Some Tax Relief Seen on Way With Agreement on New Bill

Washington —UPI— Some tax relief was on the way today for small businessmen, theatergoers, sports fans, whisky-makers, and parochial schools.

But heavier levies will soon be imposed on others, including buyers of record players. These are among the millions of taxpayers and consumers whose pocketbooks will be affected by a vast, technical overhaul of excise and income taxes on which a Senate-House conference committee reached agreement Wednesday night.

The two compromise bills reconciling differences between Senate and House bills will together produce a net loss of about 300 million dollars a year in federal revenue. The bill revising excise taxes—about 400 pages thick—was slated for final House approval today. It would trim about 42 million dollars from the nearly 10 billion dollars which the federal government collects annually from taxes on the manufacture and sale of goods and services.

Quick congressional approval also was assured for the second bill containing numerous changes in income tax laws. Its principal feature is a 260 million dollar program to benefit small business. The bill also would plug up loopholes for some taxpayers and create new tax advantages for others.

Congressional tax experts said both bills were assured of the President's signature.

Among its many provisions the bulky excise tax bill would:

—Cut 10 cents off the tax on admissions to theater, movies, baseball and football games and other sporting events and entertainment costing $1.00 or more.

—Alter the drinking habits of many Americans by putting on the market for the first time American whisky which has been aged longer than eight years. Present law makes this prohibitively expensive because it requires that whisky-makers must pay the $10.50 a gallon tax on aging liquor whenever it becomes eight years old.

—Exempt parochial and other nonprofit schools or colleges from payment of excise taxes on goods they buy or on their telephone or transportation services. The tax savings, amounting to three million dollars a year, would take effect next July 1.

—Impose a new 10 per cent tax on record players and a new 5 per cent tax on oil and gas operated incinerators.

—Repeal the 20 per cent tax on club dues and initiation fees of members of community swimming pools and ice and roller skating rinks, retroactive to last Jan. 1.

The income tax revision bill contained a five-point program of tax relief for small business, of which the main benefit was a more liberal allowance for depreciation.

Navy Reports Submarine Route May Be Ice Blocked Sometimes

Washington —UPI— The Navy indicated today the new submarine route under the North Pole may be blocked by shifting ice part of the year.

"The entrance to the Barrow sea valley, leading from Point Barrow, Alaska, into the true Arctic basin, is only four or five miles wide and very restrictive," the Navy said in reply to questions posed by United Press International.

"During the Arctic winter this 'lead' would be more difficult to penetrate due to shifting ice conditions."

The Navy did not answer directly a question whether the USS Nautilus, prior to its successful voyage under the North Pole Aug. 3, had been turned back in a previous attempt by an 80-foot-thick wall of ice. Such reports originated in letters home by crewmen of the nuclear powered submarine.

Picked With Care

But the Navy made it clear the time for the Nautilus' successful voyage was selected with care.

The USS Skate became the second nuclear submarine to cruise under the North Pole Monday while exploring undersea routes beneath the ice cap.

The Navy said the Nautilus sailed from Seattle, Wash., last June 8 to explore ice conditions and make preliminary under-ice excursions in the Bering Straits and Chukchee Sea "to determine feasibility of a cruise all the way across the polar basin."

"Following these preliminary investigations, Nautilus returned to make the first visit of a nuclear-powered submarine to Pearl Harbor. While the ship was in Pearl Harbor, the Navy conducted a series of aerial reconnaissance flights to keep a check on ice conditions to determine the optimum time for the departure from Pearl Harbor, July 23, for the first trans-polar crossing."

Seeks Endurance Record

The Navy said security would not permit releasing information concerning "conclusions as to the practicability of a trans-polar submarine cruise at any given time of year."

Meantime, the Navy announced Wednesday the atomic submarine Seawolf was conducting "environmental atmospheric control tests" in the Atlantic that will keep it submerged for long periods of time.

It hinted the Seawolf may break the previous submerged endurance record of 31 days, five hours, held by the Skate.

Air Force Captain Injured As Balloon Crashes in Pasture

Ashland, Wis. —UPI— An Air Force captain preparing for a space exploration flight and his civilian instructor were hospitalized today with serious injuries received when their open gondola balloon crashed in a pasture.

Portland Television Station Planned

Portland —UPI— Officials of Trans-Video company of Oregon said here today they hope to activate television channel 27 in Portland with 20,000 watts by the end of this year.

Wally Matson, co-owner of the firm, said an application has been filed with the Portland city council for permission to alter an existing transmitter station and erect a 248-foot tower on Healy Heights.

Matson said plans for the new station hinged on approval of the permit and acceptance of revised construction plans by the Federal Communications commission.

The Portland planning commission said in a report to the council that it could not recommend erection of the Healy Heights tower unless de-icing equipment is included to prevent formation of ice on any part of the tower.

Capt. Grover D. Schock, 32, Galesburg, Ill., was making his first balloon flight, and Otto Winzen, Minneapolis, developer of the balloon, were returning to earth after a test flight Wednesday night when the gondola plunged about 125 feet to the ground near Lake Superior.

Schock was reported in serious condition today at St. Joseph's hospital here with possible leg and internal injuries. Winzen was in serious condition with a broken arm, two broken ribs and back injuries.

Sealed in Gondola

Schock was to have been sealed in a pressurized gondola Friday for a solo balloon flight 20 miles above the earth under conditions simulating those of a manned space trip. The experimental flight was designed to test human reactions to space exploration.

Air Force officials said that Schock and Winzen were approaching a landing in strong winds after about 12 hours aloft when something went wrong.

Observers saw the balloon-

HOW TO DRIVE

A tip from the AAA's driving guide for adults.

HIGHWAY HYPNOSIS

The high-speed expressway network that is being built throughout the country will solve many of our worst traffic problems. At the same time it will create new problems for many drivers, one of the most important of which is to stay alert while driving mile after mile on broad, straight, level roadway. The constant purr of the engine, hum of the tires, sameness of the scenery, and general monotony can bring about a sub-alert state in drivers known as "highway hypnosis." It's a deadly master, and people under its spell have been known to drive right off broad, straight roads, plow into other traffic, and even doze at the wheel.

HOW TO DRIVE, the AAA's book for adult drivers, contains these tips that will help you avoid "highway hypnosis": eat light meals, wear comfortable clothes, avoid heavy smoking, get plenty of fresh air, sing, talk with your passengers, listen to a lively radio program, and stop every hour or two whether you feel like it or not. When you stop, walk around, exercise or have a cup of coffee. Do everything you can to keep alert.
