Grange News...

Central Point Grange

One of the highlights of Friday night's meeting was a mock wedding in burlesque style, directed by Mrs. Velda Mang and in commemoration of Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Floux's 25th wedding anniversary Aug. 5.

During the business session presided over by Master Otto Niedermeyer, the horticultural report by Peargrower Edwin Gebhard did not sound too optimistic as he stressed the seriousness of the blight situation and other diseases, which called for appropriations and more research if any headway was made in combating the drawbacks.

Roscoe Roberts, county deputy and insurance agent, was present and answered questions pertaining to his office. Delmar Smith, chairman of the Pomona Grange booth committee, advised the members of the nearness of the state fair and urged men and women to contribute as much time and effort as they could to making Jackson County Pomona Grange's booth a success.

Grain growers reported much grain having to be thrashed from the winrow due to wet season and much green growth.

Don Bohnert was reported ill and in the Rogue valley hospital.

The lecturer, Mrs. Floux, read a collection of poems by Mrs. Scott Hamilton and announced a talk on county affairs by Edwin Gebhard, chairman of the county planning commisison. Gebhard reviewed the work of the board, stating it was now only in the planning stages. Board members get no compensation and are to always work in cooperation with the county officials.

Mrs. Effie Kurtz sang, "I Love You Truly," honoring the newly weds, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gustafson, who were presented a gift from the Grange.

As a surprise to the lecturer, Mrs. Mang asked that she and her husband be escorted to the front of the hall, and Mrs. Kurtz sang for them "Through the Years." Following that Mrs. Kurtz played the wedding march for the happy bride and groom of 25 years ago, to which the mock wedding procession entered the hall to the stage, where the ceremony was performed by Chuck Moorehouse as minister, and the following members assisting: Mrs. Moorehouse, Otto Niedermeyer, Frank Hammond, Mrs. Arnold Bohnert, Mrs. O. T. Wilson, Chuck Taylor, and Marshall Weidman. A gift from friends and Grangers was presented to rebuild their rose garden.

Among the young subordinate and juvenile members who won championships and blue ribbons in the 4-H prefair were Jim Frink, Carol Foote, Carolee Kuest, and Judy Frink. Friday night's serving committee included Mr. and Mrs. Otto Niedermeyer, Mr. and Mrs. John Niedermeyer, and Mrs. Kurtz with ice cold watermelons as refreshments.

Plans for Melrose Extension Approved By Medford Council

Plans and specifications for extending Melrose ave., from Holly st. across the railroad tracks to Riverside ave. at the intersection of Barnett rd. were approved by the city council last night.

The council also authorized City Manager Robert A. Duff to negotiate for property on the right-of-way of the extension. The next step, according to Duff, would be to apply to the Public Utilities commission for approval of the grade crossing.

In other action, the council awarded to Herman Steeck Electric company, Medford, a contract of $41,404.41 for installation of the new high-intensity lighting system at Medford airport; and awarded to Deaver Tractor and Implement company, Medford, a contract to provide the city with a tractor for the sewage treatment plant.

To Deed Land

Duff was authorized to deed land along Niantic st. not required for street improvement to two local property owners in exchange for their signature on the street-improvement petition and paying the improvement assessment.

The council also authorized sale of a house in the clear-zone area at Medford airport on condition it be removed from the site. The house was acquired along with land for the clear-zone and is unsuitable for occupancy since it is in line with the main runway.

Stop signs on Barneburg rd. at Jackson st., on Sunrise ave. at Jackson st. and, if required, on Hillcrest ave. at Jackson st. were authorized. The signs are in connection with Jackson street's extension, currently under construction.

The city manager was authorized to sign a proof of loss statement permitting compensation from the General Adjustment insurance bureau for $125 in wind damage sustained by the Central Fire station roof Feb. 24.

The council also approved the appointment of Mrs. Edith Updike as deputy recorder-treasurer, and approved prequalification of four bidders to bid on city projects.

Soldier Admits Slashing Women

Portland — (UPI) — A 21-year-old GI stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington, Thursday admitted to slashing three women in downtown Portland last week end.

Alfred Gust, of Houston, Tex., was held on $3,000 bail after signing a statement admitting the attacks.

He was identified by his three victims in police lineups.

In his statement to Portland detectives, Gust gave this story:

He came to Portland last Saturday for his first visit to this city. He started on a round of taverns and at one bar met a woman who suggested they go to a lodge hall for a dance. While at the dance he took her purse, emptied $7 from it and threw the purse away.

Later that evening, he said, he remembered talking to two women. The second woman screamed. Gust said, "When the second woman resisted my advance I threatened her with my knife." He stayed over night at some hotel and Sunday started out on another round of taverns.

Sunday evening he stopped a "middle aged woman" and made a pass at her with his knife. He said he then ran to the bus depot and went back to Fort Lewis.

He concluded his statement saying: "I don't know why I threatened these women with the knife, however, I am sorry."

Oregon Labor Council Votes To Change Name

Roseburg —(UPI)— Delegates to the 1958 convention of the Oregon State Labor Council Thursday voted to change the name of their organization to the Oregon AFL-CIO because the old name sounded too much like a state agency.

Delegates rejected a recommendation from the resolutions committee that the name be left unchanged and voted 261 to 28 for the new designation.

Unemployment Shows Increase

Washington — (UPI) — Employment roses lightly while unemployment edged downward in July, but both changes were less favorable than had been expected, the government reported today.

As a result, the rate of unemployment, a figure adjusted to take account of the normal seasonal swings, climbed to 7.3 per cent last month from 6.8 per cent in June.

In July, 1957, it was 4.2 per cent.

A joint monthly report by the Commerce and Labor Departments said employment increased by 198,000 to 65,179,000 in July and unemployment dropped by 143,000 to 5,294,000.

The report said these developments meant that the "over-all job picture did not change significantly in July."

The AFL-CIO took a gloomier view. It said in a monthly report on economic trends that unemployment would climb to 5,500,000 by next winter. A pick-up in business activity, it said, would not by itself wipe out unemployment.
