

August Weddings

Mrs. Kenneth Nils Mattson is the former Sharon Kathleen Hogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin N. Hogan, 1512 East Main street. The Mattson-Hogan ceremony was held in the garden at the Hogan home Saturday, August 16.

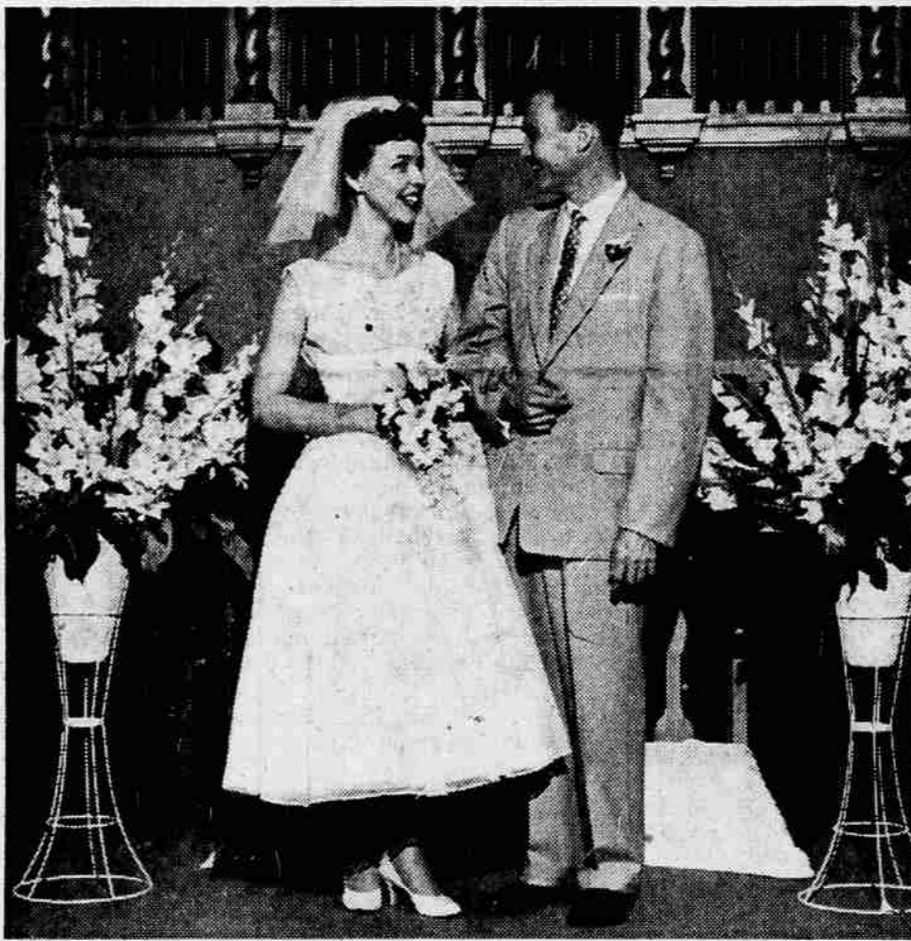

Mrs. Donn G. Forbes was Carol Louise Wikstrom before her wedding August 17, and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin F. Wikstrom, 2216 Dellwood avenue, Medford. The Forbes-Wikstrom rites were held at First Presbyterian church, with only family members attending, and the reception followed in the Wikstrom home and garden.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Hultgren (Ann Denman) are shown following their wedding August 16 at First Presbyterian church. The ceremony and reception, which followed in the church reception rooms, were attended by about 200 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nils Mattson are shown on the patio of the Hogan garden where their wedding ceremony took place. Ivy-covered walls and white gladiolus provided a pretty background for the bridal party. The newlyweds are spending a honeymoon in Carmel, Calif., and will live in Portland after September 1.

Donn G. Forbes and his bride of a few minutes smile happily as they pose for the traditional wedding pictures. The newlyweds are traveling in Canada for their honeymoon, and will make their new home in Longview, Wash.

Cutting their wedding cake are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas W. Fuller, married August 16 in First Christian church, Medford. The bride is the former Julia May Pingle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Pingle, Butte Falls. Mr. Fuller and his bride will make their home in Eugene. (Landis photo)

The bride and her attendants are ready and waiting for the appointed hour. Sharon Hogan, now Mrs. Kenneth Nils Mattson, poses here with her honor attendant, Mrs. A. S. Monroe, Palo Alto, Calif., (at left) her bridesmaid, Miss Lilly Marie Mattson, sister of her husband-to-be, and her two small cousins, Teresa and Eric Hogan. Teresa was flower girl and small Eric carried the rings. About 150 guests witnessed the marriage rites and attended the reception which followed on the lawn of the garden. Shown in the last few minutes before the wedding march began are the former Ann Denman, her father, Kenneth G. Denman, and other members of the bridal party ready to go down the aisle at First Presbyterian church. The ushers (left to right) are Donald B. Moltzau, Eugene, and Fred E. Terrill Jr., Portland. The bride's attendants were (left to right) Miss Susan Van Donge, Walla Walla, Wash., a cousin; her sister, Mrs. Monterey Holst, Medford, and Miss Roberta MacIver, Great Falls, Mont.
