

Quotes From the News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Flint, Mich.—Roger St. Pierre, 16, who shot his widowed mother and sister dead because he was afraid they would starve to death:
"I thought that mother and sister would be better off in heaven."

Washington—Sen. William Jenner (R-Ind.) in his final Senate speech before retiring, on congressional spending:
"Nothing in the New Deal, nothing in World War II, and nothing in the past-war years or Korea is anything as outrageous as the spending spree of 1958."

Little Rock, Ark. — Schools Superintendent Virgil K. Blossom, on the latest integration order of the U.S. Court of Appeals:
"We are planning to open Central High school this year as an all-white school."

Copenhagen, Denmark—The head of the Danish Atomic Energy commission, on the banning of the scheduled Aug. 28 visit of the U.S. atomic submarine Skate:
"What they do in Norway, Britain or the United States must be their own headache. We in Denmark do not want to take on the responsibility and therefore warned the government."

Beirut, Lebanon—Headline of the newspaper Al Ahrar on the Arab unanimity in the United Nations:
"Who could believe it? Arab delegations are agreeing among themselves!"

Leadership Meeting Set For Hi-Y, Group

A week-long Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y leadership training conference will be participated in by six Medford teenagers who leave here Aug. 24 for Silver Creek camp near Salem, according to Herb Partridge, youth director for the Medford Young Men's Christian association.

Those planning to make the trip are Elaine Jennings, 1605 Ridgeway drive; Donna Granger, 2303 Spring st.; Charlene Highland, 812 Summit st.; Dale Foresee, 3514 Roberts rd.; Gary Cummings, 1000 Alta st.; and John Shaw, 919 Kenyon st.

The Silver creek conference is an annual affair for Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y delegates, Partridge explained. It is designed to train club officers toward becoming better leaders and developing more effective clubs. Delegates at the conference will represent Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y clubs from Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Alaska, Canada and Utah. An estimated 140 Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y delegates are expected to attend the meeting.

Themes for the 1958 session will be "values for living." The daily program will include morning assemblies for worship and "Where Are We?" followed by morning workshops. Recreation will follow the workshops. Councils and committees will meet during the evenings.

Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y are YMCA-sponsored clubs of high school boys and girls. The clubs meet twice a month and conduct service projects for the community. Basic purpose is to develop leadership qualities and to promote community service.

Local activities include the annual YMCA Halloween party, "Teens Against Polio" events, assisting in the Grater Lions' Sportsfair and Kiwanis Town and Country Fair.

Members ship in these groups is open to all interested teenagers. Interested adults may work with these organizations by contacting the YMCA.

Rifkind Says He Will Decide River Suit in Fall, '59

San Francisco —UPI— Special Master Simon H. Rifkind says he will decide the Colorado River water suit in the fall of 1959.

Rifkind gave a timetable yesterday during the rebuttal phase of the case. He hopes to wind up rebuttal testimony by Labor Day.

"I'll make the confession to you it is humanly impossible to retain in one's own mind all the evidence introduced in this case," Rifkind said.

He indicated his belief that the next, or briefing stage, will be the hardest part of the suit.

"Everything so far has been a prelude," he said. "The real job is about to begin."

Timeable Set
He set March 1, 1959, as a deadline for proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law. He set May 1 as a deadline for answering briefs. He set June 1 for final briefs "or house-cleaning of odds and ends."

"On June 1, 1959, the curtain goes down," he said. "Everybody can go to Europe on a vacation except the master."

After Rifkind reaches a decision, he will circulate drafts of his recommendations among the parties involved. When the parties have had a chance to comment on them, he will forward them to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Court Will Decide
The court will then render a final verdict. The court almost invariably accepts in principle the recommendations of its special masters.

Arizona filed the suit before the Supreme Court in 1952. It sought to establish title to 1,800,000 annual acre feet of the Colorado River water, plus one million additional acre feet of the Gila river's flow. It has since sought to claim still another one million acre feet.

If Arizona wins, California stands to lose about one million acre feet from the 5,362,000 annual acre feet it now claims.

Rifkind urged attorneys in the case to work hard to wind it up.

"We must remember the eyes of citizens of these states—Arizona, California, Utah, and New Mexico—are upon us."

First of Piers Blasted in River

Portland —UPI— The first of four piers of the old Morrison street bridge was "peeled" and "fractured" early this morning.

Explosive experts for the General Construction company, which has the contract for the removal of the old span used 75 pounds of blasting powder to "peel" the steel jacket off the twin piers nearest the east side of the river.

The blast also "fractured" the concrete — breaking it into small chunks — so it can be scooped from the river bottom with a large crane.
