

Phoenix Assumes Widest PCL Lead

By GENE BRYANT
United Press International
The season-long scramble for first place in the Pacific Coast League looked to be at an end today, at least temporarily, as the Phoenix Giants moved out to their widest lead over the rest of the pack since the campaign began.

Bobby Prescott slammed a solo home run in the 10th inning Wednesday night to give the Giants a 3-2 victory over the faltering Vancouver Mounties, who fell to third place by virtue of the loss. The win gave the Arizonians a 3½ game lead over second-place San Diego and a 3-1 series margin in the five-game set with Vancouver which ends tonight.

The Padres slipped by Vancouver in the standings with a 5-4 decision over Seattle, their fifth straight win and the Rainiers' 13th loss in a row, a PCL high this year.

Bees Break Loss String
In other games, Salt Lake broke a five-game losing string against Portland when the Bees coasted to a 6-1 victory in the nightcap of a twin-bill after the Beavers had won the opener, 2-1.

Spokane made it four straight over Sacramento as Bob Milliken limited the Solons to six hits while his teammates pounded out 14 safeties for a 6-0 victory.

Prescott's game-deciding blast at Vancouver, his 21st homer of the season, climaxed a three-hour marathon which saw the Canadians push across a pair of runs in the ninth to deadlock the score at 2-2 and send the game into extra innings. Prescott also tripled and scored the Giants' second run of the evening in the eighth.

Phoenix used three pitchers, while going through four Mountie hurlers. Joe Margoneri, who came on in the ninth, picked up his fifth win against three setbacks. Joe Hatten, who was greeted by Prescott's homer in his only inning of work, was charged with his sixth defeat against seven triumphs.

The Mounties threatened in the bottom half of the 10th when Ray Barker and Bill LaJoie both singled, but LaJoie died on third when Margoneri got Jim Briedewer to ground into a force play. Padres Come From Behind

Trout Angling In Rogue River Reported Slow

Portland—UPI—The weekly report of fishing conditions prepared by the Oregon State Game commission by regions: Southwest: Trout angling in North Umpqua is fair to poor. Lemolo, Toketee, and Soda Springs reservoirs are fair. A few sea-run cutthroats are in the lower Umpqua river.

Salmon fishing at Winchester bay remains good. Chinook fishing on the lower Coquille river is fair in the Prosper area.

Trout angling is slow in nearly all parts of the Rogue basin and no improvement can be expected until the weather cools. Fishing definitely slow at Fish Lake in Jackson county.

three runs in the eighth after Seattle had moved into a 4-2 lead with a pair of runs in the top half of the frame. Dave Pope paced the winning rally with a two-run homer, while Eddie Basinski drove in the two Rainier tallies with a four-bagger. Bud Podbielan went the distance for the Pads to pick up his ninth victory against seven defeats.

Ed Winceniak drove in both Portland runs in the first game with a bases-loaded single in the sixth. The win, Portland's sixth in a row, moved the Beavers into a temporary fourth place tie with the Bees, who promptly sent the Rose City club back to the second division with their easy victory in the finale.

Salt Lake scored two runs in each of the first two innings of the second game, then added another pair in the sixth to give Bill Hardison his sixth win. Luis Martinez homered in the seventh for Portland's only run.

The opening-game victory went to the Beavers' Larry Jansen, who is now 8-9 on the season.

At Sacramento, the Indians scored three runs in both the seventh and final innings to break up a tight pitching duel between Milliken and the Solons' Pete Mesa. Jim Baxes slammed a two-run homer in the seventh and Jim Gentile poked his 13th four-bagger with two aboard in the ninth.

Peruvian May Be Picked For Yank Team

Newport, R. I.—UPI—For the first time in history a foreigner—Alex Olmedo of Peru—may represent the United States in Davis Cup tennis competition, it was learned today.

Perry Jones, non-playing captain of the U. S. team, gave the tip-off on this possibility when it was disclosed he has asked Olmedo and Ham Richardson of Arlington, Va., to play as a team in next week's national doubles championship at Chestnut Hill, Mass.

