspoon each of rosemary and tabasco, tablespoon prepared mustard, 1/2 cup liquid honey and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Beat with rotary beater until well blended. Pour marinade over 2 quartered broilers in deep dish and chill several hours, turning chicken occasionally. Drain chicken and grill, basting with warmed marinade. Any leftover marinade may be served as a sauce or stored in a covered jar to be used at your next barbecue.
