No citations were issued, police said.

Ike Demands An Explanation

Washington—(UPI)—President Eisenhower considers it "ridiculous" that the Pentagon is studying under what conditions this country might surrender in an atomic war, the White House said today. He has demanded an explanation from officials.

A Defense Department spokesman acknowledged that such a study has been made. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen the President considered the study "ridiculous." Hagerty said the study was brought to Eisenhower's attention by Republican congressmen at a White House conference Tuesday. The President immediately asked the Pentagon what it "was all about."

Hagerty said Eisenhower was more curious than angry about the matter. The Defense Department spokesman said the study was completed some time ago. He said an effort had been made to determine what conditions had caused nations to surrender in past wars and to find out what conditions might lead this country to capitulate in a future war.

Dispute Settlement Reported Nearer

Settlement of a dispute between Pacific Air Lines, formerly Southwest Airways, and the Air Line Agents association, International, moved a step nearer this week when the ALAA announced it had accepted the National Mediation board's offer to arbitrate the dispute. Victor J. Herbert, president of the employees' group which is affiliated with the Air Line Pilots association, AFL-CIO, said he did not know what the company's reaction to this method of settling the dispute will be but said the company's acceptance would erase the threat of a work stoppage. The dispute involves wages and working conditions, according to a local employee of the line.

Stock Activity on Low-Priced Issues

New York—(UPI)—Stocks advanced for the second straight session today. Activity centered in low-priced issues such as Avco, American Motors, Benguet Consolidated Mining, Continental Motors, Erie Railroad, Firstamerica, Greyhound, National Theatres, Loew's, Minute Maid, Studebaker-Packard and Weibull. Among the blue chips, DuPont was up 2 points at its high, although it backtracked a bit before the close. U. S. Steel and Republic Steel firm-ed their group. IBM was up 3 points at its high and at a new top for the year, but lost some of the gain on profit taking. Leading oil issues were fractionally higher. Sinclair was an exception, losing a major fraction. Aircrafts moved narrowly. National Lead lost a point in the non-ferrous metals following its price cut. Coppers and aluminum issues were firm.

Final Steps Taken To Extradite Man

Tacoma—(UPI)—Final steps were taken in State Superior Court here Wednesday to extradite Harry Robert C. Knowles to Wasco county, Ore., to face a life sentence. Extradition papers were presented as Knowles was released from McNeil Island federal prison. The papers were signed by Oregon Gov. Robert D. Holmes and Gov. Albert I. Rosellini. Knowles faces a life sentence for second degree murder in Oregon. He pleaded guilty in the summer of 1954 to strangling Albert C. Stuart in 1953 near Shanks, Ore., in Wasco county. Knowles was sentenced in Sacramento, Calif., after conviction of the Dyer Act. He was later sentenced in The Dalles on the second degree murder conviction, and was released to federal authorities with a "hold" order for him to be returned to Oregon.

Sawmill Workers Go Into Negotiations

Portland—(UPI)—Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union representatives and three employer groups are meeting today in negotiations for a new contract between the union's Western council and mill operators. The LSWU has demanded a 31-cent package boost. The package includes a 15-cents-an-hour increase in wages, 10-cents-an-hour health and welfare, and six cents an hour for paid holidays. Rival International Woodworkers of America agreed to continue their present contract because of the current depressed lumber market. Employer spokesmen said Wednesday that they would go into the meeting "with an open mind." Members of the 80,000-man union authorized a strike by a 3 to 1 vote giving union negotiators the authority to call a strike if necessary.

HOW TO DRIVE

A tip from the AAA's driving guide for adults.
AT 50 MILES PER HOUR

BRAKE ACCELERATOR

while your foot does this — your car does this!

No matter how alert you may be, no matter how good the condition of your car may be, you can't stop on a dime. At 50 miles per hour, you would flash past more than 800 dimes placed side-by-side, or 55 feet before you could even get your foot on the brake. The average person takes about three-fourths of a second to step on the brake after he sights danger. This is called reaction time, and it's a serious matter to a driver. Reaction time becomes measurably slower as you grow older, or if your physical condition is not up to par, or if you have had a drink or become tired. Only when you know how to adjust your speed to suit all conditions can you really say you know HOW TO DRIVE.