The request, which was agreed to, was taken to mean Jones is thinking of using Olmedo and Richardson as the doubles combine when the U. S. team invades Australia in December.

Olmedo, a Peruvian who lives in Los Angeles and attends the University of Southern California, is eligible for the U. S. team under the regulation requiring three years residence. He is reigning U.S. intercollegiate champion and has been improving rapidly in tournaments this year.

WINNING first tournament since 1956, Dr. Cary Middlecoff smiles at eighteenth green of Tripoli Country Club, near Milwaukee, Wis.

Coast-to-Coast League Talked

Chicago—UPI—Formation of a coast-to-coast collegiate athletic conference to replace the Pacific Coast Conference in the Rose Bowl was discussed Wednesday night by athletic directors of several schools.

Schools which might be included in the new conference are Army, Navy, Miami Fla., Pittsburgh, Southern California, UCLA, Air Force Academy, Syracuse, Washington, Notre Dame, California and Stanford.

Among the more prominent athletic directors taking part in the informal talks were Slade Cutter of Navy, Tom Hamilton of Pittsburgh, Jess Hill of Southern California and Wilber Johns of UCLA.

The discussions arose in conversations between the directors and other football notables who were in town to attend the football game between the College All-Stars and the Detroit Lions in Soldier Field Friday night. No concrete ideas were voiced.

Nationalists Score Victory in Fight With Red Planes

Taipei—UPI—The Chinese Nationalists, scoring their first air victory in more than two years, shot down at least two and possibly three Russian-made MIGs over the Formosa Strait today, it was announced here.

A Nationalist jet did not return from the dogfight 14 miles south of the Matsu Islands, officially because it was crippled by "engine failure." Search craft found no trace of the missing jet.

One Communist pilot parachuted into the sea. A race between Nationalist and Communist patrol boats seeking to be the first to reach him developed into a running gunfight.

Gunboat Sunk
The Communists won the race, but the Nationalist Defense Ministry said one Red gunboat was sunk in the sea skirmish.

An air force spokesman said crewmen of a U.S.S. destroyer escort saw "at least two" Red jets crash in flames. A third MIG was "missing from its flight formation" when it returned to the Red-held mainland, the spokesman said. Authorities Chinese sources said flatly that three Communist planes were destroyed in the dogfight, but the spokesman could not confirm the third kill.

Eight MIGs tangled with seven U.S.-made Sabre jets in the third air battle reported so far in Nationalist China's "vest pocket war." The Communists shot down two Nationalist planes in one earlier encounter, and the Red Radio said today they damaged two more in a clash Wednesday.

The Nationalist air force had said no damage was suffered on either side in Wednesday's battle, which involved 10 MIGs and two Sabres.

Edward Scripps' Are Parents of Son
Denver—UPI—A six-pound, five-ounce son was born in St. Joseph's hospital here Wednesday to Mrs. Edward W. (Ted) Scripps.

The infant, Edward W. Scripps Jr., is the great grandson and namesake of the founder of Scripps-Howard Newspapers.

Mother and child were reported doing well. The father is a member of the Rocky Mountain News editorial staff here.

From 1860 to 1890 the Pennsylvania oil fields were the chief sources of petroleum in the U. S.

Hunting & Fishing Southern Oregon

By MEL REES

Residents of the Rogue valley are certainly among the most fortunate for there are few places that are so close to such a variety of places to "week end" and vacation. I sometimes think that many of us are not aware of the vast playground that is in our very backyard.

Within 100 miles, which certainly cannot be considered any great distance in this 300 horsepower age, we have access to everything nature has to offer from a day at the beach to some of the most primitive areas in the west.

BIG FISH

Within this 100 miles via Ashland and Dead Indian road is Klamath lake—a lake of 40 miles with sailing, speed boating, water skiing and offering some of the best fishing for big fish in Oregon. Many rainbows taken here on the troll will run better than four pounds and each season there are fish boats that will weigh from six to 10 pounds.

Harriman's resort offers cabins, trailer park and camping. Boats, motors, gasoline and tackle are available.

