Gold Hill Grange

Highlights of the last meeting of Gold Hill Grange Thursday, Aug. 7, was the report of the lecturer, on the State Grange session held in Eugene last June.

This report was late due to the fact that the lecturer went from Eugene to Illinois and then to Los Angeles, before returning to Gold Hill.

The report, which took 20 minutes to give was a review of the program and the various resolutions, 72 in all, which the Grange acted upon. Some of these resolutions may come before the state of Oregon as a whole, for what benefits the Grange is of benefit to all.

A great deal of stress was laid on the importance of community service. An example of service was demonstrated by the Lane county Pomona Grange. This Grange had been in the marketing business and had considerable cash in the bank. This enabled the Grange to purchase the Lane County Fairgrounds which they now own and which is used for a great number of organizations for meetings of various kinds. Among the organizations which are benefited, in addition to the Grange, are such groups as the 4-H, the FFA and others.

The lecturer told of many instances of Granges in Illinois cooperating to give aid to members in time of disaster, such as fires or hail storms, and also to the repairing and upkeep of cemeteries and parks.

YES, YOU ARE

Sacramento, Calif. — (UPI) — The bandit, brandishing a gun, shouted, "I'm not fooling" when he demanded money. But bartender Dale Davenport knew he was. Davenport grabbed the cap pistol and the bandit fled.

The business meeting brought forth the usual reports: the agriculture chairman reporting cattle prices still high; lamb high and climbing.

Marie Jones thanked the Grange for the use of the Grange hall for their 4-H demonstrations.

Refreshments were served by the S. M. Christensens and the Sam Jones family.
