Morse Urges Favorable Vote by Committee on Hospital

(Editor's note: The following is a statement by Oregon Senator Wayne Morse on behalf of a 100-bed general medical and surgical hospital at Camp White.

The statement was given before the House committee on veterans affairs July 30.)

Mr. Morse: Mr. Chairman, I appreciate this opportunity to urge once gain establishment of a general medical and surgical hospital at Camp White, Ore. As many of my constituents know, as well as my colleagues in the Senate and House, I feel very strongly about the welfare of the more than 60,000 veterans in the area served by Camp White. In fact, I have a particular interest in this veterans domiciliary since it was I who originally introduced the bill in the Senate that was responsible for establishment of the camp.

I have visited Camp White many times in the past few years and I am thoroughy aware of the importance and urgency of providing adequate medical facilities there for the thousands of deserving veterans whom it is supposed to serve.

Introduces Bill

As long ago as March, 1954, I introduced a bill for the establishment of just such a medical and surgical hospital at Camp White, a bill which, unhappily, did not meet with favorable action. But I have not forgotten, nor have I given up the hope that the Veterans administration will again examine the facts and reconsider its decision.

Let me once again point out that the need for medical facilities at Camp White is of paramount urgency — more than 60,000 veterans, many of whom are in constant need of medical attention, await this committee's favorable action.

As I pointed out on the Senate floor in 1954, buildings erected by the Federal Government at Camp White are standing idle, while patients in need of care must travel 300 miles north to Portland or even farther to the south in search of professional treatment. This is an utter waste of time and money, to say nothing of needless neglect of the health of veterans who were willing to risk their lives for their country in time of war. The lack of a hospital for these veterans seems inexcusable in view of the plant now in existence at Camp White.

A medical and surgical hospital could be installed at this location at a cost of about $750 to $1,000 per bed, as compared with approximately $18,000 per bed for a new veterans hospital.

Inadequate Personnel

We have been told that such an installation is impracticable because of inadequate medical personnel. From my own personal observation and from statements made to me by physicians and businessmen in the Medford area, however, I have the feeling that highly competent physicians, surgeons, nurses, and laboratory technicians are anxious and able to cooperate in staffing a hospital at Camp White should the funds be made available.

Mr. Chairman, I again point up the extreme need for a general medical and surgical hospital at Camp White, Ore., and I urge the cooperation of this committee in every way possible.

Russian Bears Are En Route to Zoo

New York —(UPI)—Four Russian bear cubs bartered for four Oregon beavers arrived Saturday by air from Belgium en route to the Portland, Ore. zoo.

The exchange, arranged by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) and Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov, took place at the Brussels World's Fair July 26.

Jack Marks, director of the Portland Zoological Gardens, accompanied the bears after taking the beavers to Brussels. He said the brown cubs, two males and two females, withstood the overnight flight very well despite being somewhat crowded, two to a cage, The cubs are about three to four months old and weight 30 pounds each, he estimated.

Marks planned to take the bears to Newark, N.J., later Saturday for a flight on a Flying Tiger Airlines cargo plane to Portland.