Fish Lake, Willow Reservoir and 4-Mile Lake have campgrounds, boats and motors available. Excellent cabin accommodations can be had at Fish Lake.

Diamond Lake offers everything from cabins to hotel accommodations. There are boats, motors, groceries and tackle available here with guide service if desired.

BACK IN HILLS

Most of the above are well known to the Rogue Valley sportsman. For those who like to get back into the hills there is a campground and picnic area at McKee bridge on the Applegate. The Applegate with its crystal clear water attracts many swimmers on these hot summer days. There are no swimming accommodations—just the old swimmer's hole type.

About four miles above Copper on the Upper Applegate is a little forest camp on Carberry creek. This little camp lies at the head of the canyon. The stream has some trout fishing in it but the fish are usually small.

BEAUTIFUL CAMPS

There are many camps in the Union Creek area which are some of the most beautiful in the west. Fishing on some of the little tributary streams that flow into the Rogue is fair depending on the time of the season. Fishing on the Upper Rogue usually depends on the game commission plant from the Butte Falls hatchery.

There are camps maintained by the forest service on both the middle and the south forks of the Rogue River. Maps are available of these areas from the forest service. One look at one of these maps will show the many small streams there and most of these have trails near them so the angler who wants to be alone can certainly do so back in this forested country.

PRIMITIVE AREAS

There are four main primitive areas here in Southern Oregon. These can be reached by trail. Most of them are far enough back to make a horse a necessity. These little jeweled lakes offer some of the most beautiful scenery in the world. Fishing is spotty. There are some lakes where the fishing is good but others appear to be barren of any type of life.

Numerous hatchery plants have been made back here by both pack train and air-drop from time to time. It is one sure thing that when one finds a lake with fish in it—it is a find. For the fish from one of these ice cold lakes are the finest imaginable. These fish, the majority of which are brook trout, are fairly vulnerable to flies and smaller spinning lures.

One word of caution—although it would be impossible to guarantee the fishing—the mosquitoes will be there in force, so plenty of repellent is a must.

LINKED BY TRAILS

Most of these lakes are linked by trails and these side trails are joined to the Pacific Crest trail which traverses the entire state from Mt. Hood through southern Oregon on into California. This trail which is maintained each year follows the crest of the Cascades and is usually known as the Sky Line trail.

ISOLATED

This is truly a Friday to Sunday vacation land. A family can pack up Friday after work and there is a place near enough to make camp before dark. The beauty of it is that this little camp will be so isolated that one would think they were miles away from civilization.

One visitor expressed it this way, "I work 50 weeks every year so I can spend two weeks where you folks live all the time!"

Bulletin

Cincinnati—UPI—Cincinnati Redleg Manager Birdie Tebbets, under fire for his team's poor showing this season, today announced his resignation at a press conference.

Coach Jimmy Dykes, who managed Chicago in the American league for 10 years, was named by General Manager Gabe Paul to serve as acting manager until a new one is named.

Cincinnati has lost 11 of its last 12 games and is wallowing in last place in the National league, 23 and a half games behind front running Milwaukee.

Ken Venturi Heads Field

St. Paul—UPI—The 25th renewal of the St. Paul Open gets underway at the Keller golf course today with young Ken Venturi and veteran Cary Middlecoff leading a top-flight field seeking shares of the $25,000 purse.

Venturi is the defending champion. Middlecoff halted a two-year winless streak by taking the Milwaukee Open on Sunday.

Outstanding College Prospects Vie in Shrine Gridiron Game

Portland—Football's finest hour, the 11th annual Shrine's hospital all-star game, will bring together Oregon's outstanding college prospects in a colorful gridiron spectacle Saturday night in Multnomah stadium here.

The 8:30 p.m. kick-off will be preceded by an hour of pageantry, featuring more than 2,000 uniformed marching units.

The contest, which has netted the Shrine's hospital more than $240,000 since its inception in 1948, pits the State all-stars against the Metropolitan all-stars. Lee Gustafson of South Salem is coach of State and Tom DeSilvia of Portland's Jefferson high heads the Metro coaching staff.

