

Dairy Advisory Group Suggest Law Revisions

Salem—The state department of agriculture's dairy relations advisory committee agreed that a number of changes are needed in Oregon's dairy laws at a meeting held last week in Salem.

Committee members felt that the present definition of milk under the fluid milk act is inadequate and should be amended. They also agreed that changes in the law are needed to enable the department to set up standards of identity, including labeling requirements, for milk products.

Changes in the Oregon breed law submitted by representatives of the dairy breed association were approved with minor clarifications.

Basically, the recommended revisions call for a new standard of identification for breed herds, and licensing of producers and distributors using the breed name in the sale of their products.

Each establishment selling ice cream, rather than each company, should be licensed by the department, the committee recommended. To meet increasing costs for inspection of ice cream and frozen desserts, members suggested licenses should be raised to $25 for the first freezer and $5 for each additional freezer head on the wholesale level, and a $10 fee plus $2.50 for each additional freezer head on the retail level.

Tank Sampling Proposed

A proposed bill which would allow farm milk tank truck drivers to sample milk for bacteriological analysis by the department was unanimously approved. Drafted by the department, the bill stipulates that each applicant for a farm milk tank sampler's license must pass a written examination. Standards of procedure and acceptable types of equipment would be established by regulations.

The committee recommended that the department draft a bill which would make it illegal to haul milk in bulk containers unless the equipment and procedures con-

Mexico Railway Strike Settled

Mexico City—UPI—Mexico's nationalized railway system swung back toward normal today following settlement of a wildcat strike which had paralyzed rail service for five days.

Demetrio Vallejo, leader of a dissident union faction, called off the unauthorized strike after the leadership of the railway union agreed to hold elections for a new executive committee within two weeks.

formed to the milk transportation requirements of the present dairy regulations.

The basis for this recommendation is the need to give the department authority to require non-dairy trucking operations transporting milk to meet the same sanitation standards as are required of dairy operatives.

Committee members, who represent Oregon Dairy Industries, Oregon Dairy Producers and Northwest Retail Ice Cream Manufacturers, will take these suggested changes back to their parent organizations for their study and approval.

Acquittal of Arthur Miller on Contempt Ordered

Washington—UPI—The U.S. Court of Appeals today ordered that playwright Arthur Miller be acquitted of contempt of Congress charges arising from his appearance before the House Committee on Un-American activities in 1956.

Miller is the husband of actress Marilyn Monroe.

The 42-year-old dramatist, winner of a Pulitzer prize for his play "Death of a Salesman," was convicted two years ago for refusing to name persons present with him at a 1947 meeting of writers alleged to have Communist connections.

Miller testified freely as to his own activities but insisted that his conscience would not allow him to be an informer on others. He did not invoke the Fifth Amendment.

Today's brief, unsigned opinion said that, according to the record, Miller urged the committee chairman not to press him for an answer about the 1947 meeting and requested that the answer be deferred until a later time. The chairman agreed, the opinion said.

Shortly thereafter, the opinion continued, the hearing ended "without any unequivocally renewed direction or command to answer the 'suspended' question."

Didn't Adhere to Rule

Thus the committee did not adhere to the rule laid down by the Supreme Court in the 1955 Quinn case "that it be brought home to the witness that he risks the penalties of contempt if he refuses to answer the question," the opinion said.

"We need not speculate why the question was not renewed before closing the hearing," the court said. "It is enough that on the whole record it seems clear that Miller had a right to leave the hearing thinking that the direction to answer was still suspended, if not abandoned," the opinion said.

The ruling was made by the entire nine-judge bench of the court.

Portland Boy Hurt In Diving Mishap

Portland—UPI—Gerald Warnstaff, 13-year-old Portland boy was reported in serious condition last night at Portland's Good Samaritan hospital from injuries suffered in a swimming accident.

The youth was diving in shallow water at Hardtack Island in the Willamette river Wednesday afternoon when he struck bottom, fracturing his neck.

Hospital attendants said last night the boy was responding "satisfactorily" to treatment.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Elvira Warnstaff of Portland, was called to the scene and rode to the hospital with the boy.

Police Harbor Patrol removed the boy from the island to the Totem Pole Marina at S.W. Macadam avenue.

Millionaire Faces Molesting Charges

Los Angeles—UPI—Wealthy John Cabell (Bunny) Breckinridge, 57, heir to the Comstock Lode fortune of pioneer Sen. William Sharon, today faced charges of conspiracy and child molesting.

The millionaire San Francisco resident, great-grandson of former vice president John C. Breckinridge, was arrested with three other men Wednesday, arraigned on the charges and held in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Authorities accused the four of taking two boys, aged 11 and 13, to various California resorts and Las Vegas, Nev., for immoral purposes. More arrests were expected.

The three arrested with Breckinridge were identified as Cecil Mahaffey, 22, Hollywood; Thomas H. Jordan, 25, New York and Ross Wilson, 22, Hollywood.
