Highway Counts Show Decline For S.W. Oregon

Oregon highway traffic for July decreased 1.1 per cent from July a year ago, according to the state highway department's monthly traffic count recorded at 48 rural counter locations throughout the state.

Decreases were noted generally throughout the southwestern area of the state and on Highway 30 between Hood River and Ontario. Highway 99 between Portland and Salem, Highway 99W, and the northern section of Highway 101 showed an increase. In this area, the counter on Highway 66, five miles east of Ashland, showed an average daily traffic of 1,179 cars in July, compared to 1,081 the previous year. It was a 9.1 per cent increase for July and 14.1 per cent increase for the last seven months.

The counter on Highway 238, one mile west of Ruch, showed an average of 693 cars a day.

The Shady Cove section of Highway 62 had an average daily traffic count of 2,431 cars for July compared to 2,592 cars for the previous July. This is a decrease of 6.2 per cent for the month and a drop of 6.1 per cent during the last seven months.

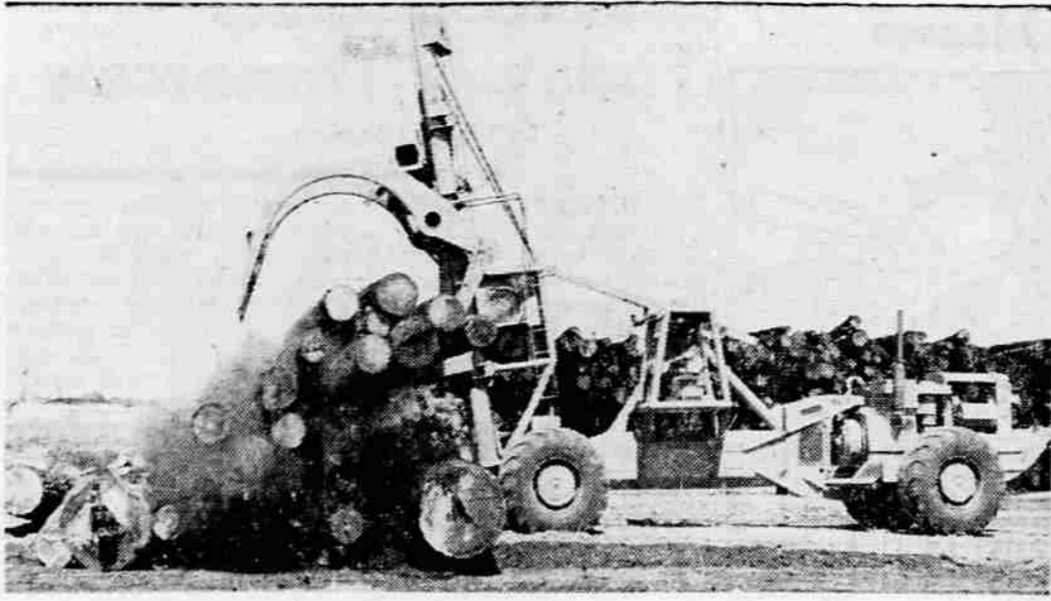

A counter two miles south of Talent on the South Pacific highway showed an average daily count of 8,845 cars during July.

Excavators Find Ancient Trade City

Damascus—(UPI)—An ancient town dating back to the 12th Century B.C. has been discovered near Latakia on the shores of northern Syria.

Hisham Safadi, chief of excavations of the Syrian Department of Archeology, said the town apparently existed from the 12 Century B.C. to the 6th or 7th Century B.C. It probably was an important center for trade with Egypt and Greece, he said.

When loose powder catches in eyebrows or hairline, a cotton swab moistened with skin freshener will remove it easily.

SPEEDS HANDLING — This diesel-electric log loader, which is capable of lifting a whole load of logs from a truck at once, was delivered last week to Kogap Lumber company, Medford, to step up handling of logs. The giant machine, made by R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., Longview, Texas, is the only one of its kind in this area. It will be used by the company for such jobs as stacking, sorting, loading and unloading, aiding in the operating efficiency and utilization of logs, according to Kogap General Manager S. V. McQueen. The big forks encircle a truck load of logs before the binders are loosened, eliminating the danger of the logs slipping. Driver of the machine in the picture above is George Lees, Central Point.

Linehan Freed From U.S. Claim

Washington — (UPI) — The Justice department has withdrawn its $544.89 court claim against John R. Linehan, the World War II guerrilla hero who was billed for his fare home even though he had fought the Japanese in the Philippines.

Attorney General William P. Rogers Friday ordered the U.S. Attorney at San Francisco to return the claim to the government accounting office for reconsideration "in the light of the unusual circumstances involved."

Linehan, now 61, was a civilian employee of the Navy in the Philippines when the Japanese attacked. He worked under fire until Manila fell, then retreated to the