State, boasting a galaxy of hard-running backs and a big forward wall, will be out to average a 28 to 7 defeat handed them last year by the Metros. It was the first win for the Metros since 1950.

Swift Backs
Gustafson has several swift backs that he hopes to break loose from the Metro defenders, including Steve Picard of Seaside, Val Barnes of South Salem, Rickie Lamb of North Marion (Woodburn) and Marvin Tyler of Lakeview.

For power runners he has Hardy Spurgeon of Coos Bay, a 210-pound ground gainer, and Gary Yates of Lebanon, another 210-pound yardage gainer.

If the Staters are forced to take to the air, they can call on a pair of capable tossers in Quarterbacks Jim Smith of Grants Pass and John Wilson of Albany.

There is plenty of left up front, anchored by Tim Bullard of Coos Bay and Bob Belisle of South Salem, a pair of tackles who tip the scales at better than 200 pounds. Key to the Metro ground attack is expected to be Beaverton's sensational all-around athlete, Mick Sinnerud. A speedboy who has been clocked under 10 seconds in the 100-yard dash, Sinnerud is particularly dangerous returning punts and kickoffs.

Police Capt. Eugene W. Ferguson, the game's managing director, predicts that the attendance will be the greatest in recent years, exceeding 20,000. All seats are reserved.

Vern Steward To Coach at EP

Eagle Point—Vern Steward, who has been on the Monroe faculty, has been named head track coach at Eagle Point High school.

He will assist in varsity football and will be junior varsity basketball coach.

Tom Van Etten will continue as head football and basketball tutor and will handle tennis next school year. Gail Schoppert will return as head man in wrestling and baseball and will help in football.

Bert Simmons will be another football aide and will coach freshmen basketball. Schoppert had javay baseball coach duties last year while Simmons handled the tennis program.

BATTLE HEART VICTOR

Chicago—UPI—Battle Heart, owned by Edward P. Metz, upset Dark Vintage, winner of all her six previous starts, in the $107,150 Princess Pat Stakes at Arlington Park Wednesday to earn a record purse for two-year-old fillies in Chicago—$71,000.

Ring Scuffle Ends in Draw

New York—UPI—Managing director Harry Markson of the International Boxing club said today Gaspar Ortega and Mickey Crawford probably will have to meet for a third time before either gets a crack at Virgil Akins' welterweight championship.

Ortega and Crawford both screamed for a shot at Akins after Wednesday night's unpopular 10-round draw at Madison Square Garden but Markson wasn't impressed.

Ortega, No. 1 ranking welterweight contender, resorted to a persistent body attack that turned ninth-ranked Crawford's milk-white skin into an ugly purple. Crawford opened Ortega's right eye in the early rounds and kept it bleeding throughout the entire fight.

The referee and judges voted as if they had been watching two different bouts. Judge Bill Recht voted for Ortega, 7-3, and Judge Joe Eppy gave it to Crawford, 6-4. Referee Barney Felix created the draw by calling it 4-4-2 on a rounds basis and 5-5 on points. The United Press International called it 6-3-1 in favor of Ortega.

MARCIANO PICKS FLOYD
Cincinnati—UPI—Former heavyweight king Rocky Marciano has picked current champion Floyd Patterson to beat Roy Harris in their title bout at Los Angeles Monday.

$100,000 Bet Has No Takers

Los Angeles—UPI—Ex-tennis star Gene Mako and a group of wealthy friends were convinced today the Las Vegas odds of 7-1 favoring Floyd Patterson over Roy Harris were "strictly for the birds."

Mako, former national doubles champion, and his associates were still trying to bet $100,000 that Harris wins the heavyweight title from Patterson at Wrigley Field Monday night.

And they were willing to wager their one hundred grand against $500,000. They were not asking that Patterson supporters follow the Las Vegas line and put up $700,000.

When sports writers called certain prominent sportsmen in Las Vegas and asked if they had heard of the Mako offer, they said they had but that no one in Las Vegas handles bets of that size.
