Parker Woods' LEON'S TOTS-TO-TEENS

Mr. and Mrs. Bozy Tepovac, Gold Hill, are shown cutting their golden wedding cake during a reception given in their honor Sunday, August 10, at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Chamberlain, 2312 Roberts road, Medford. The Tepovacs are natives of the former Austria-Hungary. When Mr. Tepovac came to this country as a young man, he worked for 15 cents an hour in Union Town, Penn., a sum which seemed large to him since he had earned but 25 cents a day in his native town of Slunj, and worked from "sun up to sun down."

Dinner and Reception Honor Gold Hill Couple

Gold Hill—Mr. and Mrs. Bozy Tepovac, 1273 Second avenue, Gold Hill, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sunday, August 10, at a picnic dinner given by their family in Hawthorne park and a reception following the picnic. The reception was held from one to five o'clock at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Chamberlain, 2312 Roberts Road, Medford. Four generations of the family attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Tepovac were married August 10, 1908, in the Orthodox Church in Slunj, Yugoslavia, then Austria-Hungary.

Prior to their marriage Mr. Tepovac had come to the United States where he worked at various jobs in Union Town, Penn. He had been working in his homeland for 25 cents a day, Austrian money, or 10 cents a day American money at that time. He was impressed with the way of living in the United States, including the difference in wages. In the U. S. he could earn 15 cents an hour and work 10 hours a day, compared to working from sun up till sun down in his own country for lesser wages.

After three years spent in Union Town, Mr. Tepovac returned to his own country where he remained for one year, during which time his marriage to Mrs. Tepovac took place. In 1909 he returned to the United States and settled in Pueblo, Colo., where he worked in a steel mill. In 1910 he had saved enough money to send for his wife and baby daughter, Amelia (Mrs. Chamberlain). They joined him in Colorado and resided there until 1912 when they moved to southern Oregon. Since that time they have made their home in the Sams Valley and Gold Hill area.

Mr. Tepovac is a retired employee of the Ideal Cement company, having worked at the Gold Hill plant for 35 years before his retirement in 1952. He was among retired employees who were introduced and honored during the award program at the recent Boettcher Safety Awards picnic held in TouVelle State park.

Since his retirement from the cement plant he has made a hobby of farming his small acreage and raising peacocks. Mrs. Tepovac is an active gardener and spends many leisure hours crocheting.

The Tepovacs are members of the Gold Hill Community Methodist church. They are parents of five children, and have 12 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. Attending the event were Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Jones, their son, Ray Newman, and daughter, Shirley Anne Jones, Mrs. Vonnice Bowman and daughters, Debra Lynn and Dona Wynn Bowman and the Ray Chamberlains, all Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tepovac and son, Jerry Tepovac, all Gold Hill; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Campbell, family friends of Phoenix, Ore.; Mrs. Robert Willard and son, Robert Jr. of National City, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blank and children, Diane and Gary, Ashland.

Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. Jones, and Mrs. Bowman are daughters of the honored couple and Michael Tepovac is a son. One son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Tepovac, Klamath Falls, were unable to attend.

For the reception a white and gold color theme was used. Arrangements of gold and white gladioli and gold dahlias decorated the room. The lace covered table was centered with a wedding cake decorated with gold roses. Yellow tapers in myrtlewood holders flanked the center arrangement. The cake was made by Mrs. Michael Tepovac.

The cake was cut by Mrs. Robert D. Willard. Mrs. Vonnice Bowman assisted Mrs. Willard with the serving. Mrs. Donald Blank presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Bozy Tepovac wore a printed aqua marine frock and white gladioli corsage for her golden wedding anniversary.

POTPOURRI

"Make it short," said Dutch, the makeup man, about 6 p.m. Saturday night when he found that Potpourri had not yet written this column. "Look at these pages and act accordingly." There were already more stories in type than the five small pages would hold, to say nothing of 14 pictures.

Last week half of what Potpourri planned to do on Monday, didn't get done till Tuesday, and so on through the week. Visitors, Shakespeare, parties, weddings—the week flew by on wings. In the busy winter time we say "we'll do that when summer comes" and then when summer comes we say, "maybe we can find time for it when fall comes and life is more orderly." Tomorrow never comes, a wise man once said.

Taking their cue from Shakespeare, members of the National Association of insurance women turned to poetry for their meeting here last week end. From the national president, Alice Anderson of Kansas City, came a wire which read "Greetings to thee, merry maids of Medford and thereabouts. Would that I could be with thee on this festive occasion." Not to be outdone, Mrs. Imogene Owen, one of the meeting chairmen, and her sister, Mrs. Roberta Anderson, both Portland femmes, turned out a couple of songs for the sessions in southern Oregon.

A Methodist publication recently printed this quotation from an FBI report: There are three times as many criminals (in the United States) as college students. There are more barmaids in the United States than college girls. A hundred thousand women enter white slavery each year; a million illegitimate babies are born each year. A murder is committed every 40 minutes, a major crime is committed every 22 seconds.

A note dashed off by FB on copy paper included these lines from Sterne: "The one thing that matters is that you should have a passion for something. It is far better to do the most useless thing in the world than to spend much time without doing anything at all"—O.S.

Garden Party Given by Group

Medford Sojourners held a garden party Thursday afternoon in the garden at the home of Mrs. O. A. Eden, 211 Genesee avenue. Sixty-eight members and guests attended. The yellow and white color theme was carried out in the table and floral decorations as well as the refreshments.

Chairmen for the event were Mrs. James Winslow and Mrs. O. J. Crenshaw. They were assisted by Mrs. Everett Robinson, Mrs. Robert Benson and Mrs. Lewis Smith.

Out of town guests present were Mrs. Helen Alexander, Topeka, Kansas; Mrs. Mary Tozier and Miss Irene Wood, Port Angeles, Wash., and Miss Norma Jasko, Lakeview, Ore. Mrs. Leora Pettijohn was welcomed by the group as a new member.

The next meeting will be held August 28 at the Girls Community club. Women who have resided in Medford less than two years are invited to attend.

Mrs. Fred Lawrence Hostess for Group

Rogue circle, Military Order of Lady Bugs, met August 12 at the home of Mrs. Fred Lawrence. Nine members attended the event.

Reports were given by the various chairmen and it was announced that the annual watermelon feed would be held at the Camp White area August 24 at 2 p.m. The event is planned by representatives from the Veterans Administrations Volunteer services organizations.

League Ends Campaign

The annual finance campaign conducted by the Medford League of Women Voters has been completed, according to Mrs. John Day, Gold Rey, fiancé chairman of the organization.

Mrs. Day said "the League was generously supported by local business and professional people."

Completion of the campaign will enable the League to carry on its work of informing voters this coming year, Mrs. Gordon Mackenzie, League treasurer, explained.

Proceeds from the finance drive will be used to provide information for voters and League study group materials.

The organization is preparing for a candidate's fair to precede the general election in November. It will also provide pro and con information on ballot measures as well as biographical information about candidates.

Among League study topics for the coming years are United foreign policy and water resources and conservation. The local project is a study of Jackson county government.

Gardeners Hold Barbecue Dinner

Talent—Talent Garden club held the annual barbecue dinner Aug. 8 at the home of Mrs. Charles Long. Guests were husbands and families. Mrs. Leon Lockwood assisted Mrs. Long as hostess.

After dinner a short business session was held at which time it was decided to participate in the garden club section of the Kiwanis fair to be held later this month.

It was announced that the club was to decorate the chapel at Camp White the following Saturday. After the business meeting slides were enjoyed by the group. These were shown by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McGraw of Medford. One group was taken on a hunting trip to Canada.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Baldwin with Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs. Glen Mosser as hostesses. The program will be "Continual Bloom in the Border," given by one of the members, Mrs. Philip Hoyland.

Short coveralls for the teen-age set are new for fall. One manufacturer, Lanz, shows knee-lengths in black velvet to be worn with a white blouse embroidered in black. Minus the blouse, the jumper-styled coveralls are smart for informal gatherings.
